And whereas by the same Act it was further provided that whenever it should be made to appear to Her Majesty that the Government of any foreign country was willing that the Regulations for preventing collisions contained in Table C in the schedule to the said Act, or such other Regulations for preventing collisions as are for the time being in force under the said Act, should apply to the ships of such country when beyond the limits of British jurisdiction, Her Majesty might, by Order in Council, direct that such Regulations should apply to the ships of the said foreign country, whether within British jurisdiction or not; and it was further provided by the said Act that whenever an Order in Council had been issued applying any Regulation made by, or in pursuance of, the said Act to the ships of any foreign country, such ships should in all cases arising in any British court, be deemed to be subject to such Regulation, and should, for the purpose of such Regulation, be treated as if they were British ships:

C. L. FEEL.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

REGULATIONS FOR PREVENTING COLLISIONS AT SEA.

Preliminary.

ART. 1. In the following rules every steam-ship which is under sail and not under steam is to be considered a sailing ship; and every steam-ship which is under steam, whether under sail or not, is to be considered a ship under steam.

Rules Concerning Lights.

ART. 2. The lights mentioned in the following Articles, numbered 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11, and no others, shall be carried in all weathers, from sunset to sunrise.

ART. 3. A sea-going steam-ship when under way shall carry—

- (a.) On or in front of the foremast, at a height above the hull of not less than 20 feet, and if the breadth of the ship exceeds 20 feet then at a height above the hull not less than such breadth, a bright white light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the ship, viz. from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least five miles.
- (b.) On the starboard side, a green light so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the starboard side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles.
- (c.) On the port side, a red light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the port side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles.
- (d.) The said green and red side lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least three feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

ART. 4. A steam-ship, when towing another ship, shall, in addition to her side lights carry two bright white lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart, so as to distinguish her from other steam-ships. Each of these lights shall be of the same construction and character, and shall be carried in the same position, as the white light which other steam-ships are required to carry.

ART. 5. A ship, whether a steam-ship or a sailing ship, when employed either in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable, or which from any accident is not under command, shall at night carry in the same position as the white light which steam-ships are required to carry, and, if a steam-ship, in place of that light, three red lights in globular lanterns, each not less than 10 inches in diameter, in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart; and shall by day carry in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart, in front of, but not lower than, her foremast head, three black balls or shapes, each two feet in diameter.

These shapes and lights are to be taken by approaching ships as signals that the ship using them is not under command, and cannot therefore get out of the way.

The above ships when not making any way through the water, shall not carry the side lights, but when making way shall carry them.

ART. 6. A sailing ship under way, or being towed, shall carry the same lights as are provided by Article 3 for a steam-ship under way, with the exception of the white light, which she shall never carry.

ART. 7. Whenever, as in the case of small vessels during bad weather, the green and red side lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept on deck, on their respective sides of the vessel, ready for use; and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side, nor the red light on the starboard side.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, the lanterns containing them shall each be painted outside with the colour of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with proper screens.

ART. 8. A ship, whether a steam-ship or a sailing ship, when at anchor, shall carry, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull, a white light, in a globular lantern of not less than eight inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon, at a distance of at least one mile.

ART. 9. A pilot vessel, when engaged on her station on pilotage duty, shall not carry the lights required for other vessels, but shall carry a white light at the mast-head visible all round the horizon, and shall also exhibit a flare-up light or flare-up lights at short intervals which shall never exceed fifteen minutes.

A pilot vessel, when not engaged on her station on pilotage duty, shall carry lights similar to those of other ships.

ART. 10. (a)—Open fishing boats and other open boats when under way shall not be obliged to carry the side lights required for other vessels; but every such boat shall in lieu thereof have ready at hand a lantern with a green glass on the one side and a red glass on the other side; and on the approach of or to other vessels such lantern shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side, nor the red light on the starboard side.

(b)—A fishing vessel and an open boat when at anchor shall exhibit a bright white light.

(c)—A fishing vessel when employed in drift net fishing, shall carry on one of her masts two red lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart.

(d)—A trawler at work shall carry on one of her masts two lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than three feet apart, the upper light red and the lower green, and shall also either carry the side lights required for other vessels, or if the side lights cannot be carried, have ready at hand the coloured lights as provided in Article 7, or a lantern with a red and a green glass as described in paragraph (a) of this Article.

(e)—Fishing vessels and open boats shall not be prevented from using a flare-up in addition if they desire to do so.

(f)—The lights mentioned in this Article are substituted for those mentioned in the 12th, 13th, and 14th Articles of the Convention between France and England scheduled to the British Sea Fisheries Act, 1868.

(g)—All lights required by this Article, except side lights shall be in globular lanterns so constructed as to show all round the horizon.

ART. 11. A ship which is being overtaken by another shall show from her stern to such last-mentioned ship a white light or a flare-up light.

Sound Signals for Fog, &c.

ART. 12. A steam-ship shall be provided with a steam whistle, or other efficient steam sound signal, so placed that the sound may not be intercepted by any obstructions, and with an efficient fog-horn to be sounded by bellows or other mechanical means, and also with an efficient bell. A sailing ship shall be provided with a similar fog-horn and bell.

In fog, mist, or falling snow, whether by day or night, the signals described in this Article shall be used as follows, that is to say—

(a)—A steam-ship under way shall make with her steam whistle, or other steam sound signal, at intervals of not more than two minutes, a prolonged blast.

(b)—A sailing ship under way shall make with her fog-horn, at intervals of not more than two minutes, when on the starboard tack one blast, when on the port tack two blasts in succession, and when with the wind abaft the beam three blasts in succession.

(c)—A steam-ship and a sailing ship when not under way shall, at intervals of not more than two minutes, ring the bell.

Speed of Ships to be moderate in Fog, &c.

ART. 13. Every ship, whether a sailing ship or steam-ship, shall in a fog, mist, or falling snow go at a moderate speed.

Steering and Sailing Rules.

ART. 14. When two sailing ships are approaching one another, so as to involve risk of collision, one of them shall keep out of the way of the other as follows, viz:—

(a)—A ship which is running free shall keep out of the way of a ship which is close-hauled.

(b)—A ship which is close-hauled on the port tack shall keep out of the way of a ship which is close-hauled on the starboard tack.

(c)—When both are running free with the wind on different sides, the ship which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the other.

(d)—When both are running free with the wind on the same side, the ship which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the ship which is to leeward.

(e)—A ship which has the wind aft shall keep out of the way of the other ship.

ART. 15. If two ships under steam are meeting end on, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

This Article only applies to cases where ships are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such a manner as to involve risk of collision, and does not apply to two ships which must, if both keep on their respective courses, pass clear of each other.

The only cases to which it does apply are, when each of the two ships is end on, or nearly end on to the other, in other words, to cases in which by day each ship sees the mast of the other in a line, or nearly in a line, with her own; and by night, to cases in which each ship is in such a position as to see both the side lights of the other.

It does not apply by day to cases in which a ship sees another ahead crossing her own course; or by night, to cases where the red light of one ship is opposed to the red light of the other, or where the green light of one ship is opposed to the green light of the other, or where a red light without a green light, or a green light without a red light is seen ahead, or where both green and red lights are seen anywhere but ahead.

ART. 16. If two ships under steam are crossing so as to involve risk of collision, the ship which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

ART. 17. If two ships, one of which is a sailing ship and the other a steam-ship, are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam-ship shall keep out of the way of the sailing ship.

ART. 18. Every steam-ship when approaching another ship, so as to involve risk of collision, shall slacken her speed, or stop and reverse if necessary.

ART. 19. In taking any course authorized or required by these Regulations a steam-ship under way may indicate that course to any other ship which she has in sight by the following signals on her steam whistle, viz.—

One short blast to mean—"I am directing my course to starboard."

Two short blasts to mean—"I am directing my course to port."

Three short blasts to mean—"I am going full speed astern."

The use of these signals is optional; but if they are used, the course of the ship must be in accordance with the signal made.

ART. 20. Notwithstanding anything contained in any preceding Article every ship, whether a sailing ship or steam-ship, overtaking any other, shall keep out of the way of the overtaken ship.

ART. 21. In narrow channels every steam-ship shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of the fair way or midchannel which lies on the starboard side of such ship.

ART. 22. Where by the above rules one of two ships is to keep out of the way the other shall keep her course.

ART. 23. In obeying and construing these rules due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

No Ship under any circumstances to neglect proper precautions.

ART. 24. Nothing in these rules shall exonerate any ship, or the owner, or master, or crew thereof, from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper look-out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

Reservation of Rules for Harbours and Inland Navigation.

ART. 25. Nothing in these rules shall interfere with the operation of a special rule duly made by local authority relative to the navigation of any harbour, river, or inland navigation.

Special Lights for Squadrons and Convoys.

ART. 26. Nothing in these rules shall interfere with the operation of any special rules made by the Government of any nation with respect to additional station and signal lights for two or more ships of war, or for ships sailing under convoy.

DRAFT RULES PROPOSED UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1876.

No. 76. Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following rules for the Orissa Canals.

H. C. LEVINGE,

Jt.-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,P. W. Dept., Irrigation Branch.

RULES UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1876.

PART I.

Of Supply.

Rule 1.—Canal water will be supplied on written applications at the rates and on the conditions to be hereafter stated. (Section 74, Act III of 1876.)

Rule 2.—All applications must be made in forms which may be obtained free of cost at the Canal Revenue Offices. (Appendices A and B.)

Rule 3.—Applications for water will be received by the Deputy Revenue Superintendents or their duly authorized subordinates at the various circle and branch circle offices.

Rule 4.—Any Deputy Superintendent may refuse an application if he thinks it would not be to the interest of Government to comply with it. This discretion will be vested in the Deputy Superintendents only. Other canal revenue officers authorized to receive applications must refer for orders all doubtful cases to the Deputy Superintendent in charge of their respective circles.

PART II.

Rates and Conditions of Supply.

Rule 5.—The rates chargeable per acre for the different descriptions of crops have been fixed up to the end of November 1882, and are as follow:—

Crop	Flow.			Lift.
	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
First Rice.
For the whole irrigable and rice cultivated area of any village if applied for up to expiration of sanctioned rates ...	1	8	0	1	0	0
For any fractional area of any village or for other term ..	3	0	0	2	0	0
Second Rice.
For dry-weather or rubber crops for dalwa rice ...	1	8	0	1	0	0
For cotton, tobacco, haldi, ginger, wheat, vegetables, indigo, and all garden produce ..	2	0	0	1	8	0

Third Rice.
For sugarcane ...	6	0	0	4	0	0
Fourth Rice.
For filling tanks	Rs 1	per 10,000 cubic feet.

Rule 6.—Applications for water for the irrigation of rice crops at Rs 1-8 per acre "flow" and Rs. 1 "lift" must be signed by all the cultivators holding rice culturable and irrigable lands in the villages mentioned in the applications, and the names of the villages adjoining that in respect of which the application is made must be specified at the back of the applications.

Rule 7.—Applications for water at Rs. 3 "flow" and Rs. 2 "lift" irrigation must be signed by all those cultivating in the specific portion of the villages applied for. At the back of such applications should be entered the names and boundaries of the chaks or plots for which water is required.

Rule 8.—The provisions of Rule 7 will apply to all applications for water for sugarcane and dry-weather crops.

Rule 9.—Applications under Rules 6, 7, and 9 will not be deemed complete until all the signatures of intending irrigators have been obtained, and water may be refused by the Deputy Superintendent until all the signatures shall have been obtained. Those who cannot write must affix their marks.

Rule 10.—All applicants should have distinctly explained to them the terms of the agreement at the head of their applications. The assessments made will be on the areas actually irrigable or irrigated and cultivated by applicants, and not on the areas as stated by them.

Rule 11.—Separate applications must be given in respect of each description of crop mentioned in the statement attached to Rule 5.

Rule 12.—The Deputy Superintendent may refuse to comply with the application of any village from the cultivators of which any arrears of water-rates are due, until such time as the arrears are paid.

PART III.

Of the Procedure for the Disposal of Applications for Water.

Rule 13.—On receipt of an application for water it should be dated and initialled by the receiving officer and entered in the register of applications (Register No. 1). The officer receiving it, or his duly authorized subordinate, will then proceed to ascertain by local enquiry and the aid of survey maps, or by actual measurement, the following particulars regarding the lands mentioned in the applications:—

- (1) Whether canal supply can be given.
- (2) Whether the particulars as to areas and boundaries as given in the application are correct.
- (3) Whether, with reference to the situation of the lands and areas applied for, it is to the interest of Government to comply with the application.

APPENDIX E.

The following rules are issued for the information and guidance of the Deputy Revenue Superintendents, tehsildars, and mohurirs :—

Rule 1—As a rule all collections should be made by the tehsildar only, or by such other officer as may be in charge of a canal revenue circle.

Rule 2.—The tehsildar or officer in charge of a circle will as heretofore grant detail receipts for all collections made by him, will enter such collections as usual in his siha or No. IV Register, will remit all collections periodically to the head office in Cuttack, with detailed "challans" and counterfoils of all receipts granted. In addition to this, he will at the close of each month submit to the Deputy Superintendent in charge of his circle a detailed statement of all collections made by himself during the month. This will be simply a copy of all "siha" entries made by him during the month, and an abstract statement of demands and collections in the subjoined form :—

The tehsildar or officer in charge of a circle will also submit to the head office in Cuttack half-yearly returns of all outstanding balances. These returns will show in detail the amounts due from each defaulter. They will be checked and compared in the head office, and then forwarded to the Deputy Superintendent in charge of the canal to which they refer, and he will, when on tour of inspection, ascertain by personal enquiry from the alleged defaulters, as noted in such balance sheet, whether the sums due from them have been realized or not.

Rule 3.—Whenever it may be found necessary to employ ameen and mohurirs for collection work, the following system will be adopted :—

- The tehsildar or officer in charge of the circle will remain at head-quarters
- The ameen and mohurirs collecting money will remit once or twice a week all their collections to the tehsildar's cutcherry. These remittances will be accompanied by a challan showing in gross the amounts remitted—
(1) under the head of water-rates, and (2) under miscellaneous, thus—

and all the counterfoils of receipts granted by the collecting officer.

For the sums so remitted the collecting officer will obtain a receipt from the tehsildar or officer in charge of the tehsil cutcherry, and these receipts will as heretofore be posted into collecting officer's "siha" below dates of remittance, sufficient space being left for the purpose. Collecting ameen and mohurirs will keep up detail "sihas" showing the particulars of all sums collected and remitted to the tehsil cutcherry, and at the close of each month will forward their "sihas" to the Deputy Superintendent in charge, procuring from him a receipt for their monthly "siha" in the subjoined form :—

- Dates between which collections noted in the "siha" were made.
- Name of collecting officer.

- (3) Name of officer to whom collections were forwarded.
- (4) Dates of receipt of such collections at tehsil cutcherry, with amounts received on each date.
- (5) The Deputy Superintendent's certificate that all sums collected and forwarded by collecting officer have been duly acknowledged, and acknowledgments posted into the "siha."

The Deputy Superintendent's receipts will be kept by the collecting officers as vouchers in support of their work until such time as they may be called in by the Canal Revenue Superintendent. This will usually be when the total demands for the years to which such receipts refer have been finally closed.

Rule 4.—With the monthly "siha" and abstract statement of total demands and collections in his possession, the Deputy Superintendent will have ample information for enabling him to thoroughly check the tehsildar's accounts, and for taking all necessary action with regard to large and long-standing balances. He should periodically check the tehsildar's "siha," or No. IV Register, by comparing the entries in it with those in "ameon's" and mohurir's "sihas," marking off with a red pencil all items checked. By reference to the tehsildar's half-yearly balance sheets he will see at a glance whether the necessary processes have been issued or not, and by comparing it with the tehsildar's No. IV Register, should occasionally satisfy himself that amounts due on legal processes have been credited to Government. When on tour of inspection he should look into collecting officers' "sihas," and satisfy himself that they are properly kept up.

Rule 5.—Forms for tehsildar's, ameen's, and mohurir's "sihas" will be issued in detached sheets of Alipore Jail paper; each sheet will be numbered and initialled by the Deputy Superintendent. Printed forms of "half-yearly" balance statements will be issued for the use of tehsildars or other officers in charge of circles. All receipts and counterfoils issued from the head office will bear the initials of the head clerk or head mohurir, and each volume will be separately numbered and paged.

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

Circular Order issued by authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

CIVIL AND CRIMINAL.

No. 22, dated the 2nd June 1880.

In supersession of the orders contained in Circular Order No. 85 of 5th August 1861, of the late Sudder Nizamut Adawlut, and in Circular Order No. 8 (Civil), dated 29th June 1875, the Court are pleased to direct that in future, in all Civil and Criminal Courts, a uniform charge be made for the preparation of copies, whether authenticated or unauthenticated, at the rate of four annas per folio. This term, it is to be carefully explained to all subordinate officers, merely denominates a certain quantity of manuscript; the folio to consist of 150 words English, or of 300 words Vernacular.

2. It is intended that this charge should eventually be levied by means of an impressed

* The Superintendent of Stamps will be requested to arrange for the supply of these stamps through the usual channel, and to have them embossed with the words "For copies."

stamp of four annas on each sheet of paper corresponding with the folio to be provided by the applicant for a copy. Till such stamps are available, sheets bearing each an impressed (non-judicial) stamp of two annas* will be used for the preparation of the copies; and the applicant will be required to affix to his application court-fee stamps of an amount sufficient to make up the balance of the charge at the rate of two annas per folio.

3. All copies, whether authenticated or unauthenticated, must in future, before issue, be examined by a salaried officer. The copies themselves will in all cases be made by section-writers, who will be remunerated at the rate of 2 annas per folio. General Letter No. 19, dated 29th November 1877, is cancelled.

4. The charge of two annas per folio, levied by means of the impressed stamp, represents the payment to Government on account of the salary of examiners, cost of paper, &c. No refund of this amount will accordingly be allowed. The amount received in court-fee stamps will represent the earnings of the section-writers, whose accounts will be made up monthly, and the amount due to each paid out of contingencies. These payments must be checked at the time with the applications for copies; and care must be taken to see that nothing in excess of the court-fee stamps realized is paid away.

5. To prevent the risk of court-fee stamps being used more than once, the stamps must be cancelled in the usual way at once, when the application is presented, and entry of the amount made, not in the Register of Court-fee Stamps, but in a separate register to be kept for the purpose. At the end of the month, the officer passing the copyist's account will, after checking it with the court-fee stamps, remove the upper part of the applications containing the latter; and after tearing them to pieces, cause them to be burnt in his presence. A certificate that this has been done must be attached to the contingent-bill on which the copyist's fees are drawn.

6. To protect the interests of the Government, care must be taken to see that no

† As the size of the paper at present available is somewhat small, it may be found convenient to make the copy, not on the side bearing the impressed stamp, but on the reverse.

copies issue from the courts which are not prepared on the prescribed stamp paper, which must be written on one side of the sheet only,† and not contain more than the authorized number of words. On the other hand, care must be taken to see that applicants are not imposed upon by the copyists spreading their writing over a larger number of sheets than is necessary. By insisting on the number of lines in each sheet being uniform, control may easily be exercised in this matter, the number of words in a few of the lines in each folio being checked. The business of a copyist is (like most other occupations) one calling for skill, and greatly dependent for its successful practice in experience: copyists therefore must possess or acquire skill in their business, or they ought not to be retained.

7. In the case of authenticated copies, the court-fee chargeable under the Court-fees Act should be levied by affixing the necessary stamp to the first folio of the copy.

8. A register of applications for copies should be maintained in the following form :—

Register of Applications for Copies.

Serial number.	Date of application.	Name of applicant.	NUMBER OF FOLIOS				Amount of court-fees realized.	Date on which copy was ready for delivery.	Date on which delivery was taken.	REMARKS.

CIVIL.

No. 23, dated the 3rd June 1880.

The Court having found on inquiry that the practice based on its Circular Order No. 10, dated 28th March 1872, differs in different districts as regards recovering from parties to a suit the cost of retransmitting records called for by the Court, is pleased to lay down the following instructions with a view to securing uniformity of practice.

2. When a record is called for by a Civil Court at the instance of a party, the cost of postage should be borne by such party, both for the transmission of the record and for its retransmission: more especially in execution cases. And when a Court calls for records of its own motion, and sees fit in its discretion to make the postage, which is in the first instance paid by the State, a part of the costs payable by the losing or other party, such postage should include the cost of retransmission of the records.

3. With reference to the practice which appears to exist in some districts of sending to Moonsiffs records of execution cases by peons, the Court observes that, although in appearance no cost may be incurred in sending records by peons or coolies, it certainly must cause outlay indirectly. But what is more important is, that to trust the carriage of records to chance "peons and coolies" is an insecure and unsatisfactory plan, as no one could effectually be held responsible in case of important documents being lost in such circumstances.

4. The Court is accordingly of opinion that the post is the proper and regular mode of transmission, and ought to be resorted to on all these occasions.

No. 24, dated the 11th June 1880.

The Court are pleased to sanction, as an experimental measure, the filling up by duly certificated Mookhtars, of the requisite particulars, names of parties and witnesses, and the like, in the forms of processes to be served on defendants and on witnesses; the parties who apply for the issue of such processes being held responsible for the correct filling up, which must be effected before the processes are signed and sealed by the Court.

2. District Judges will be good enough to watch the working of this measure, and to report upon it at the end of six months.

FORT WILLIAM, the 29th June 1880.

RULES.

N.B.—These rules do not apply to sales of under-tenures held in pursuance of Sections 59, 60 of Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869.

1. Whenever a Court, in the execution of a decree, shall make an order for the sale of any property under Section 284 of the Code, it shall at the same time fix an early day, not being distant more than ten days, for settling the proclamation of sale, of which day notice shall be given to the party or parties applying for the order of sale, and also to the judgment-debtor or judgment-debtors, or his or their respective vakils.

2. When immoveable property is under attachment in execution of a decree, the party applying for the order of sale, or, if more than one, then one of them, shall, before he makes his application, cause search to be made in the office or offices of the Registrar or Sub-Registrars of Deeds, within whose circle or circles the property is situate, with a view to ascertain whether such property is subject to any, and, if so, what encumbrances; and he shall also procure an extract from the register kept by the Collector under Act VII (B.C.) of 1876 if the immoveable property to be sold be the property of a proprietor as defined by the last-mentioned Act.

3. Every application for an order for the sale of property in execution, whether moveable or immoveable, shall be supported by an affidavit to be made by the applicant or by some other person acquainted with the facts of the case, and to be verified in the manner prescribed by the Code for the verification of plaints, which affidavit shall state everything, known or believed by the deponent to exist, which relates to the nature or affects the value of the property to be sold; and, if the deponent has no knowledge or belief on either of these matters, he shall in his affidavit state to the effect that, after making due enquiry into the matter, he has no knowledge or belief respecting the existence of either of such matters. Furthermore, whenever the application is for the sale of immoveable property, the deponent shall state the result of the search hereinbefore directed to be made in the Registrar's Office or offices, and shall also, if the property is a revenue-paying or rent-paying estate, state the revenue or rent payable in respect of such property, and if the immoveable property belong to a proprietor within the meaning of Act VII (B.C.) of 1876, he shall also append to his affidavit the extract from the Collector's register, which by the preceding rule he is directed to procure.

4. The Court may, if for good reason dissatisfied with the affidavit of any deponent made under the second of these rules, require from such deponent a further affidavit respecting the matters as to which he is by that rule required to make an affidavit, and, if the deponent is other than the party at whose instance the application for an order of sale is made, the Court may also for good reason require such last-mentioned party himself to make an affidavit respecting any of such matters.

5. On the day fixed for the settling of the proclamation, the Court shall enquire into the matters necessary to be specified therein, and shall, after perusing the affidavit or affidavits and examining any witnesses whom it may have thought necessary to summon, or whom, being present without being summoned, it may have thought necessary to examine, and after considering any document which it may have required to be produced, settle the proclamation of sale, specifying, as fairly and accurately as possible, the matters required by Section 287 of the Code to be specified; and the proclamation when so settled shall be signed by the judicial officer settling the same.

6. If, when the proclamation is being settled, any of the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed is present, he shall be at liberty to put any relevant questions to any witness who may be examined by the Court, whether that witness be a party to the suit or not, and may also cross-examine such witness, if such witness gives evidence hostile to the interests of the examining party.

7. Every person examined by the Court shall be sworn or affirmed, and a short note or memorandum of his evidence shall be taken down by the Court.

8. The Court may for good reason from time to time adjourn the settling of the proclamation; provided that no such adjournments shall be for longer than a week at a time, and that the entire time consumed by such adjournments shall not exceed four weeks.

9. The costs of the searches, affidavits, and proceedings upon the settlement of the proclamation of sale shall be paid, in the first instance, by the judgment-creditor or creditors; but he or they, as the case may be, shall be at liberty to recover them as part of the costs of execution, unless the Court, for reasons to be specified in writing, should consider that the judgment-creditor or creditors should be deprived either wholly or in part of the first-mentioned costs, or should pay the costs of the judgment-debtor or judgment-debtors in the event of the latter appearing, when the proclamation is settled.

10. In case the applicant for sale has been admitted to sue as a pauper, the costs first mentioned in the preceding rules shall, on the application of the pauper, be in the first instance paid by Government, but shall be recovered as part of the costs of execution and in the manner provided by Section 411 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

11. If, after the sale-proclamation has been published, any written communication regarding the property to be sold shall be received by the Court, which it considers material for purchasers to know, the Court shall cause the same to be read out when the property is put up for sale.

12. Subject to the proviso in Section 269 of the Code of Civil Procedure, sales of property in execution of decrees in the several Courts of each district (not being Courts of Small Causes) shall be held and commence at a certain day in each month, such day to be fixed by the District Judge or other principal Judge in the district, as regards his own Court and all other Courts sitting at the same place as his own; but as regards subordinate Courts sitting at other places within his district, he shall fix the day in consultation with the Judges of those Courts: Provided that where two or more of such Courts are stationed in the same place, the District Judge may fix the time for sales in consultation with only one of them.

13. All property to be sold at each place of sale shall be entered in lists for each place; the lists of moveable and of immoveable property being distinct. The lists shall be so prepared as to contain, in regular order, each item of property to be sold in execution of the decrees of each Court severally; and shall be stuck up in the Courts where the sales are to be held not less than seven days before the date fixed for the commencement of each set of sales.

14. At the stated hour upon each fixed date the sales shall be commenced, and shall be carried on in the order stated in the lists above mentioned. No sale shall continue after sunset; but the sales shall be held from day to day, except when the Court is closed and until the lists are finished. Provided that this rule shall not interfere with the adjournment of any particular sale according to law.

15. The same days shall not ordinarily be fixed for the sale of moveable and of immoveable property.

16. Except as regards property of the kind mentioned in the next succeeding rule, sales in execution of decrees for all Courts sitting in sudder stations shall be held in the Court of the District Judge or other chief judicial officer. If, in other places, there are two or more subordinate Courts, all the sales in that place shall be held in such one of the Courts as may be selected by the District Judge. Where there is only one Court, the sales shall be held in that Court: Provided that the Court executing a decree may, if it see fit, for reasons to be specified in writing, direct in the interest of the parties that the sale be held at any other time and place within its jurisdiction, and, when acting under this last-mentioned proviso, shall, except for good reason to the contrary, give the preference as regards choice of time and place to the wishes of the judgment-debtor.

17. All sales of live stock, agricultural produce, articles of local manufacture and of other things commonly sold at country markets shall, unless the Court otherwise direct, be held at such market in the neighbourhood of the place where the goods were attached, as may appear likely to be for the greatest advantage of the debtor, regard being had to the prospect of good prices and to the saving of expense in conveyance and carriage.

RESOLUTION ON THE WORKING OF THE CHARITABLE HOSPITALS AND DISPENSARIES IN BENGAL DURING 1879.

MEDICAL AND MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT MEDICAL

READ—

Report on the Charitable Dispensaries under the Government of Bengal for the year 1879.

The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to acknowledge the punctuality with which this excellent report has been submitted. It is satisfactory to find that Civil Surgeons have at length been induced to forward their returns within a reasonable period after the expiry of the year to which they relate, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that it will never again happen that the report for one year only reaches the hands of Government when the report for the following year is nearly due.

2. There were, including the four institutions in the Suburbs of Calcutta, 248 regular dispensaries at work on the last day of 1878. nine were added during the year and two were closed. There thus remained 255 on 31st December 1879. In addition to these, four temporary dispensaries for the treatment of endemic fever were open during a part of the year in the districts of Balasore and Midnapore. They were all closed before the end of the year. Of the total number of dispensaries, 155 received in-door patients, against 154 in 1878. These figures, however, taken alone, would convey a very exaggerated view of the extent to which in-door medical relief is actually afforded. Not fewer than 76 of the dispensaries received less than 100 patients during the year, 122 received less than 250, and only seven received more than 500.

3. To four of the dispensaries medical officers had not been appointed when the year closed. Of the remainder, 65 were in charge of a Surgeon and Assistant Surgeons, one in charge of a medical graduate unconnected with Government service, and 184 in charge of civil hospital assistants. This is an improvement on the previous year, when only 58 dispensaries were in charge of officers of the higher grade. Meetings of Committees were more frequent than in the previous year. The percentage of cases in which the Committees met ten times or more frequently was 17 against 11 in 1878, while the percentage of cases in which no meetings were held, or no records of meetings were kept, was only 15 against 22.

4. It is possible, from an examination of the returns, to form some opinion of the qualifications of the officers in charge of the dispensaries, of the financial position of the institutions themselves, of the rates of mortality among in-door patients, and of the amount of interest displayed in their management by the Committees nominated to supervise them. But unfortunately this is nearly all. That the returns of the numbers relieved, and the classifications of the diseases treated, are unreliable, has long been suspected. Their utter worthlessness for any statistical purpose whatever has now been established beyond doubt. The orders of Government under which the Sanitary Commissioner and Inspector-General of Jails have inspected mofussil dispensaries have begun to bear fruit. Civil Surgeons have paid greater attention to this duty, and the number of dispensaries inspected by them more than twice in the year was 123 against 97 in 1878. Finally, Dr. Payne bears testimony to the good results which have followed upon the introduction of a regular form of inspection report by his predecessor, and the attention given by Dr. Irving to the reports received. These measures have led to the suppression of many irregularities. Nevertheless Dr. Payne rightly points out that inspections necessarily desultory, must also necessarily be superficial. They cannot touch the essential working of a dispensary, and such evidence as they afford of its actual efficiency as a charitable institution must always be derived in great measure from those who do not belong to the class for whose relief it is presumably maintained. Negatively, however, inspections have in many cases proved much. Inspecting officers, whose visits have not been anticipated, have frequently found that the number of patients attending for relief was considerably below that recorded as relieved on the previous day. In one case judicial enquiry showed that the dispensary records of the number, even of in-patients, were in great measure, if not wholly, fictitious. It is of course the case that many well-managed dispensaries present correct returns; but in the face of these disclosures, it is obviously impossible to place any reliance whatever on the aggregate returns of the 255 dispensaries at work in 1879. The Lieutenant Governor will therefore merely notice briefly the figures submitted, observing that the decrease shown in 1879 over 1878 is probably owing less to any improvement in the general public health than to improved inspection and closer scrutiny of the records.

5. The gross numbers of persons returned as treated in the dispensaries in the interior and in the Suburbs of Calcutta during the past five years are—

1876	853,561
1877	899,545
1879	890,843

A comparison of the number of alleged patients with the known population of the different districts brings out some curious results. The area and population of Maldah are to those of Purneah, little more than as 1 to 3: each district has 3 dispensaries: yet Maldah claims to have relieved 1·69 of its inhabitants, while Purneah, certainly not a healthier district, can show only ·29. Other instances of a similar character might be quoted. A glance at the statement also shows that in many cases the daily average of attendance is only one or two. Mymensingh shows four dispensaries with less than 800 patients in the year. Tipperah shows five with less than 1,000, and two with less than 500. It will hardly be pretended that in such cases the amount expended in maintaining the dispensary is really a contribution to charitable relief. The proportion of the number said to have been relieved, to the total population of the different divisions, ranges from 2·51 in Burdwan and 2·29 in the Presidency Division to '65 in Chittagong and '57 in Chota Nagpore. How much of this represents actual dispensing of medicines, what proportion of the number actually treated represents fit objects of charitable relief, and what proportion this again bears to the number who really required charitable relief, cannot be even approximately estimated.

6. It is equally hopeless to attempt any deduction in regard to the condition of the public health from the statements of the diseases under which the persons said to have been relieved are said to have suffered. Statistics, originally valueless, are still further condemned by the uselessness of the statements of classification. The ignorance of many of the medical officers is here superadded to their want of arithmetical accuracy. Not only would the gross figures, even if correct, have no useful statistical basis, but untrustworthiness in the totals is aggravated by uncertainty in the details. Dr. Harvey, who has inspected numbers of dispensaries both as Sanitary Commissioner and as Civil Surgeon, declares that, "whatever variations of disease may present themselves, the returns will be the same." Dr. Crombie found that one of his subordinates, after setting a broken bone, habitually entered the case as one of "re-fracture." Any examination of such returns would plainly be waste of time.

7. The returns showing the sex and nationality of the patients present few fluctuations. The percentage of males shows an increase of about one between 1877 and 1879. Those of females and children show a decrease of two and an increase of one and a quarter respectively. The exact figures are these—

				Males	Females	Children
1877	60·92	20·31	18·76
1879	61·71	18·27	20·02

There is a decrease from 33·21 to 32·02 among Mahomedans, and an increase from 64·87 to 65·83 among Hindoos. In other classes the figures are nearly constant.

8. The death-rates are decidedly high. Out of 71 dispensaries receiving in-door patients in Bengal Proper, 36 had a death-rate exceeding 16 per cent, 26 exceeding 20 per cent, and 16 exceeding 25 per cent. Out of 58 in Upper Bengal, 22 show 16 per cent and upwards, 15 more than 20 per cent, and nine more than 25 per cent. In Eastern Bengal, out of 26, seven had more than 16 per cent of deaths, four more than 20 per cent, and three more than 25 per cent. Dr. Payne states that the explanation is the same in all districts, that a native will often not resort to a hospital until he has tried all other means of recovery and found them fail. This is no doubt true as a general statement; but it is only sufficient to explain a generally high death-rate. It will not explain great variations in the degrees of high mortality. Some of the dispensaries always appear high on the list, because they lie on the great pilgrim routes, such as Raneegeunge, Gurbetta, Midnapore, Balasore, Pooree, Gya, and Deoghur; or because they receive laborers travelling to Assam, such as Goalundo and Rajmahal. Others appear occasionally, because the number of patients is so small that the proportions are seriously affected by circumstances which elsewhere would hardly be appreciable. Thus Magoorah headed the list in 1878, because five out of 6 in-door patients died, in 1879, Jamalpore appears with a death-rate of 100 per cent, because only two patients were admitted and both died. But these considerations will not altogether explain why Barrackpore dispensary had a death-rate of 60 per cent in 1878 and 51 per cent in 1879, or why more than 25 per cent died in both years in Hooghly, Bogra, Naraingunge, and Patna.

9. The number of major operations performed by Civil Surgeons as Superintendents of dispensaries was 492 against 426 in the previous year. The number performed by the medical subordinates was 2,110 against 2,214. The total number of minor operations shown in the return is 46,683. Dr. Payne discusses at some length the propriety of directing special attention to surgery in dispensaries and hospitals in the interior. In the Resolution on the report for 1877, the Lieutenant-Governor made the following observations:—"The Surgeon-General justly remarks that the natives of this country have much greater confidence in European surgery than in the European system of medicine. Some medical officers no doubt take more interest in the duties of a physician than in those of a surgeon; but it is to be regretted that by a neglect of surgery they should lose one great means of obtaining the confidence of the people." The Lieutenant-Governor is at a loss to see what room for misunderstanding there is in this remark, or how the policy which it inculcates can be interpreted as recognizing European surgery as more important to the people of India than European medicine. Sir Ashley Eden agrees with Dr. Payne in much that he has written, but he differs from him in his conclusion. It is of course the case that "that man is, without any doubt, the most useful to the people who devotes himself to the cure of the disorders from which they most largely suffer, and, equally without doubt, those disorders are not to be found in a rural population among surgical affections." It is equally true that "in such populations, for every case which calls for a surgeon, there are scores which need a physician's aid, and the proportion is perhaps larger in India than elsewhere, from the habits and occupations of the people, and from climatic influence." The Lieutenant-Governor is not aware that this has ever been denied. He himself has no doubt that the physician is more needed among the people than the surgeon; but it is precisely in the hope that the people may be induced to bring their disorders for cure by English-taught physicians that he would urge that as much attention as possible may be given to surgery. He advocates, not the neglect of medicine in favour of surgery, but the employment of surgery as a valuable auxiliary of medicine. There is a native system of medicine, there is practically no native system of surgery worthy of the name. In any serious epidemic the people are ready enough to seek European aid; but in ordinary cases of sickness there is an unwillingness to depart from the native system of treatment, except perhaps to the extent of using some European drugs, of which the efficacy has been thoroughly accepted. Where surgery is needed, however, the case is very different. No man requiring surgical aid will hesitate about seeking it at the hands of a European-taught surgeon, if such aid is known to be available. The Lieutenant-Governor has not the least doubt that every surgical operation skilfully performed has its effect in inducing confidence in European treatment generally, and in popularizing European medicine as well as European surgery. This, however, not only does not presuppose a neglect of medicine, but postulates its assiduous cultivation. The fame of a successful operation spreads and brings the skill of the Surgeon prominently before the people of the district, and induces them to believe that his success in one case promises success in others. The Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that there is much more hope of the European system of medicine making its way among the people, if it goes hand-in-hand with European surgery, than if it walks alone. If medical subordinates exhibit a tendency to neglect medical for surgical cases, it will rest with the Civil Surgeons to correct them and to insist that the supreme object of popularizing European medicine shall constantly be kept in view. The incompetence of many of the medical subordinates is a fact which must be considered with the general question of the working of these institutions; it is, however, of less importance in connection with the subject now under discussion than in regard to any other, as very many of the outlying dispensaries show no major operations, and most of the remainder very few. There is much truth in what Dr. Payne says about the importance which some ignorant men may seek to attach to very petty operations, and Civil Surgeons will do well to discourage a striving for mere statistical superiority. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot agree, however, that all of these should be excluded from the registers, and it is obvious that, if they are to be entered at all, they cannot appear as medical cases, but must appear under surgery. So long as the details which Dr. Payne has reproduced are supplied, there can be no danger of their importance being over-estimated by those who have to consider the returns.

10. On the general question of the policy to be pursued by Government in regard to the maintenance of the present system of dispensaries, the Surgeon-General's remarks are sound and practical. There can be no doubt that the increase in the number of dispensaries of late years has outstripped the actual demands of the people for charitable relief and the power of Government to supply efficient medical subordinates. In 1860 there were only 57 dispensaries in Bengal. In 1864 rules were laid down under which Government assistance would be granted. In 1865 there were 86 dispensaries; in 1867, 135; in 1873, 198; in 1878, 248; and in 1879, 255. It is not possible to doubt that in many cases the dispensary had its origin in the desire of an individual to earn a reputation for public spirit, or in the hope of the promoters to obtain a supply of European medicines in return for a small subscription. These are the institutions of which the general management is most unsatisfactory. Those, on the other hand, which are known to have been established and to be maintained from motives of genuine philanthropy are admirably administered, and are a source of real benefit to the poor. Dr. Payne's description of the first type of dispensary is not overdrawn—"No sooner has a dispensary been established than the interest of the committee has ceased, and the management has been left to the native doctor. Promises of support and guarantee-bonds have been forgotten with the necessities of the poor which were prominent in words before. Subscribers have refused to pay, frankly declaring that they had expected to receive gratuitous medicine. Members of committee, and even subordinate officers of Government in good position, have been conspicuous among defaulters." What, however, is of chief importance is the inefficiency of a great proportion of the medical officers in charge. As early as 1866 the Inspector-General of Hospitals pointed out the harm done to the repute of European science by ignorant native doctors; and with the enormous increase in the number of dispensaries which has since taken place, the supply of well-qualified men has certainly not kept pace. A liberal supply of expensive drugs and a full equipment of the best surgical instruments have not made up for the inability of the native doctor to make a proper use of them. Sir Ashley Eden quite agrees with Dr. Payne that "the situation is at least very unfavourable to further extension of a system under which we present English drugs to certain classes of the people in abundance, but English treatment to very few." The question is whether any active measures should be taken to contract it. The Lieutenant-Governor is unwilling to take any such measures, nor does Dr. Payne recommend that he should. The sum contributed by Government towards the cost of establishments alone in these dispensaries was last year Rs. 1,07,200. The Lieutenant Governor is quite willing to continue to contribute largely to this object, in the hope of thereby gradually extending the genuine European system of treatment among the people. Meanwhile, a careful classification of the dispensaries under the rules recommended by the Medical Committee is being made. It was remarked in the resolution on the last report that the system already in force in Bombay, Madras, and the Punjab, of requiring dispensaries to pay for their own medicines, had been introduced, the drugs being supplied from the Government stores at cost price. In special cases Government will give a money grant for this purpose; but the previous system under which medicines could be obtained free on indent was obviously open to grave abuse, and was not compatible with really careful and systematic administration. A gradual improvement in the staff may fairly be looked for. Under the new rules such hospital assistants as cannot pass the examination for promotion will remain in the inferior grades, while vacancies will be filled by better qualified men. The Surgeon-General reports that there has been a marked improvement in the education at the Sealdah School, and this has already been noticed by Government, while the Patna, Dacca, and Cuttack schools have for some time produced very well taught pupils. The increase in the proportion of Assistant Surgeons in charge of dispensaries has already been noticed. With increased attention on the part of the committees, and closer and more frequent inspection by superior medical officers, it may be hoped that a better state of affairs will be realized than can be said to have hitherto existed.

11. The Surgeon-General rightly draws attention to the awkwardness of the form of statement purporting to show the income, expenditure, and balance of dispensaries during the year. Under the head of "Income" is included not merely the current receipts of the year, but the amount of invested capital on the 1st January, and also the cash or "floating" balance in hand on that date. "Income" in fact is taken to mean "funds available for expenditure during the year." Under the head of "Expenditure" is exhibited all the outlay of the year of every kind, irrespective of the source from which the funds were procured. It includes, therefore, expenditure met from the sale of securities and money spent upon new investments. The closing columns of the statement, purporting to give the balance on the 31st December, do not represent "funds available for expenditure at the close of the year," but exhibit under the column of "invested balance" the invested capital on the 1st January preceding, less the value of the securities sold during the year; while the "floating balance" given is the actual cash balance on the 31st December, including any unspent proceeds from the sales of securities. Obviously if "income" is to be taken in the first part of the statement to mean all "funds available for expenditure during the year," the balance of such "income" at the close of the year should include any sums sunk in new investments. At present, however, these only appear under the head of "Expenditure," and have to be added to the opening "balance" under the column of invested capital in the statements of the following year. It would be much simpler to have two distinct statements, one showing the capital account of each dispensary with its losses and gains, and the other the current account showing cash receipts from every source and expenditure on all accounts. The Government of India will be moved to sanction this amendment of the forms.

12. But though the form of the statement is faulty, there is no reason why it should be inaccurate in detail. Nevertheless, it abounds in apparent errors. No less than 11 dispensaries show an income from "interest on investments," though the statement shows that they have no invested capital. Nine show capital invested, but no income from interest upon it. In many cases the amount said to have been realized as interest bears no proper relation to the sum shown as invested; large investments producing small sums, and small investments large sums. Thus Noakholly with Rs. 3,525 invested shows Rs. 3-7 only realized as interest. The Ula dispensary shows Rs. 111 produced by an investment of Rs. 480. It is necessary to bear in mind that in these cases the sum in question had been invested for at least a full year. The returns for the Kishnaghur district are the most remarkable of all. Out of ten dispensaries, only three are shown to have invested capital; yet eight are shown as receiving interest on investments. Of these Ula, as already has been observed, received Rs. 111 on an investment of Rs. 480; Santipore only gained Rs. 93 on an investment of Rs. 2,000; while Patudah appears as having received Rs. 1,637 as interest, though it is shown to have no invested capital. It is probable that in the last case the amount represents the income from private endowment; but the accounts should be made complete, and their elucidation should not be a matter of guess-work. The Surgeon-General should take due notice of these remarkable figures, and insist in future on Civil Surgeons submitting properly explained accounts.

13. A correct view of the income and expenditure of the dispensaries can only be obtained by rectifying the totals given in the statement after examination of the details.

The income from all sources appears to have been—

		Rs.	A.	P.
From Government	...	1,72,434	8	0
„ Local, Municipal, and other	...

Of the Government contribution, salaries were accountable for Rs. 1,07,209, registers and forms and European medicines for Rs. 50,136, and special allowances for Rs. 13,444. The question of the cost of registers and forms will be separately considered. It is satisfactory to observe that the amount of cinchona febrifuge sold in 1879-80 was 103lb (exclusive of unreported sales in Jessore), against 67lb in 1878-79.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor has read with much interest Dr. Payno's commendatory remarks on the dispensaries mentioned in the last eight paragraphs of his report.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Offg Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE GOVERNMENT CINCHONA PLANTATIONS IN BRITISH SIKKIM AND OF THE GOVERNMENT QUINOLOGIST FOR 1879-80.

Darjeeling, the 26th June 1880.

READ—

Letter from the Superintendent of the Royal Botanical Garden, Calcutta, and of the Government Cinchona Cultivation in Bengal, No. 570, dated 13th May 1880, submitting the annual report of the Government Cinchona Plantation in British Sikkim for the year 1879-80.

Letter from the same officer, No. 25, dated 13th May 1880, submitting the annual report of the Quinologist for the year 1879-80.

Dr King, who in addition to his own duties as Superintendent of the Plantations, has since December last been officiating in the office of the Government Quinologist, has submitted both the reports in time.

2. The season was unusually favourable for planting operations, and about three-quarters of a million of young trees were planted out, of which 614,222 were Succirubra, covering an area of a little above 196 acres, against 353,415 planted over an area of 120 acres in the previous year. During the year 276,700 trees of this species were put out on the new plantation of Sittong, covering an area of nearly 101 acres; 258,620 were planted on the old plantation of Rishap and Mungpoo, though on virgin soil, and 108,900 replaced those that had to be uprooted for the bark crop. In addition to these, a good many young plants were utilized in filling up gaps as they occurred in the older parts of the plantation. It is gratifying to observe that the efforts made to propagate the Calisaya and hybrid varieties have at last begun to bear fruit. Of the hybrid species, 39,100 were planted during the year at Mungpoo, and 36,680 at Sittong, and of Calisaya 12,782 were planted out at the latter plantation. The nursery stock of all three kind has also been kept up, the year ending with a total of 16,000 stock plants and 43,000 young ones.

3. In the Resolution recorded upon the proceedings of last year, it was stated that the Lieutenant-Governor, in view of the more extensive cultivation of Cinchona calisaya, had authorized Dr. King to proceed to Java and ascertain the conditions under which the Dutch have successfully grown that variety of cinchona. Dr. King accordingly visited the plantations in Java during the year. The result of his visit to that island was embodied by him in an interesting report received by Government on the 22nd November last, and forwarded to the Government of India on the 15th December 1879. The report shows that, in respect of soil and climate, the Java plantations have great advantages over those of Sikkim, but on the other hand labour is much cheaper in British Sikkim. The conclusions arrived at by Dr. King were that efforts should be made to graft Ledgeriana and approved varieties of Calisaya on Succirubra stocks; that attention should be directed towards propagating the best varieties of Calisaya; that trial should be given to the Java plan of shaving the bark of cinchona trees; and that a more suitable locality for cinchona cultivation than Sikkim should be sought for in Burma, the Andaman Islands, and the Khasi Hills. The Dutch method of shaving the bark of living trees has already been tried at Mungpoo, but there has been as yet no time to judge of the results.

4. The entire produce of the plantations for the year was 361,590lb of dry bark against 261,659lb in 187-79; of this, 29,520lb were yellow and the rest red bark. The new plantation of Sittong grew its first crop during the year, and of the bark gathered, 15,850lb represented the yield of that plantation. The aggregate yield of bark in former years amounted to 1,134,901lb, so that the total produce of the plantations since their opening, including the crop of the past year, has been 1,496,491lb.

5. As usual, the red bark crop of the old plantation was obtained by one of the three methods of uprooting, coppicing, and thinning; but the yellow bark was entirely got by thinning the Calisaya trees planted from 1869 to 1871. The figures given by Dr. King under this head may be summed up as follows.—

Do. by coppicing ...	38,550
Do. by thinning	154,995
Total	361,590

From 100 acres of eleven years old trees uprooted, the average yield of bark of all kinds was 1,680lb per acre. The average yield of 26 acres of ten years old trees coppiced was 1,482lb per acre. The outturn showed great inequalities; for while a patch of trees on low Rishap yielded at the rate of 2,584lb per acre, another patch of the same age, but planted a little higher up on the same ridge, produced only 1,560lb.

6. The total expenditure on the plantation amounted to Rs 69,973-0-4, of which Rs. 15,204-4-6 represented the capital expenditure on the new plantation at Sittong, and Rs. 54,768-11-10 the working expenses of the old plantations.

7. The Superintendent's proposal to take 350,000lb of red bark as the crop of the next year has the Lieutenant-Governor's approval. Should it be found as the season advances that more is likely to be wanted, the Lieutenant-Governor is assured that it will not be difficult to increase the quantity to 400,000lb.

8. In accordance with the orders of the Government of India, 14,240lb of the yellow or Calisaya bark was sent to England for sale towards the close of the year; but as Mr Gamble has now succeeded in making sulphate of quinine of excellent quality from this bark, it will probably not be desirable send any more away.

9. The introduction upon the plantations of a new species of cinchona which yields the Carthagena or Columbian bark, is an interesting feature in the operations, and it is hoped that the plants brought out to India from Kew may be successfully propagated.

10. The Superintendent reports that there is a considerable demand for seed of Cinchona succirubra among the coffee-planters of Ceylon, who sow it broadcast between the trees on their plantations, as also for seed of Cinchona calisaya; but it has been found impossible to meet the demand for the seed of the latter variety to the full extent, as the bulk is required for the Government Plantation.

11. The total outturn of the febrifuge factory for the year just passed was 9,434lb 13oz against 7,007lb in the previous year. The demand of that year, however, amounted to 7,955lb 7oz., which Mr. Wood, the Quinologist, was able to meet from the large stock that he had on hand at the commencement of the year. The febrifuge factory has been extended during the year, and is now on a sufficiently large scale to meet all probable current demands, and at the same time to maintain a sufficient reserve stock of the alkaloid as now manufactured. It was remarked in the resolution on last year's report that the question of manufacturing a superior drug was under consideration. The object which Government had in view in appointing the Cinchona Febrifuge Committee in 1877 was to determine how far the febrifuge was susceptible of improvement by excluding its amorphous constituents. Whilst discussing this question, the Committee recommended for trial a mixture made of four parts of 'sulphate of quinine, eight of sulphate of cinchonidine, and nine of sulphate of cinchonine.' The result of this trial, as reported in July last, showed that the antiperiodic properties of the febrifuge are not diminished by the elimination of the amorphous alkaloids, while the triple sulphate has the advantage of creating less nausea and gastric disturbance than the ordinary febrifuge. At the same time the Committee considered that the proportion of cases in which the febrifuge had been found to create great nausea was so small, while its efficacy as a remedy in the treatment of fevers had been so unmistakably established, that the remedial advantages to be gained by substituting for it a finer preparation were not sufficient to warrant any great increase of cost. In view, however, of the extension in the cultivation of Cinchona calisaya and the probability of the manufacture from it of pure sulphate of quinine being undertaken, they recommended that a small factory should be established at which the preparation of the pure alkaloids of Cinchona succirubra could in the meantime be carried on, so that the cost of producing the triple sulphate could at once be ascertained. Accordingly, after personal consultation with Mr. Wood and Dr. King, the Lieutenant-Governor submitted to the Government of India in August last a proposal to erect a small factory for the manufacture of the triple sulphate and of pure sulphate of quinine. This question, and that of the appointment of a Quinologist in succession to Mr. Wood, are now under the consideration of the Government of India.

12. The cost of manufacture in the present factory during the year, including the cost of the bark, has been Rs. 95,531-37, or Rs. 10-2 per pound, being 12 annas 7 pie per pound less than in 1878-79.

13. The febrifuge of last year was disposed of as follows:—

To the Medical Depôt, Calcutta	3,500	0
Ditto ditto, Bombay	1,600	0
Ditto ditto, Madras	300	0
Sold to the public	2,757	8
Samples, lost in packing, consumed in experiments, &c., &c.	6	8
Total	8,164	0

The sales to the public have exceeded those of 1878-79 by 358lbs—a circumstance which proves beyond all doubt that the drug is rising in general estimation.

14. The result of the operations of the past year, from a financial point of view, has been most satisfactory. The revenue derived from the sale of the febrifuge, and a small quantity of bark, seed, and plants to the medical depôts and to the public, amounted to Rs. 1,36,773, as shown below:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Febrifuge sold to the public	46,803	8	0
Seed, plant, and bark sold to the public	739	8	0
Credit Medical Depôt, Calcutta	57,850	0	0

This sum, according to the figures given in the Quinologist's report, was Rs. 56,260 in excess of the expenditure on account of both the plantations and the factory.

15. The total expenditure on the plantation from its commencement (including compound interest at 4 per cent.) is a little less than ten lakhs of rupees. The cash transactions for the year, therefore, show a profit of rather more than $5\frac{1}{2}$ per cent on the capital. But this does not represent the whole of the gain for the year, for the stock in hand has been increased in value by Rs. 42,775, which is equal to another 4 per cent. on the capital. The amount of febrifuge used in substitution of quinine in Government hospitals and dispensaries during the past year was 5,400lb. Calculating the average price of quinine in Calcutta at Rs. 90 (a rather low estimate), the saving effected by this substitution during the year has been very nearly four lakhs of rupees, and the total saving since the factory commenced working aggregates $11\frac{3}{4}$ lakhs of rupees, or more than the plantations have cost since their opening.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets the loss of the valuable services of Mr. Wood, who resigned his appointment of Quinologist during the year. The thanks of Government are due to Dr. King, whose management of his department leaves nothing to be desired. Dr. King reports very favourably of the services of Mr. Gammie, who has been in charge of the factory throughout the year, and who has very intelligently carried out with great success experiments for preparing sulphate of quinine, and an improved and purer febrifuge. The sulphate of quinine prepared by Mr. Gammie, though on a small scale, has been declared on analysis to be equal to that of the best European makers. In addition to his work in the factory, Mr. Gammie has devoted much time and attention to the plantations. The Lieutenant-Governor entirely concurs in the praise accorded to Mr. Gammie by Dr. King. The other assistants of the Superintendent are also highly spoken of.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this resolution, and of the reports referred to, be submitted to the Government of India in the Home, Revenue, and Agricultural Department, and that another copy of the resolution be forwarded for the information of Dr. King.

Ordered further that a copy of the resolution, and of the reports, be forwarded to the Medical Department of this office, and also to the Government of Madras, and Surgeon-General of Bengal.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from observations made at 6 h, 10 h, 16 h and 22 h and from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newmann's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beekley's anemograph

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and other things being equal, reads therefore .003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 2.5 lower; and finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0.6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

Rule 2.—All applications must be made in forms which may be obtained free of cost at the Canal Revenue Offices. (Appendices A and B.)

Rule 3.—Applications for water will be received by the Deputy Revenue Superintendents or their duly authorized subordinates at the various circle and branch circle offices.

Rule 4.—Any Deputy Superintendent may refuse an application if he thinks it would not be to the interest of Government to comply with it. This discretion will be vested in the Deputy Superintendents only. Other canal revenue officers authorized to receive applications must refer for orders all doubtful cases to the Deputy Superintendent in charge of their respective circles.

PART II.

Rule 6.—Applications for water for the irrigation of rice crops at Rs. 1-8 per acre "flow" and Re. 1 "lift" must be signed by all the cultivators holding rice culturable and irrigable lands in the villages mentioned in the applications, and the names of the villages adjoining that in respect of which the application is made must be specified at the back of the applications.

Rule 7. Applications for water at Rs. 3 "flow" and Rs. 2 "lift" irrigation must be signed by all those cultivating in the specific portion of the villages applied for. At the back of such applications should be entered the names and boundaries of the chaks or plots for which water is required.

Rule 8.—The provisions of Rule 7 will apply to all applications for water for sugarcane and dry-weather crops.

Rule 9.—Applications under Rules 6, 7, and 9 will not be deemed complete until all the signatures of intending irrigators have been obtained, and water may be refused by the Deputy Superintendent until all the signatures shall have been obtained. Those who cannot write must affix their marks.

Rule 10.—All applicants should have distinctly explained to them the terms of the agreement at the head of their applications. The assessments made will be on the areas actually irrigable or irrigated and cultivated by applicants, and not on the areas as stated by them.

Rule 11.—Separate applications must be given in respect of each description of crop mentioned in the statement attached to Rule 5.

Rule 12.—The Deputy Superintendent may refuse to comply with the application of any village from the cultivators of which any arrears of water-rates are due, until such time as the arrears are paid.

PART III.

Of the Procedure for the Disposal of Applications for Water.

Rule 13.—On receipt of an application for water it should be dated and initialed by the receiving officer and entered in the register of applications (Register No. i). The officer receiving it, or his duly authorized subordinate, will then proceed to ascertain by local enquiry and the aid of survey maps, or by actual measurement, the following particulars regarding the lands mentioned in the application:—

- (1) Whether canal supply can be given.
- (2) Whether the particulars as to areas and boundaries as given in the application are correct.
- (3) Whether, with reference to the situation of the lands and areas applied for, it is to the interest of Government to comply with the application.

Rule 14.—After ascertaining by survey maps or actual measurement, and recording on the application the areas being or to be irrigated, the enquiring officer shall prepare a permit to supply water in the form prescribed in Appendix C for despatch to the supplying officer. A copy of the permit may, if wished, be made over to the applicants.

Rule 15.—Should the enquiring officer be of opinion that the areas applied for cannot be irrigated, or that the application should not for other reasons be sanctioned, he will submit his report with all the papers of the case for the orders of the Deputy Superintendent.

Rule 16.—It shall be at the discretion of the Deputy Superintendent to grant supply of water to any village or villages for which applications for water may have been received without waiting for the completion of any local enquiry or measurement.

Rule 17.—The manner in which any application may be finally disposed of should be briefly stated in the column of remarks in Register No. I.

Rule 18.—When an application for water has been finally disposed of, either by an order to supply water or otherwise, it should be forwarded to the head office, where it will be registered in detail in the register of leases (Register No. II).

PART IV.

Of Water Distribution to Applicants.

Rule 19.—Village channels have been constructed and are maintained by Government for the purpose of leading water to some convenient point or points within the boundaries of certain villages; and wherever such channels exist canal water shall, if possible, be supplied from them to all applicants by the Superintending Engineer, his Executive Engineers, and their subordinates.

Rule 20.—Where no village channels exist from which supply can be given, applicants shall be directed to construct such village channels as may be required to irrigate their areas, and supply may be withheld until proper channels are made.

Rule 21.—Canal officers shall give every assistance to applicants in laying out and aligning village channels, and every effort must be made to induce villagers to construct their own channels.

Rule 22.—The complete control and custody of all irrigation sluices shall rest in the Superintending Engineer and the Executive Engineers subordinate to him; but it shall be competent to either of these officers, by an order in writing, to transfer the control and custody of any sluice to any person deemed fit to take charge thereof.

Rule 23.—All questions as to priority of right to take water, and all disputes regarding the quantity and regulation of supply, shall be determined by the Executive Engineer. It shall further be competent to this officer, at his discretion, to close entirely such channels and outlets as he may deem expedient to ensure proper rotation of supply to all applicants, and no claims for compensation for such closure shall lie.

Rule 24.—Applicants whose applications may have been sanctioned shall as far as possible be supplied at any time during the growth of the crop mentioned in their applications: but no applicant for water for a rice crop can claim a full supply before the 15th of June.

Rule 25.—Cultivators shall embank the field to which water is supplied, so that the water shall not run to waste or flow unnecessarily on land not entitled to irrigation.

Rule 26.—Where water is appropriated in an unauthorized manner, by cutting canal, distributary or village channel banks, or by opening sluices or shoots fixed in such banks, or by cutting or neglecting to keep in repair the boundaries of fields to which water is supplied, and the person by whose act or neglect such appropriation has ensued cannot be identified, all lands deriving benefit shall be liable to twice the ordinary charge, or such other charge, not being less than the ordinary rate, as the Deputy Superintendent of Canal Revenue may determine.

PART V.

Of Realization of Water-rates.

Rule 27.—Any person appointed as a Collector under section 82 of the Act shall receive sunnuds of appointment in Form D for each village from which he agrees to collect, and he will be entitled to receive commission at the rate of 5 per cent. on all sums paid by him to Government on or before such dates as may be stated in his sunnuds of appointment. The person appointed Collector shall usually be a nominee of the cultivators from whom water-rates are due. No person appointed as Collector of water-rate shall be entitled to claim his commission until he has submitted such accounts as the Deputy Superintendent may prescribe.

Rule 28.—The Deputy Superintendent shall be at liberty to cancel any sunnud of appointment to collect, whenever such course appears advisable in the interest of Government or of the cultivators.

Rule 29.—Where no Collectors of water-rates are appointed, realizations will be made by the Canal Revenue Officers in charge of circles and by their authorized subordinates. The instructions embodied in Appendix E regarding collections must be read as part and parcel of these rules, and must be adhered to by all canal revenue subordinates.

Rule 30.—Demand statements of the water-rates due from each village will be issued from the Canal Revenue Office at least two months before such water-rates fall due. All demand statements will contain the names and residences of the cultivators from whom water-rates are due, the areas on which rates are payable, and amounts due from each ryot. Demand statements shall be served on the Collector, or if no Collector has been appointed, on some one of the principal applicants. General notice of such service shall be posted on some conspicuous part of each village, and shall specify dates of payment.

Rule 31.—The dates of payment of water-rate for the different crops shall be as follow:—

For rice ..	1st February
„ sugarcane ...	1st June.
„ dalwa and other dry- weather crops ...	1st August.

All payments of water-rates shall be paid in one instalment.

PART VI.

Rule 32.—All objections and claims for remission shall be made to the Deputy Superintendent.

Rule 33.—Remissions of water-rates will be granted in whole or in part by the Deputy Superintendent on the following grounds:—

- (1) The total failure of supply.
- (2) Damage to crops caused by deficiency or delay in the supply of water, in consequence of some act or omission on the part of the supplying officer, and independent of any act or omission on the part of the applicants.
- (3) Damage caused by excess water under above restrictions.
- (4) Where it can be shown that no crop was grown as originally intended. Provided that no claim for remission shall be allowed unless made while the crops alleged to have been damaged are on the ground.

Rule 34.—Special cases for remission not coming under the above heads shall be reported to the collector for orders.

Rule 35.—All orders passed on claims for remission shall be duly communicated to the parties concerned.

PART VII.

Of Miscellaneous Sources of Revenue.

Rule 36.—Written applications must be given in plain paper to the Deputy Superintendent or to his duly authorized subordinate by any person wishing to cultivate Government canal lands, catch fish, or farm or purchase any miscellaneous source of canal revenue. The rules and procedure for dealing with these applications will be the same as those for dealing with applications for water, except that after necessary enquiry the applicant shall, if his demand be complied with, be called on to execute a haboolyut, a pattah being made over to him.

Rule 37.—Leases for miscellaneous sources of revenue shall usually run for three or five years, at the discretion of the Deputy Superintendent; but all payments thereon shall be annual and payable on the 1st of June.

Rule 38.—A separate register (Register No. III) shall be maintained of all miscellaneous leases.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 123.

The 12th July 1880.

UNDER section 89 of Act X (B.C.) of 1871, the following annual accounts and reports of the District Road Committees of Chittagong and Noakholly, and of the Deputy Commissioner of the Chittagong Hill Tracts, of works done and in progress during the past cess year 1878-79, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of Chittagong Division, are published for general information.

T. H. WICKES,

Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, in the P. W. Dept.

No. 51L, dated Chittagong, the 30th January 1880.

From—H. J. S. CORRON, Esq., Chairman of the District Road Committee, Chittagong,

To—The Commissioner of the Chittagong Division.

I HAVE the honor to submit the following report and annexed accounts on the working of the Chittagong District Road Committee for the cess year 1878-79, ending with 30th September 1879.

The Committee consisted of 17 members, of whom five were officials and the rest non-officials. The total number of meetings held during the year was seven.

There is no Sub-Committee in any part of the district. The supervision of the road works in the Cox's Bazar sub-division is carried out by the District Committee.

Mr. G. M. Currie was Chairman of the Road Cess Committee up to the 28th November 1878; I was Chairman from that date up to the 5th September 1879; and Mr. A. H. Haggard was Chairman during the remainder of the year.

The following officers held the office of Vice-Chairman during the year:—

Mr. Fasson from October to 10th December 1878;

Mr. Bolton from 11th December 1878 to 25th January 1879;

Mr. Savage from 26th February 1879 to 22nd June 1879; and

Mr. Fasson again from 24th June to the end of the year.

During the intervals, when there was no Vice-Chairman, the duties were discharged by the Chairman.

Under sections 19 and 50 of Act X of 1871, the following gentlemen were appointed members of the Committee towards the close of the year.—

Allred Dowling Esq.	...	Proprietor of the Agonea Tea Estate
A Brownlow, Esq.		Manager and part proprietor of the Futtuckcherry Tea Estate.
Bahoo Durga Das Das Pleader.
„ Chaitunyo Churn Dutt Ditto.
„ Nittya Nundo Roy	.	. Merchant and Zemindar
„ Kailas Chunder Das	...	Manager under the Court of Wards.

A statement in the prescribed form is annexed, giving the names of the members of the Committee and the number of meetings attended by each. The average number of members attending each meeting was seven, a circumstance plainly shewing the general interest taken in the proceedings of the Committee. At the meeting held towards the close of the year to consider the budget and determine the rate of cess to be fixed for the ensuing year, no less than 15 members out of 17 were present. At all meetings I have derived great assistance from the members of the Committee, and especially from Mr Campbell, Bahoo Khetter Mohun Bose, the Executive Engineer and Bahoo Lall Chand Chowdhri. There is no question of the utility of the Committee as at present organized in this district.

	Estimated amount	Actual amount
	Rs	Rs. a p
(a) Cess on lands	89,000	97,932 8 4½
Cess on houses	120	79 3 10½
One per cent road cess	200	122 10 1
(b) Canal tolls	6,344	5,215 2 6
(c) Grant-in-aid from Provincial Services	.	5,810 5 1
Grant-in-aid from Government on account of Public Works Cess establishment	..	1,800 0 0
(d) Contribution from Khas Mehal Fund	1,233
(e) Process fees for recovery of road cess arrears	300	2,156 12 6
(f) Sales of produce and stores	.	4 5 0
Total	97,497	1,16,750 15 7½

The financial result of the year is therefore satisfactory, the receipts exceeding the estimate in almost all items of the budget.

(a) —In regard to the cess on land, the realizations of the previous year had been very indifferent, and the excess over the estimate is to be attributed to the recovery of large arrears. There is still great difficulty in realizations, but some method has now been introduced, and by the assiduous exertions of the collecting establishment, matters have been placed on a somewhat better footing. The Committee are indebted to the Road Cess Deputy Collector for this result.

(b) —The falling off under canal tolls is due to special circumstances. The collection of these tolls was formerly farmed out to the highest bidder, and the estimate was prepared in accordance with the amount of rent settled at the auction sales. But the farmers defaulted to a large extent, and only in the year it was found necessary to bring the canals under khas management. The truth is that the bids were higher than was warranted, and the estimate based upon them was therefore excessive. This subject will be again alluded to later on in this report.

(c) —The grant-in-aid from Provincial Fund of Rs. 5,810 is a mere refund of road cess money spent on the Jalda road in the previous year 1877-78, and recovered from the sum of Rs. 15,000 sanctioned by His Honor the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal on account of relief measures in that part of the district. The grant from Government on account of Public Works Cess establishment was sanctioned during the year, and the store could not be shown in the budget estimate.

(d) —As sanction to the Khas Mehal budget was not received during the year under report, the sum allotted in the budget as a contribution from this fund could not be realized. It will be credited during the current year.

- (e.)—The increase under the head of process fees is due to the fact that the salary of temporary peons employed for recovery of road cess has been recovered from the parties and credited to the fund. This is a mere refund of attachment charges, and per contra a part of the increased expenditure under "General management" is attributable to this extraordinary charge.

		Estimated amount.	Actual amount.
		Rs.	Rs.	A.	P.
(a)	General management ...	13,492	16,488	7	4
(b)	Toll collection—canal	1,668	4	7
(c)	Staging bungalows
	Public Works.—Original works	14,330	4,839	7	11
	Repairs	24,850	16,426	7	5
	Establishment	10,988	5,477	14	8
	Tools and plant	200	484	8	0
	Total ...	63,860	45,385	1	6

It was necessary for the Committee to act during the past year with the most studied regard to economy. The year began with a deficit balance of Rs. 37,007, and it was the first charge upon the funds of the Committee to pay off this debt to Government. Not only has this debt been discharged, but the year closed with a credit balance of Rs. 23,099.

The Committee were of opinion that it was essential to place their affairs upon a sound financial footing, and that until this was done expenditure in all departments should be curtailed as far as possible. They have been successful in their object, and this fact affords a satisfactory explanation of the comparatively small sum expended during the year on account of public works.

- (a.)—The increase of expenditure on "General management" is due to the salary of temporary peons and other charges incurred for recovery of road cess arrears. These charges have been recovered from the parties in the shape of process fees and credited to the fund as explained above. The cost of printed books and forms supplied by private presses was also very high, and this is another cause of the excess expenditure over the budget estimate. But under any circumstances the total expenditure is large and must always continue to be so in a district where the estates are almost innumerable and exceedingly small and divided amongst many shareholders. The establishment is kept as low as possible, and it would be false economy to reduce it so as to in any way impair its efficiency.

- (b.)—The cost of collecting canal tolls is a new charge. Before November 1878, the line of canals through the Banscolly and Puttea thanas, which are in fact one of the most important lines of communication in the district, were under the management of the Magistrate. They were then transferred to the Committee, and the old procedure of letting them out in farm was continued; the rents, however, were not realized with regularity, and an adjustment of accounts showed that, on the 1st January 1879, there was still outstanding a total of Rs. 5,728 on account of the arrears of the previous year. Notice was then given to the farmers to pay up the arrears within a certain time, and they were informed that, if they did not do so, their leases would be cancelled and the canals held direct. As they failed to pay, the canals were taken by the Committee under khas management from the 1st February, and were so managed during the remainder of the year. This change, in the opinion of the Committee, has worked satisfactorily; the financial results are better than they were under the old system, and there is less oppression. Civil suits were instituted against the defaulting farmers, and after some trouble decrees were obtained, but it is not expected that more than half of the amount of the decrees will be realized.

Owing to the convergent action of the tides, these canals, especially the sections known under the names of Boalkhally and Banscolly, have a constant tendency to silt up, and large sums have to be periodically spent to make them navigable for traffic. The silt accumulates at the place where the tides meet. Various schemes have been proposed, and some attempted in order to facilitate a stronger current of water in one direction, but without much success at present. This is one of the most important matters to which the District Engineer, who has recently joined, will have to turn his attention.

The Moheskhali canal, which was before under the control of the Conservator of the Port, was transferred to the charge of the Committee in July 1879, and the proceeds are now credited to the Road Fund. If any opinion may be formed from the receipts of this canal during the past six months, its maintenance will prove the reverse of profitable to the Committee.

The following is a brief account of works executed on the different roads and canals of the district during the year.

Arracan Road.—This road has received surface repairs from the south bank of the river Karnafuli to 39th mile, the bridges have been repaired to 31st mile, and a new wooden bridge, No. 38, of 42 feet span, has been constructed. The whole line of this road, a distance of 22½ miles between Padua village and the south bank of the Karnafuli, is in good condition. Beyond Padua up to Chunati the road is a fragment merely of magnificent embankments. It is repeatedly intersected by khalls and unbridged all along. The Committee are sensible of the importance of completing this road, and during the present season two new bridges will be constructed.

A dam 72 feet long has been placed on the side of this road at 12th mile for protection of the road from the sudden floods which come down from the adjacent hills during the rains in almost irresistible force.

One hundred and seventy-one temporary bamboo bridges, aggregating 7,722 feet in length, have been put up between Satkania and Teknaf and from Ramoo to Gurjonia. The jungle has also been cleared from the sides of the road where it passes through these hilly tracts.

The road has been raised on the 9th, 11th and 12th miles.

Ramghur Road.—This road runs from the northern boundary of Chittagong Municipality towards Ramghur. A length of 23½ miles of this road has been completed. It has received surface repairs throughout this length, and urgent repairs were also given to 12 bridges which were much dilapidated. The unusually heavy rains in June breached this road badly about the 22nd mile, and for some time it was impossible to accord even temporary repairs. The necessary steps are now being taken. New bridges on the 15th and 17th miles will be constructed during this cold weather.

Hill Tracts Road.—This road joins the Ramghur road a little north of Hathazari and goes in the direction of Raojan. It is an exceedingly fine embankment, but unbridged. Surface repairs were given and 30 temporary foot bridges were put up to make the road passable for dāk-runners and foot passengers.

Moiskhali Strand Road.—This road connects the western boundary of the municipality with the village of Halishahur. It received surface repairs throughout its whole length, and bridges Nos. 1 and 2 received thorough repairs.

There is some anxiety about a portion of this road being washed away by the Karnafuli river, and it was found necessary to guard against this by banking the river with stone ballast. This is another matter demanding the District Engineer's particular attention.

Chandpore Road.—This road has been repaired between Sadonpore and the south bank of the river Karnafuli, a distance of 16½ miles, and wooden bridges thereon, Nos. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 19, 20, and 21, have been constructed. Twelve bamboo bridges five feet wide have been erected between the south bank of the Sungoo river and Banigram. This road is very narrow and winding. It has been proposed to straighten it between the first and seventh miles, and perhaps in other places, and when funds are available they might very profitably be expended in the improvements of this useful road. At present, though passable, it is one of the worst constructed roads in the district.

Sakerapole Road.—This road proceeds from Puttea police station on the Arracan road to the bank of Hargys nullah, a distance of 4½ miles, and was repaired all along. Wooden wing walls to the ends of bridges Nos. 3, 4, and 7 have been constructed, and two old timber bridges repaired. The road is in fair condition and passable for carts.

The branch Sakerapole road in connection with the Dhalghat road has been thoroughly repaired and a timber bridge erected; it is a very useful little branch and much appreciated by the people of the neighbourhood, but properly it should be classed among village roads.

Dhalghat Road.—This road has been repaired from the junction of the Sakerapole road to the south bank of Kaicha or Karnafuli, a distance of 6½ miles, and four bamboo bridges have been put up. The road is in fair condition, but it is too narrow for carts.

Ramoo Road.—This road has received surface repairs between Cox's Bazar and Ramoo. Six wooden bridges have been repaired, and a new wooden bridge of 30 feet span has been constructed on the 18th mile. The road is in tolerable condition.

Kalarghat Road.—This road runs from the Bakolia road to the east bank of Karnafuli, over a length of six miles. Surface repairs and urgent repairs to seven bridges have been carried out. It is very muddy and impassable during the rains and requires to be raised.

Nasirabad Road.—This road begins from the western boundary of the municipality and meets the Ramghur road near Setalgharna Surra. Surface repairs have been done. Two bridges with masonry abutments and wooden platforms have also been constructed.

Robertgunge Road.—This road runs from the Trunk Road to the bank of Fenny river. It has received surface repairs, and five bamboo platforms have been given.

Poroikora Road.—This road runs from the north bank of the Murali nullah to the third mile of the Chandpore road, a distance of 5½ miles. It has received necessary repairs. The road with its bridges is in fair condition.

Mahajan's Hat Road.—This road has received surface repairs and two bamboo platforms have been put up. It is passable for carts.

Rangonea Road—This road runs from the bank of Issamutty to Rance's Hât. Petty repairs to surface over four miles have been executed. Three foot bridges were put up.

Anwarah Road.—This road branches off from the 10th mile of Chandpore road to the Anwarah outpost and Anwarah village. It has received surface repairs, and two of its wooden bridges have been repaired. The state of the road is tolerable.

Meeta Serra Road.—This road branches off from the old Arracan road close to the tea factory, one mile in length, and goes towards Meeta Serra village. It has received surface repairs.

Tipperah Pass, Halishahur, and Bakolia Roads.—These three roads are near the station. They have received surface repairs.

Fenewa Road—This road runs from Beebi's Hât on the Ramghur road to the Halda Valley Tea Estate. Surface repairs have been carried out and petty repairs to some of the bridges. A large bridge has been constructed over the Lelang Surra by the Manager of Fenewa Tea Estate.

Jaldi Road—This road was commenced last year as a famine relief, and as far as it has gone is the best laid out road in the district. No new earthwork was done during the year but now that funds are available it will be again taken up. Twenty-eight temporary bamboo foot bridges were put up for the use of the dâk runners and other foot traffic.

Boalkhal Paving Paths.—These paths have received thorough repairs, and wooden bridges Nos. 1, 1, and 5 have been repaired. The present condition of these paths is very satisfactory.

Boalkhal Canal—The silt from this canal was cleared out from the junction of Chalkhal to the east of the mouth of the Kumarkhal, 2½ miles in length, and the canal is now in a satisfactory state, being navigable during the whole season.

Village Roads—A sum of Rs. 4,000 was sanctioned on account of the village roads during the year and was well spent. The Committee are anxious to spend more money on village roads. This is the most popular and by no means the least useful manner of expending the road cess funds, and the villagers of Chittagong are very eager to derive their full benefit from the cess in this respect. More money would have been spent on these roads last year if it had been available. During the current year a sum of Rs. 7,000 has been sanctioned for village roads, and there is no doubt that the whole of it will be utilized. The village roads of this district are, however, exceedingly bad, and require much more money to be spent on them than the funds of the road cess will ever be able to afford.

Establishment—The saving under this head is concurrent with the saving effected under Public Works.

The newly appointed District Engineer, Baboo Nitte Gobind Chowdry, did not join his appointment till after the close of the year. The officer primarily responsible for carrying out the road works during the year was supervisor Baboo Mohes Chundra Gono, who for many years has been in charge of the Road Department. He is an invaluable officer of great energy and experience, and the Committee are glad to record their appreciation of his services during the past year. Overseer Okhil Chunder Sen has given satisfaction. The Committee also desire to notice the good work done by Baboo Prosanna Coomar Chowdry, their head clerk and accountant.

From—W. FIDDIAN, Esq., Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Noakholly,
To—The Commissioner of the Chittagong Division.

I HAVE the honor to submit the annual accounts and the administration report of the local works undertaken by the District Road Cess Committee during the year 1878-79.

2. Mr. A. Manson was Chairman for the first six months of the year and myself for the remainder.

3. On the transfer of Baboo Bagola Prasanna Mozumdar, Vice-Chairman, to Tipperah on promotion in February 1879, the Vice-Chairmanship remained vacant until the end of April. The Road Cess Deputy Collector who was then appointed fell sick and had to leave the district in July, Mr Sandys taking his place as Vice-Chairman in September. During these successive vacancies, the filling up of which was a matter of difficulty, the work of both appointments had to be done by the Chairman.

4. During the year eleven meetings of the Committee were convened, but at four of these no business was transacted for want of a quorum, owing partly to the large number of moribund members who rarely attend, and partly to the unusual sickness of the rainy season. The following is a list of the members who attended six or more meetings:—

The Chairman	10
Baboo Adyait Charan Datta, Government Pleader	8
" Raj Kumar Rai	7
The District Superintendent of Police	6
Baboo Tarim Prosad Sen, Naib of Bhullooah Estate	6

Four members, including the Executive Engineer, whose head quarters are at Chittagong, did not attend a single meeting. The number of moribund members has been reduced and a corresponding increase made of town members, so as to give the Committee a better working proportion.

5. The native members, with one or two exceptions, take little interest and afford but little aid in the management of road cess affairs, although they value the honour of belonging to the Committee.

6. The provisions of section 57 were duly observed in issuing notices of the Committee meetings. The proceedings of every meeting have been regularly entered in a minute book under section 61 of the Road Cess Act since the formation of the Committee. No land proprietor has taken the trouble to inspect the book.

7. The Road Cess Act has worked satisfactorily on the whole. There has been a difficulty in the way of securing prompt collections of the road cess dues for want of a sufficiently stringent procedure, but this defect will be remedied under the new Act.

8. The annual accounts were examined and passed by a sub-committee, as required under section 88 of the Act.

9. The following works were executed during the year:—

A lump sum of Rs 5,100 has been budgeted for village communications of the district.

12. There is a Branch Road Cess Committee at the Fenny river sub-division which held five sittings during the year. The Chairman takes an active interest in the matter of village communications, and in that department the Branch Committee will probably be of considerable service.

13. The proposed scheme of planting fruit trees along the edges of the roads has not as yet made any progress. The district being low and submerged in water for several months in the year, trees in general, and more especially fruit trees, are grown with difficulty and require high ground. The roads are not, as a rule, wide enough to admit of trees being planted at the edge. An attempt may be made during the coming season.

14. The people thoroughly appreciate the value of village roads, and are not slow in petitioning for their construction or development, but are often unwilling to give up the small amount of land which is required for the purpose. Satisfactory progress has, however, been made in the utilisation and improvement of village roads already in existence. There were many applications by cultivators for drains to drain their fields, but these could not of course be complied with.

15. The following roads which lie within the municipality at the head-quarters have been taken over by the Committee under Government orders during the year, as they really formed the terminations of district roads and required to be kept in good order, while the funds at the disposal of the municipality were extremely limited :—

| Gateway road. | Kalitara road. |
| Bara Bazar road. | Bruce's Tank road. |
| Taltolly road, in two sections. | Dewanpara road. |

The Deputy Examiner, Mr. Wilson, made an examination of accounts on the 23rd August last, and the instructions given by him will be carefully attended to.

GENERAL REMARKS.

16. The condition of the principal roads has been considerably improved during the year, and the district is now very fairly of in that respect. There is still, however, much to be done in the district in the matter of bridges, many of which are in a dilapidated state, and should be repaired or replaced by better structures. A large new bridge is to be built on the Chittagong road to span the Dhumchur khal. The Government has referred to the desirability of improving the water communications of the district by deepening khalls, &c., and during the past year the Noakholly river or khal has been carefully surveyed with a view to opening out an important route to Tipperah, and a considerable sum of money reserved for the purpose. The scheme will shortly be submitted to the higher authorities for approval.

17. The offices of the Committee and of the District Engineer have had inadequate accommodation hitherto in a small hired bungalow. The execution of a new pukka building, at a cost of Rs. 10,000, has been sanctioned, and will be undertaken during the coming year.

REMARKS ON OFFICERS.

Account Branch.

18. The clerks in the Account Department have continued to do their work satisfactorily, and the state of the office at the time of inspection by Mr. Wilson was found to be good. The head clerk, Baboo Tarak Nath Sen, is a steady and capable subordinate.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

19. The District Engineer has worked diligently during the year and in a more regular system than was in operation before, and the condition of the roads has improved considerably. On the whole he deserves credit for his work.

20. There was some difficulty in keeping up the establishment subordinate to the District Engineer, and inconvenience resulted. Of the two Overseers, one fell ill and resigned, and the other, Baboo Bishun Charan Biswas, had to be suspended by the Committee for some irregularities in reference to his work.

Mr. D. E. Ferrault, Assistant Overseer, is favourably reported on by the District Engineer. He had a considerable number of roads to look after and seems to work hard.

Baboo Mohim Chunder Ghosh, the head clerk and accountant in the District Engineer's office, who has now returned to his permanent appointment in the Magistrate's office, has done his work quietly and well, and Mr. Andrews, who takes his place, is also well spoken of.

EXPLANATION.

There will appear a difference of Rs. 209-8 between the establishment under the committee's control and that of works when compared with the quarterly returns. This is owing to the amount being shown in the first quarterly return during the month of December 1878 under the head of "working establishment" instead of "establishment under committee's control."

E. F. SANDYS,

Vice-Chairman, Road Cess Committee.

No. 161R, dated Rungamatti, the 6th November 1879.

From—CAPTAIN A. E. GORDON, Offg. Deputy Commissioner, Rungamatti,
To—The Commissioner of the Chittagong Division.

I HAVE the honor to submit the District Road Fund annual accounts for the cess year commencing from 1st October 1878 and closing with 30th September 1879. The following is an abstract of the transaction during the above period :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Balance in hand on the 1st October 1878	13,519	4	3
Expenditure from 1st October 1878 to 30th September 1879.	7,562	14	3
Balance available on the 1st October 1879	5,956	6	0

2. The grant-in-aid from Provincial Reserve Fund for 1878-79 was drawn from the treasury in 1877-78, and advanced to hillmen who were suffering from distress. This timely aid not only enabled them to harvest their "jloom" crop, but they were able to repay the loan and secure a better crop during 1878-79 than they had enjoyed for years past.

3. The Road Cess Act (X of 1871) has not been introduced in this district, there being no property taxable, hence there has been no need of a Sudder or Branch Committee. The works are executed under the guidance of the Deputy Commissioner and his assistants after they are approved by the Commissioner of Chittagong. In important works the opinion of the Executive Engineer of Chittagong is sought and obtained.

1. The works enumerated below were executed during the period under review. About one-quarter mile of road on the west of Manickcherry hill was improved by cutting and removing débris which had fallen on the road during the rainy season. On this road 90,000 cubic feet of hard sandstone were cut and removed, and its width has been enlarged from three to five feet at a cost of Rs. 525.

On the above road 102 temporary bridges were constructed, each measuring about 35 feet in length and six feet in breadth, at a cost of Rs. 1,108-10.

At the head-quarter station of Rungamatti about 300 yards of road were improved by cutting and removing 15,000 cubic feet of earth which had accumulated on the road during the rainy season at a cost of Rs. 70.

Two roads—one from Manickcherry to Ramghur, about 21 miles in length, and the other from Mohalsurri to Kunchunnagore, about 32 miles in length—were constructed by cutting and removing jungle and undergrowth of trees. The cost of making the former amounted to Rs. 1,050, and of the latter to Rs. 1,615-3-3.

At Ruma, the head-quarter station of the Sungoo sub-division, two embankments were made for roads and for preserving water during the dry season for the use of the men of the frontier police. Jungle all over the station was cleared for roadways at a cost of Rs. 935-13-3.

5. The following repairs were executed by cutting and removing jungle, undergrowth of trees, and brushwood from the roadways :—

Twenty-four miles of road from Rungamatti to Raojan, at a cost of Rs. 103.

Twenty miles of road from Chandergona to Banderbun, at a cost of Rs. 307-12.

Three miles of road from Chandergona towards Rungamatti, at a cost of Rs. 50.

Twelve miles of road from Ruma to Politye, at a cost of Rs. 67-10-3.

Ten miles of road from Banderbun to Dohasary, at a cost of Rs. 150.

On the road from Rungamatti to Chittagong gaps were filled up and débris removed at a cost of Rs. 180, and jarul timber to the value of Rs. 50 purchased for repairing the wooden bridge at Rungamatti.

6. The establishment which was entertained during the year consisted of a mohurrir, one temporary overseer, and one sirdar; Mr. A. DeRozario, Inspector of Police, drawing a special allowance of Rs. 50 per mensem for supervising all out-door works. The total cost of the establishment amounted to Rs. 585-1-6.

7. The sum of Rs. 58-4 were paid for the price of forms and printing charges. Rs. 206-8 were spent for new tools and repairs of old ones.

8. The execution of the following works have been proposed at a cost of Rs. 15,500 in the budget estimate for 1879-80, and the amount will be devoted as follows :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
To original works	5,418	12	0
„ establishment	1,059	0	0
Total	15,500	0	0

Cutting down and lowering the top of Manickcherry hill by excavating and removing 80,000 cubic feet of hard sandstone; constructing half mile of wheeled cart road on the west of Manickcherry hill by cutting and removing 450,000 cubic feet of rocky sides of hills.

Constructing a dam at the head-quarter station of Rungamatti for a roadway by raising an embankment and filling up the dam with 150,000 cubic feet of earth.

Raising an embankment on the banks of the river for a roadway with 120,000 cubic feet of stone; constructing 11 miles of road from Ruma towards Banderbun by cutting and removing jungle.

9. The following repairs will also be executed :—

Three miles of road from Chandergonah towards Rungamatti.

Four miles of road from Dewan's keel towards Raojan.

Ten miles of road from Banderbun to Dohasary.

Twenty-four miles of road from Rungamatti to Raojan in Chittagong, three wells, one revetment and one wooden bridge at Rungamatti, two-and-a-half miles of road, and 18 bridges on the road from Feskichera to Beerkul.

Twenty miles of road from Chandergona to Banderbun.

Forty-six miles of road from Banderbun to Ruma.

One mile of rapids at Uttan-Chuttra river, Kurnafuolee.

Twelve miles of road from Ruma to Pyramid hill.

Two-and-a-half miles of village road from Rungamatti to Singi nullah.

Two miles of village road from Chandergona to Waggah.

Thirty-two miles of road from Mohalsurry to Kunchunnagore.

Twenty-one miles of road from Manickcherry to Ramghur.

10. It has been proposed to entertain an establishment consisting of a mohurir, one temporary overseer, two temporary sirdars, and Mr. A. DeRozario, Inspector of Police, for supervising the works.

11. The works enumerated above cannot be executed until Government sanction to the usual grant of Rs. 10,000 per annum from the Provincial Reserve Fund is obtained. Such sanction in former years would reach this office in July or August; this year it has been delayed up to date.

will show that a sum of Rs. 4,433-10-1 were outstanding at the close of September last, out of which sum Rs. 615-14 detailed in the margin, form a portion of the Rs. 35,000 advanced to hillmen from the Road Fund during 1871, 1872, and 1873. The men from whom the above amount is recoverable have absconded to Hill Tipperah and other places. It is impossible to get any trace of these men. I would recommend that the sum of Rs. 615-14 may be written off the accounts, and that Government sanction be obtained to this.

No. 69GM, dated Chittagong, the 24th February 1880.

From—E. E. LOUIS, Esq., Commissioner of the Chittagong Division.

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department

I HAVE the honor to submit the following annual report on the administration of the District Road Fund in the districts of the Chittagong Division, for the cess-year ending with 30th September 1879, and to enclose herein the district reports and accounts.

2. The report and accounts from the Chittagong Hill Tracts district were received in this office on the 24th December 1879; from the district of Noakhally on the 17th January 1880, and from the Chittagong district, on the 3rd instant only.

3. An abstract of particulars regarding the meetings of the district road committees in the Regulation Districts of this Division during the year under review also accompanies. The Road Cess Act, X (B.C.) of 1871, has not been extended to the Chittagong Hill Tracts district, nor has any committee been formed for the management of its Road Fund, the administration of which rests solely with the Deputy Commissioner.

4. The committee in Chittagong consisted of five official, and 12 non-official members, and they had seven meetings, the average attendance being 7.28. The inclusion of Bahoo Koulas Chandra Das amongst the non-official members seems, however, to be a mistake, as he is manager of Court of Wards' estates under the Collector's control, and is therefore virtually an official rather than a non-official member of the committee. The same remarks apply to Baboo Gopee Mohun Ghose, who is a khas mehal teshildar under the Collector.

5. In Noakholly the committee was composed of five official and 13 non-official members. There were 11 meetings held during the year, with an average attendance of six.

6. In Chittagong the members are reported to have generally taken interest in the proceedings of the committee, and to have assisted the Chairman greatly. Mr. Cotton further adds that there is no question of the utility of the committee as at present organised in this district. The Magistrate would appear to find his committee useful only as a consultative body. In his reply to Government Financial Department Circular No. 7, of the 1st November last, regarding the proposals for the improvement of the drainage of towns and villages in Bengal, he reports that in many cases no member, but the Chairman is adequately acquainted with the demands of the whole district upon the resources of the committee, that the members are no doubt intimately acquainted with the needs of particular localities, but it is usually the case that they have never even seen the greater part of the district, and never intend to visit it, and that the principal value of the committee's services is deliberative and consultative to guide and advise the Chairman and Vice-Chairman, but the initial executive work cannot, as a rule, be taken up by members of the committee.

7. In Noakholly, the native members are reported to have taken little interest, and to have afforded but little aid, in the management of road-cess affairs. Four of the members did not attend any meeting during the year. Their names have accordingly been removed and others selected to take their place.

8. There is only one branch committee formed under the Act in the Penny sub-division in Noakholly. The district committee at Chittagong has been asked to take steps to open branch committees in proper quarters.

9. The receipts of the Division during the year under report on account of the District Road Fund amounted to Rs. 2,05,467-12-8, against Rs. 1,48,700-13-7 of the preceding year, viz.—

	Cess year.

Total ..	1,48,700	13	7	2,05,467	12	8½

10. The total receipts (Rs. 2,05,467-12-8½), together with the unexpended balance (Rs. 32,332-14-3) of the preceding year, minus the deficit expenditure (Rs. 37,007-13-1) which the Chittagong committee had to repay as debt due to Government, gives a net income of Rs. 2,00,792-13-10½ for expenditure during the year under report. The unexpended balance of the preceding year, however, includes Rs. 10,000 granted for expenditure in the Hill Tracts during the year under review—vide Government notification No. 104, of 6th May 1878, published in page 120 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of 8th idem.

12. Out of the above income only Rs. 92,663-1-11 were actually spent during the past year, against Rs. 1,27,470-6-3 of the preceding year, viz.—

	Cess year.
	1877-78			1878-79.

On tools and plant ..	889	9	6	1,421	5	3
Total ..	1,27,470	6	3	92,663	1	11

13. The unexpended cash balance at close of the year amounted to Rs. 89,575-13-7½, and the advances outstanding to Rs. 18,553-14-4.

14. There was an unduly large expenditure incurred in the past year on work establishment, more especially in the Chittagong district. Rs. 12,282 were spent on establishment to carry out original works and repairs costing Rs. 54,463, while in the preceding year an establishment costing Rs. 10,107 only was all to carry out works to the value of Rs. 73,844. Contracts were less freely given, but I am not sure that better work was done.

15. It is also unsatisfactory to find that no progress has been made in any of the districts in planting fruit or other trees along the sides of roads. The attention of the committees will be drawn to this.

16. Rupees 4,000 in Chittagong, and Rs. 2,419-11 in Noakhully were spent on village roads during the past year. The village roads in both the districts appear to be numerous, though many of them are much in want of repair, and a portion of the funds at the disposal of the committee may well be expended in keeping up these means of communication, for such outlay will do much to make the Act popular and facilitate its working.

17. In Chittagong especially, complaints have been made to me regarding the imposition of the road cess and public works tax, and of the difficulty experienced by the zemindars in getting the ryots to pay their quota, and this objection will continue until the roads are made and communication opened, when the people will, I hope, find that they are not paying without reaping some compensating advantage. It is but little the committee can afford to set aside for village roads in Chittagong, for the whole system of roads had by degrees fallen into such a neglected state that a very large expenditure is now required to put them into thorough repair. There is not a single road in Chittagong, not even excepting the Imperial road to Dacca, that can be said to be in satisfactory order.

18. The Act is reported to have worked well in Noakhully during the year.

19. No contribution was made to the Public Works Department during the past year. The agency at the disposal of the committees and the Deputy Commissioner of the Hill Tracts were sufficient to cope with the works done.

DRAFT RULES PROPOSED UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1876.

Dated the 20th July 1880.

No. 102.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following rules for the Sone Canals which it is proposed to substitute for the rules passed and published at pages 761 to 767, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 23rd July 1879.

C. TAYLOR,

*Offg. Asst. Secy., for Joint-Secy.
to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.,
Irrigation Branch.*

RULES UNDER ACT III (B.C.) 1876.

1. The Collector, before awarding compensation under section 16, or for making a reference under section 17 of the Act, shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

2. Persons desirous of acquiring land for the construction of a village channel, or for having a village channel constructed by Canal Agency, shall prefer a written application to the Divisional Canal Officer, or to any other officer duly authorized by him to receive such application.

3. Ordinarily, no village channel shall exceed two miles in length from its head to the point of contact with the village boundary.

4. It shall be the duty of the Canal Officer to register all village channels after due notice has been given to the owner of his intention to do so; if the latter objects, no water will be given.

5. No alteration among the shareholders will be recognized, unless the sanction of the Canal Officer has been first obtained.

6. Persons desirous of taking water from a registered village channel shall, previous to doing so, prefer a written application (Appendix A) to the Divisional Canal Officer, Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, or any subordinate duly authorized by the Divisional Canal Officer to receive such application; and no water shall be taken until after the receipt of a permit (Appendix B) from competent authority.

7. Water shall not be granted where, in the opinion of the Canal Officer, waste is likely to occur.

8. An application under Rule 6 shall, if granted, and unless otherwise specially agreed upon, be subject to the following conditions:—

(a)—That the water supplied shall not be used for other purposes than irrigation without the written consent of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer.

(b)—That the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall, in consultation with the applicants, appoint a headman (to be called a Lambardar), known, or ascertained to be, a substantial person possessed of property, to attend to their interests, to receive and carry out the orders of the Canal Officers, and to distribute the water among the shareholders in the village channel according to their shares.

(c)—That in any case where the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer cannot agree with the applicants in the appointment of a Lambardar, the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall make the appointment himself, subject to the approval of the Divisional Canal Officer.

9. The Divisional Canal Officer is empowered to pay to the Lambardar appointed under Rule 81, the fees detailed in the rule next following, subject to the condition of satisfactory performance of duty.

10. The allowance to the Lambardar for duties connected with the village channel such as arranging that it shall be kept in proper repair, reporting unauthorized irrigation, distributing the water to the shareholders, seeing that the outlet is closed according to the orders of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, and generally assisting the officers of the Irrigation Department, shall be half anna in the rupee on the amount of canal water-rates assessed on the lands irrigated from the village channel under his charge. The Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of the fees under this rule in the event of non-compliance with these conditions.

11. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer may, by written order under section 76 (a), stop the supply to any village channel when he is satisfied, after inspection by himself or by one of his subordinates, that it is not maintained in proper repair; such order shall be recorded in the Sub-Divisional Office.

12. The Divisional Canal Officer may close the outlets in rotation as he may consider necessary. Such closures shall not extend beyond ten consecutive days, and shall be notified to the Lambardars of village channels. For longer closures the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer is required.

13. Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to affect the power of the Superintending or Divisional Canal Officer to stop the supply of water in case of pressing emergency.

14. The water-gauges on distributaries or other channels shall be held to give authoritative data for all calculations of discharge required to verify claims for remission of water-rate on account of loss of water.

15. Claims to remission of water-rates under section 76(b) shall only be admitted on proof of actual loss caused by the stoppage of supply. On proof of such loss, the Divisional Canal Officer may remit the whole or any portion of the rates. All applications for remission of water-rates shall be made in writing by the parties concerned, either in person, or through their headman, to the nearest Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop. On receipt of such application, the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall, after due local enquiry, forward the application with his remarks to the Divisional Canal Officer for decision.

16. Before awarding compensation under section 76(c), the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, and such opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

17. Contracts between the Divisional Canal Officer on the part of Government, and private individuals, for the use of water as a motive power, or for any other purpose whatsoever, not included in the published schedule of rates, shall, if for any period not exceeding one year, require the previous sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer. If proposed for longer periods, such contracts shall be submitted for the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor in the Irrigation Department.

18. Tanks may be filled with canal water without charge, and without reference to the area irrigated in any village, wherever water can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependent on any canal, under the following conditions:—

(a).—No tank shall be so filled unless the water is to be exclusively used for domestic purposes or for watering cattle, or both.

(b).—No tank shall be so filled from which irrigation is practised.

(c).—No tank shall be so filled which, intercepting any line of drainage, is liable to overflow from accumulation of water derived from natural causes.

(d).—No tank shall be so filled except on the written order of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer issued on the written application of the parties concerned.

(e).—No tank shall be so filled unless the village channel used to fill it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer to be in a sound condition when the application is made.

(f).—The privilege herein accorded may, by written order of the Divisional Canal Officer, subject to revision by the Superintending Canal Officer, whose decision shall be final, be suspended for 12 months for breach of any of the above conditions.

19. Leases for terms of five years for the supply of water between the 25th June of one year and the 1st April of the following year will be given at the rates fixed in the Schedule, Rule 33, provided that land leased in any village forms one or more compact blocks, each of not less than 50 acres, defined by well-marked boundaries of such a nature as clearly to distinguish leased from the adjoining unleased lands, and to prevent the latter from being surreptitiously watered under cover of the lease.

20. Well-marked boundaries of the nature required by the foregoing rule generally exist. Village roads, bunds of akrahs, village boundaries, and similar natural marks will be sufficient. If such do not exist, and it appears advisable to grant the lease, the villagers may, at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer, be required to make small bunds round the leased area, or mark its limits by the erection of cheap boundary marks, or cause to be carried out such arrangements as may suffice for the future identification of the leased area.

21. No restriction is placed on the description of crop to be grown under five-year leases, but no water will be given on these leases between the 1st of April and the 25th of June. The Superintending Canal Officer may relax this rule in the case of water being required for rice-seed beds.

22. If in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer it appears advisable to grant a lease for a block of less than 50 acres in area, he must refer the matter for the decision of the Superintending Canal Officer, at whose discretion the restriction as to area may be relaxed.

23. Present holders of three-year leases may at their option avail themselves of the terms offered to the holders of the five-year leases, but without retrospective effect.

24. Leases for five years at the rates entered in Rule 33 may be given—(1) on the application of all the cultivators of the area proposed to be leased, on condition of their agreeing in such application to become jointly and severally responsible for the payment of all amounts due on account of water-rates; or (2) on the joint application of the cultivators and of some person hereinafter called the Contractor, who may agree to collect and pay to Government, under section 82 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, all sums due under the agreement on account of water-rates. The agreement of villagers binding themselves jointly and severally will be in the form prescribed in Appendix C. The joint agreement of villagers and a water-rate Contractor shall be in the form prescribed in Appendix D. Every agreement under this rule must be signed by each applicant in the presence of at least one respectable witness.

25. Contractors shall be entitled to collect water-dues, at the rates given in schedule 4 attached to Rule 33, from the cultivators who have applied for the water supplied. Every due from a cultivator to the Contractor on account of water-rates shall be deemed to be a sum due to Government under sections 82 and 85 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876.

26. A Contractor (or in case there be more than one, each Contractor severally and jointly) shall be responsible for all sums payable on the agreement (Appendix D), except such sums as may be remitted by competent authority under the rules in force, and shall be entitled to a deduction of 5 per cent. for cost of collection.

27. No water shall be taken previous to the receipt of a permit (Appendix B) signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. When an agreement has been made for the collection of the rates by a Contractor, the Divisional Canal Officer shall under section 82 furnish such Contractor with a written authority to collect the amounts due by the cultivators according to a list furnished in the application, one copy of which is to be sent to the Collector.

28. Every Contractor shall nominate a headman, to be approved of by the Divisional Canal Officer, to perform the duties specified in Rule 10. Such headman or the contractor, according to the arrangement made at the time of contract, shall receive 5 per cent. on the assessment, but the Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of these fees if the duties are not properly performed.

29. All water-rates for five years leases leviable under the above leases shall become due on the 31st December and 15th March in equal portions, and shall be paid within one month of such dates.

30. Under section 78 of the Act, the rates chargeable per acre for water supplied to the different description of crops up to 1st of April 1881, except in cases of three year leases now in existence, will be as follow:—

34. The statements of the amounts demandable for water-rates levied under the rules in force shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall from time to time be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor.

35. All water-rates shall become due on the dates below stated, and shall be paid within one month of such dates :—

Water-rate on spring crops, wheat, barley, peas, poppy, &c.	...	15th March.
Water-rate on summer crops, cheena, &c.	...	15th July.
Water-rate on bhadoi crops, early rice, indian-corn, murwa, &c.	...	31st October.
Water-rate on annual and winter crops, sugarcane, aghani rice, jowar, &c.	...	31st December.

36. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the water-rate shall be recoverable from both the cultivator and the person or persons in receipt of the bhaoli rents in the same proportion as the produce is divisible amongst them.

37. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the zemindar shall sign jointly with the cultivators. (This rule only applies to the case of five-year leases.)

38. The area irrigated in any village shall be measured by an Ameen appointed for the purpose. The Putwari shall be present at the measurement, and shall at the time take a copy of the khusrah of the Ameen; if for any reason the Putwari is not present, the cost of preparing the copy will be charged against him. This copy shall be delivered to the Putwari, or, in his absence, to the Lambardar. Both the Lambardar and Putwari shall sign the khusrah.

39. When the measurement is completed, the khusrah shall be forwarded to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, who shall prepare the khatiani with all possible despatch. A copy of the khatiani, signed and sealed by the Zilladar, shall, as soon as it is prepared, be forwarded to the Putwari, who shall grant a receipt for the same. If the Putwari is not present, or declines to receive the khatiani, the Sub-Divisional Officer shall forward it direct to the Collector.

40. It shall be the duty of the Putwari, immediately on the completion of the measurement, to inform each ryot, on application, of the fields measured against him, and on receipt of the khatiani to supply each person charged with a percha showing the water-rates due. For these duties, and for attending the measurement and rendering such other reasonable assistance to the Canal Officer and Collector as may be required, an allowance of one quarter anna per rupee on the amount collected shall be made.

41. This allowance shall be paid to the Putwari by the Collector if he is satisfied that the work has been properly done.

42. The Canal Officer shall note on the khatiani whether the Putwari has given proper assistance during the measurement.

43. If a cultivator is dissatisfied with the entries made against him in the khatiani, whether as to the fact of the land having been charged "flow" instead of "lift" or as to the measurements and entries of classes of crops, he must lodge a complaint, either personally or through the Lambardar of his village channel, with the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer within a month after the date of the demand being made on him.

44. The Zilladar shall submit his check measurements in a form (Appendix E) which shall be sent in for the inspection of the Divisional Canal Officer. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall check the Ameens' measurements as often as he possibly can. If it be found that any ameen wilfully or frequently makes wrong measurements, he shall be punished by dismissal.

45. Collection of all water-rates shall be made by the Collector in accordance with the statement of demands furnished to him by the Divisional Canal Officer.

46. Objections to the demand addressed to the Collector, if preferred within one month after the demand has been made, shall, if remission be claimed on the score of short supply, or of any matter affecting the Irrigation Department, be referred for orders to the Divisional Canal Officer. The Collector shall have discretion to suspend collections by a written order in cases where (objections having been filed) it may seem advisable to do so.

47. Claims for remission, referred by the Collector and admitted by the Divisional Canal Officer, shall be reported by him for the sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer, except in cases where remissions are made on account of excess areas having been charged, or a wrong name entered in the khatiani.

48. If the Divisional Canal Officer reject the claim, an appeal may be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, provided that it is preferred within forty days from the issue of the order of the Divisional Canal Officer.

49. A remission statement, signed by the Superintending or Divisional Canal Officer, shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

50. In special cases not otherwise provided in these rules, and in cases where water-rates are not recoverable owing to the absconding or bankruptcy of the defaulter, the Collector will obtain the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division to the remission of such sums as he may deem irrecoverable. The details of such remission shall be communicated at the close of each official year to the Divisional Canal Officer.

51. The Collector shall appoint a headman (to be called a Tehsildar), whose duty will be to collect and pay in, to the Collector or other duly authorized person, all water-rates leviable on the land irrigated.

52. The Tehsildar shall furnish security for the payment of all sums realized by him, the stamp and registration fees on security bonds being deducted from the percentage allowed, under the following rule.

53. The allowance to the Tehsildars of a village or villages for collecting the water-rates shall be fixed by the Collector, but the total amount to be paid in any one year to all the Tehsildars in a district shall not exceed half an anna in the rupee on the amounts actually paid in. If the Tehsildar shall satisfy the Collector that arrears have not accrued through any negligence on his part, it shall be at the option of the Collector to pay him the allowance on the whole or any part of such arrears.

54. If only a portion of a field be irrigated, the water-rate shall be chargeable on the whole field, unless such portion shall have been clearly demarcated, previous to the admission of the water, by a ridge not less than half a foot high.

55. When a portion of a field has been irrigated with canal water, and a portion with well or reservoir water, the whole field shall be liable for canal water-rate, unless a clearly distinguishable boundary exists between the two portions.

56. If well or reservoir water is conveyed in the same channel as canal water, the whole of the irrigation from that channel shall be liable to canal water-rate. The Lambardar will be held personally responsible that this and any breach of Rules 54 and 55 is duly reported.

57. Irrigation from escape channels, when the supply is permanent, shall be governed by the same rules as irrigation from other parts of the canal.

58. Irrigation from such channels, when the supply is intermittent, may be allowed at such reduced rates as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

59. Persons using water without a written permit, or taking water at times prohibited by proper authority, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding double water-rates on the area irrigated, and such charge shall be leviable at the time of report to the Collector.

60. The charge leviable for water suffered to run to waste on uncultivated lands shall be calculated at the highest rate specified in the schedule, viz. Rs. 5 per acre on the area flooded; provided that in every such case the Divisional Canal Officer may impose a lower rate if he thinks fit. The Lambardar is to be held responsible for reporting such waste of water.

61. When the original crop sown in a field irrigated by canal water fails, and is ploughed up, and a fresh crop is sown in the same season, the water-rates shall be levied on the second crop.

62. No person shall, without the permission in writing of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, pass, or cause any animal or vehicle to pass, on or across any of the works, banks, or channels of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, excepting by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries, and their approaches, as are provided by the Divisional Canal Officer.

63. No Canal Officer, unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operation of this rule, shall have any interest in the distribution of water from any of the canals, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name, or in the name of another, or jointly, or in shares with others.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground

JOHN ELIOT,
Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, BENGAL,
The 17th July 1880.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the East Indian Railway for the month ending 29th May 1880.

EAST INDIAN RAILWAY. TRAFFIC MANAGER'S OFFICE, JAMALPORE. THE 10TH JULY 1880.

Remarks on Traffic of East Indian Railway for the month ending 29th May 1880.

The approximate figures for the period are as follow :—

	Coaching.		Goods		Total.
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.
1880	848,210	10,04,904	67,04,512	28,16,740	38,21,644
1879	825,919	9,03,165	78,61,004	30,43,091	45,37,156
Increase	22,291	11,703
Decrease	10,07,192	7,27,311	7,15,509

The increase in the coaching traffic is due to ordinary causes which do not need any special remark. In goods the receipts have fallen 20 per cent., and this result is due entirely to the stagnation of business in Calcutta. The principal items which make up the loss of over 7 lakhs are :—

	Rs.
Cotton	3,16,000
Other grains and pulses	1,88,000
Seeds	1,65,000
Piece-goods	55,000
Salt	41,000
Total	7,65,000

The continued depression in cotton for the European markets has caused a large falling off in the despatch of screwed cotton from all our stations.

With regard to other grains the bountiful harvest in the Western Presidency last autumn have fully supplied all demands, and the large traffic in millet we had in 1878-79 contrasts unfavourably with our figures for this year.

In seeds.—The falling off is chiefly in the traffic from Cawnpore, the low prices in Calcutta not permitting of any profit being made after railway conveyance of 684 miles. The seed crop was a plentiful one, but demand appears to be weak and exports from Calcutta very small.

Piece-goods.—The Calcutta market during May is reported to have been unusually dull, and uncertainty has had the effect of stopping business. The movement of piece-goods to up-country markets has been very small. Doubtless this state of things will improve now that the rainy season has set in in the North-West.

Salt.—There is a decrease here of 6,900 tons and Rs. 41,000, which has arisen principally in Farrucknuggur salt via Delhi, Liverpool salt via Howrah, and Kharragora salt via Jubbulpore. The reason seems to be the absence of demand in consequence of previous supplies having been large and dealers holding out for higher prices.

This will doubtless right itself before long.

The only other decrease calling for remark is—

Jaggree	...	Mds.	90,100	Rs.	27,280

but this is to some extent counterbalanced by an increase in sugar of mounds 22,930 and Rs. 14,220.

The production of a better class of sugar in the districts of Shahabad, Patna, Gazeepore, and the North-West is rapidly on the increase, and the exportation of the refuse sugar called jaggree or shukker has consequently fallen off.

Increase

Are apparent in—

Coal, up and down.	Wheat.
	Sugar.

Coal	...	Mds.	1,68,560	Rs.	26,700
------	-----	------	----------	-----	--------

There has been an increase in public coal to Howrah and to Gazeabad for the N. P. and D. and the Punjab Northern State Railways. That to Howrah seems to have been the usual effort to secure stocks before the setting in of the rains, but towards the end of the month the despatches from the coal districts fell off largely and are now only nominal.

The traffic on the Punjab lines having increased, caused a corresponding demand for coal.

Wheat	...	Mds.	1,71,460	Rs.	1,00,000
-------	-----	------	----------	-----	----------

This shows an increase of 30 per cent. in weight and 58 per cent. in earnings over 1879, and decrease of 10 per cent. in weight and 26 per cent. in earnings as compared with 1878.

There has been a considerable improvement in the business done in Calcutta during May owing to lower prices having attracted demand in England. The quality, however, is said to be inferior to last year's samples.

Sugar	...	Mds.	22,930	Rs.	14,220
-------	-----	------	--------	-----	--------

I have remarked on this under the head of jaggree. The last crop of sugarcane was unusually good, and it will be seen that our earnings from this staple have been on the increase for some time past.

The train mileage for the period has been—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.
1880	229,912	5,01,539	7,50,451
1879	251,122	6,59,404	9,18,826
Increase
Decrease	20,210	1,29,865	1,50,375

Earnings per train mile—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
1880	4 5 11	5 5 1	5 0 6
1879	3 13 3	5 6 0	4 15 0
Increase
Decrease	0 8 8	0 0 11	0 7 6

It will be seen that notwithstanding the large falling off in the traffic, the earnings per train mile have not been affected injuriously.

Shunting mileage. Increase, 481 hours.

This increase is chiefly at Giridi coal-fields.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of June 1880.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The net increase during the month under review stands at 36,428 maunds. 39,746 maunds out of the 40,042 maunds shown as "decrease in 1880" in the statement at foot is under the two heads of Jute and Railway material.

The decrease in the weight of jute lifted this month, as compared with the corresponding month of last year, is, as explained in April's report, caused by the crop having been almost wholly bought up and despatched to the Port early in the season in order to take advantage of the high prices ruling.

The falling-off in Railway material is due to a slight cessation in the despatch of Tramway material.

Increases.

Ale Mds. 100

The traffic in this article is regulated by the Commissariat despatches. The decrease in the two previous months will account for the increase this month.

Food-grain Mds. 21,213

There has been a good demand for the common description of rice during the month for shipment, and prices have been slightly in favour of sellers. If the present demand and prices remain stationary, the traffic in this staple will probably keep up in spite of the country-boat competition which, with the setting in of the rains, may now be looked for.

Gunny-bags Mds. 461

Early in the month a stand was made by the Calcutta Mills for a higher rate for machine-made bags, and this at once resulted in hand-made bags being resorted to.

Piece-goods Mds. 1,176

This increase is an unlooked for one: At this time of the year, when the difficulty of carting to and from our stations owing to the state of the roads and the risk of damage by wet, a large falling-off might reasonably have been expected.

Salt Mds. 13,010

In spite of the low rate which this staple is now being carried, the traffic is (as was the case last year) being slightly affected by several of our important stations being tapped by water communication.

Last month 40,102 maunds were carried, whereas this month the weight has fallen to 30,989 maunds. The increase, however, in the weight lifted during the month, as compared with June 1879, is a proof that the low rate is gradually undermining the country-boat traffic.

Tea Mds. 1,437

This increase is solely due to the much larger quantity of tea that is being produced this year as compared with the last.

Tobacco Mds. 24,275

The remarks under the head of salt (as to the effect of the low rates on the boat traffic) also apply to the traffic in this staple.

There has not been more tobacco produced, but the Railway has got a much larger share of it.

All other goods Mds. 14,798

The through traffic in the various commodities carried under this head keeps very steady.

Decreases.

The two principal of these have been dealt with in general remarks. Those under the head of ginger, 281 maunds, and salt, 15 maunds, are scarcely worthy of notice.

IRRIGATION.

DRAFT RULES PROPOSED UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1876.

Dated the 20th July 1880.

No. 102.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following rules for the Sonc Canals which it is proposed to substitute for the rules passed and published at pages 761 to 767, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 23rd July 1879.

C. TAYLOR,

*Offg. Asst. Secy., for Joint-Secy.
to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.,
Irrigation Branch.*

RULES UNDER ACT III (B.C.) 1876.

1. The Collector, before awarding compensation under section 16, or for making a reference under section 17 of the Act, shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

2. Persons desirous of acquiring land for the construction of a village channel, or for having a village channel constructed by Canal Agency, shall prefer a written application to the Divisional Canal Officer, or to any other officer duly authorized by him to receive such application.

3. Ordinarily, no village channel shall exceed two miles in length from its head to the point of contact with the village boundary.

4. It shall be the duty of the Canal Officer to register all village channels after due notice has been given to the owner of his intention to do so; if the latter objects, no water will be given.

5. No alteration among the shareholders will be recognized, unless the sanction of the Canal Officer has been first obtained.

6. Persons desirous of taking water from a registered village channel shall, previous to doing so, prefer a written application (Appendix A) to the Divisional Canal Officer, Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, or any subordinate duly authorized by the Divisional Canal Officer to receive such application; and no water shall be taken until after the receipt of a permit (Appendix B) from competent authority.

7. Water shall not be granted where, in the opinion of the Canal Officer, waste is likely to occur.

8. An application under Rule 6 shall, if granted, and unless otherwise specially agreed upon, be subject to the following conditions:—

(a)—That the water supplied shall not be used for other purposes than irrigation without the written consent of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer.

(b)—That the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall, in consultation with the applicants, appoint a headman (to be called a Lambardar), known, or ascertained to be, a substantial person possessed of property, to attend to their interests, to receive and carry out the orders of the Canal Officers, and to distribute the water among the shareholders in the village channel according to their shares.

(c)—That in any case where the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer cannot agree with the applicants in the appointment of a Lambardar, the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall make the appointment himself, subject to the approval of the Divisional Canal Officer.

9. The Divisional Canal Officer is empowered to pay to the Lambardar appointed under Rule 81, the fees detailed in the rule next following, subject to the condition of satisfactory performance of duty.

10. The allowance to the Lambardar for duties connected with the village channel such as arranging that it shall be kept in proper repair, reporting unauthorized irrigation, distributing the water to the shareholders, seeing that the outlet is closed according to the orders of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, and generally assisting the officers of the Irrigation Department, shall be half anna in the rupee on the amount of canal water-rates assessed on the lands irrigated from the village channel under his charge. The Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of the fees under this rule in the event of non-compliance with these conditions.

11. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer may, by written order under section 76 (a), stop the supply to any village channel when he is satisfied, after inspection by himself or by one of his subordinates, that it is not maintained in proper repair; such order shall be recorded in the Sub-Divisional Office.

12. The Divisional Canal Officer may close the outlets in rotation as he may consider necessary. Such closures shall not extend beyond ten consecutive days, and shall be notified to the Lambardars of village channels. For longer closures the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer is required.

13. Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to affect the power of the Superintending or Divisional Canal Officer to stop the supply of water in case of pressing emergency.

14. The water-gauges on distributaries or other channels shall be held to give authoritative data for all calculations of discharge required to verify claims for remission of water-rate on account of loss of water.

15. Claims to remission of water-rates under section 76(b) shall only be admitted on proof of actual loss caused by the stoppage of supply. On proof of such loss, the Divisional Canal Officer may remit the whole or any portion of the rates. All applications for remission of water-rates shall be made in writing by the parties concerned, either in person, or through their headman, to the nearest Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop. On receipt of such application, the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall, after due local enquiry, forward the application with his remarks to the Divisional Canal Officer for decision.

16. Before awarding compensation under section 76(c), the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, and such opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

17. Contracts between the Divisional Canal Officer on the part of Government, and private individuals, for the use of water as a motive power, or for any other purpose whatsoever, not included in the published schedule of rates, shall, if for any period not exceeding one year, require the previous sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer. If proposed for longer periods, such contracts shall be submitted for the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor in the Irrigation Department.

18. Tanks may be filled with canal water without charge, and without reference to the area irrigated in any village, wherever water can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependent on any canal, under the following conditions:—

(a.)—No tank shall be so filled unless the water is to be exclusively used for domestic purposes or for watering cattle, or both.

(b.)—No tank shall be so filled from which irrigation is practised.

(c.)—No tank shall be so filled which, intercepting any line of drainage, is liable to overflow from accumulation of water derived from natural causes.

(d.)—No tank shall be so filled except on the written order of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer issued on the written application of the parties concerned.

(e.)—No tank shall be so filled unless the village channel used to fill it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer to be in a sound condition when the application is made.

(f.)—The privilege herein accorded may, by written order of the Divisional Canal Officer, subject to revision by the Superintending Canal Officer, whose decision shall be final, be suspended for 12 months for breach of any of the above conditions.

19. Leases for terms of five years for the supply of water between the 25th June of one year and the 1st April of the following year will be given at the rates fixed in the Schedule, Rule 33, provided that land leased in any village forms one or more compact blocks, each of not less than 50 acres, defined by well-marked boundaries of such a nature as clearly to distinguish leased from the adjoining unleased lands, and to prevent the latter from being surreptitiously watered under cover of the lease.

20. Well-marked boundaries of the nature required by the foregoing rule generally exist. Village roads, bunds of akrahs, village boundaries, and similar natural marks will be sufficient. If such do not exist, and it appears advisable to grant the lease, the villagers may, at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer, be required to make small bunds round the leased area, or mark its limits by the erection of cheap boundary marks, or cause to be carried out such arrangements as may suffice for the future identification of the leased area.

21. No restriction is placed on the description of crop to be grown under five-year leases, but no water will be given on these leases between the 1st of April and the 25th of June. The Superintending Canal Officer may relax this rule in the case of water being required for rice-seed beds.

22. If in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer it appears advisable to grant a lease for a block of less than 50 acres in area, he must refer the matter for the decision of the Superintending Canal Officer, at whose discretion the restriction as to area may be relaxed.

23. Present holders of three-year leases may at their option avail themselves of the terms offered to the holders of the five-year leases, but without retrospective effect.

24. Leases for five years at the rates entered in Rule 33 may be given—(1) on the application of all the cultivators of the area proposed to be leased, on condition of their agreeing in such application to become jointly and severally responsible for the payment of all amounts due on account of water-rates; or (2) on the joint application of the cultivators and of some person hereinafter called the Contractor, who may agree to collect and pay to Government, under section 82 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, all sums due under the agreement on account of water-rates. The agreement of villagers binding themselves jointly and severally will be in the form prescribed in Appendix C. The joint agreement of villagers and a water-rate Contractor shall be in the form prescribed in Appendix D. Every agreement under this rule must be signed by each applicant in the presence of at least one respectable witness.

25. Contractors shall be entitled to collect water-dues, at the rates given in schedule 4 attached to Rule 33, from the cultivators who have applied for the water supplied. Every due from a cultivator to the Contractor on account of water-rates shall be deemed to be a sum due to Government under sections 82 and 85 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876.

26. A Contractor (or in case there be more than one, each Contractor severally and jointly) shall be responsible for all sums payable on the agreement (Appendix D), except such sums as may be remitted by competent authority under the rules in force, and shall be entitled to a deduction of 5 per cent. for cost of collection.

27. No water shall be taken previous to the receipt of a permit (Appendix B) signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. When an agreement has been made for the collection of the rates by a Contractor, the Divisional Canal Officer shall under section 82 furnish such Contractor with a written authority to collect the amounts due by the cultivators according to a list furnished in the application, one copy of which is to be sent to the Collector.

28. Every Contractor shall nominate a headman, to be approved of by the Divisional Canal Officer, to perform the duties specified in Rule 10. Such headman or the contractor, according to the arrangement made at the time of contract, shall receive 5 per cent. on the assessment, but the Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of these fees if the duties are not properly performed.

29. All water-rates for five years leases leviable under the above leases shall become due on the 31st December and 15th March in equal portions, and shall be paid within one month of such dates.

30. Under section 78 of the Act, the rates chargeable per acre for water supplied to the different description of crops up to 1st of April 1881, except in cases of three-year leases now in existence, will be as follow:—

34. The statements of the amounts demandable for water-rates levied under the rules in force shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall from time to time be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor.

35. All water-rates shall become due on the dates below stated, and shall be paid within one month of such dates :—

Water-rate on spring crops, wheat, barley, peas, poppy, &c. ...	15th March.
Water-rate on summer crops, cheena, &c. ...	15th July.
Water-rate on bhadoi crops, early rice, indian-corn, murwa, &c. ...	31st October.
Water-rate on annual and winter crops, sugarcane, aghani rice, jowar, &c. ...	31st December.

36. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the water-rate shall be recoverable from both the cultivator and the person or persons in receipt of the bhaoli rents in the same proportion as the produce is divisible amongst them.

37. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the zemindar shall sign jointly with the cultivators. (This rule only applies to the case of five-year leases.)

38. The area irrigated in any village shall be measured by an Ameen appointed for the purpose. The Putwari shall be present at the measurement, and shall at the time take a copy of the khusrah of the Ameen; if for any reason the Putwari is not present, the cost of preparing the copy will be charged against him. This copy shall be delivered to the Putwari, or, in his absence, to the Lambardar. Both the Lambardar and Putwari shall sign the khusrah.

39. When the measurement is completed, the khusrah shall be forwarded to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, who shall prepare the khatiani with all possible despatch. A copy of the khatiani, signed and sealed by the Zilladar, shall, as soon as it is prepared, be forwarded to the Putwari, who shall grant a receipt for the same. If the Putwari is not present, or declines to receive the khatiani, the Sub-Divisional Officer shall forward it direct to the Collector.

40. It shall be the duty of the Putwari, immediately on the completion of the measurement, to inform each ryot, on application, of the fields measured against him, and on receipt of the khatiani to supply each person charged with a percha showing the water-rates due. For these duties, and for attending the measurement and rendering such other reasonable assistance to the Canal Officer and Collector as may be required, an allowance of one quarter anna per rupee on the amount collected shall be made.

41. This allowance shall be paid to the Putwari by the Collector if he is satisfied that the work has been properly done.

42. The Canal Officer shall note on the khatiani whether the Putwari has given proper assistance during the measurement.

43. If a cultivator is dissatisfied with the entries made against him in the khatiani, whether as to the fact of the land having been charged “flow” instead of “lift” or as to the measurements and entries of classes of crops, he must lodge a complaint, either personally or through the Lambardar of his village channel, with the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer within a month after the date of the demand being made on him.

44. The Zilladar shall submit his check measurements in a form (Appendix E) which shall be sent in for the inspection of the Divisional Canal Officer. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall check the Ameens' measurements as often as he possibly can. If it be found that any ameen wilfully or frequently makes wrong measurements, he shall be punished by dismissal.

45. Collection of all water-rates shall be made by the Collector in accordance with the statement of demands furnished to him by the Divisional Canal Officer.

46. Objections to the demand addressed to the Collector, if preferred within one month after the demand has been made, shall, if remission be claimed on the score of short supply, or of any matter affecting the Irrigation Department, be referred for orders to the Divisional Canal Officer. The Collector shall have discretion to suspend collections by a written order in cases where (objections having been filed) it may seem advisable to do so.

47. Claims for remission, referred by the Collector and admitted by the Divisional Canal Officer, shall be reported by him for the sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer, except in cases where remissions are made on account of excess areas having been charged, or a wrong name entered in the khatiani.

48. If the Divisional Canal Officer reject the claim, an appeal may be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, provided that it is preferred within forty days from the issue of the order of the Divisional Canal Officer.

49. A remission statement, signed by the Superintending or Divisional Canal Officer, shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

50. In special cases not otherwise provided in these rules, and in cases where water-rates are not recoverable owing to the absconding or bankruptcy of the defaulter, the Collector will obtain the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division to the remission of such sums as he may deem irrecoverable. The details of such remission shall be communicated at the close of each official year to the Divisional Canal Officer.

51. The Collector shall appoint a headman (to be called a Tehsildar), whose duty will be to collect and pay in, to the Collector or other duly authorized person, all water-rates leviable on the land irrigated.

52. The Tehsildar shall furnish security for the payment of all sums realized by him, the stamp and registration fees on security bonds being deducted from the percentage allowed, under the following rule.

53. The allowance to the Tehsildars of a village or villages for collecting the water-rates shall be fixed by the Collector, but the total amount to be paid in any one year to all the Tehsildars in a district shall not exceed half an anna in the rupee on the amounts actually paid in. If the Tehsildar shall satisfy the Collector that arrears have not accrued through any negligence on his part, it shall be at the option of the Collector to pay him the allowance on the whole or any part of such arrears.

54. If only a portion of a field be irrigated, the water-rate shall be chargeable on the whole field, unless such portion shall have been clearly demarcated, previous to the admission of the water, by a ridge not less than half a foot high.

55. When a portion of a field has been irrigated with canal water, and a portion with well or reservoir water, the whole field shall be liable for canal water-rate, unless a clearly distinguishable boundary exists between the two portions.

56. If well or reservoir water is conveyed in the same channel as canal water, the whole of the irrigation from that channel shall be liable to canal water-rate. The Lambardar will be held personally responsible that this and any breach of Rules 54 and 55 is duly reported.

57. Irrigation from escape channels, when the supply is permanent, shall be governed by the same rules as irrigation from other parts of the canal.

58. Irrigation from such channels, when the supply is intermittent, may be allowed at such reduced rates as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

59. Persons using water without a written permit, or taking water at times prohibited by proper authority, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding double water-rates on the area irrigated, and such charge shall be leviable at the time of report to the Collector.

60. The charge leviable for water suffered to run to waste on uncultivated lands shall be calculated at the highest rate specified in the schedule, viz. Rs. 5 per acre on the area flooded; provided that in every such case the Divisional Canal Officer may impose a lower rate if he thinks fit. The Lambardar is to be held responsible for reporting such waste of water.

61. When the original crop sown in a field irrigated by canal water fails, and is ploughed up, and a fresh crop is sown in the same season, the water-rates shall be levied on the second crop.

62. No person shall, without the permission in writing of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, pass, or cause any animal or vehicle to pass, on or across any of the works, banks, or channels of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, excepting by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries, and their approaches, as are provided by the Divisional Canal Officer.

63. No Canal Officer, unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operation of this rule, shall have any interest in the distribution of water from any of the canals, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name, or in the name of another, or jointly, or in shares with others.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the barograph and thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, BENGAL,
The 17th July 1880.

JOHN ELIOT,
Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the East Indian Railway for the month ending 29th May 1880.

EAST INDIAN RAILWAY. TRAFFIC MANAGER'S OFFICE, JAMALPORE, THE 10TH JULY 1880.

Remarks on Traffic of East Indian Railway for the month ending 29th May 1880.

The approximate figures for the period are as follow :—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.
1880	848,810	10,04,884	67,64,512	28,16,780	38,21,664
1879	826,819	9,93,165	78,61,694	36,43,901	46,37,166
Increase	22,991	11,708
Decrease	16,97,183	7,37,211	7,16,508

The increase in the coaching traffic is due to ordinary causes which do not need any special remark. In goods the receipts have fallen 20 per cent., and this result is due entirely to the stagnation of business in Calcutta. The principal items which make up the loss of over 7 lakhs are :—

	Rs.
Cotton	3,16,000
Other grains and pulses	1,88,000
Seeds	1,66,000
Piece-goods	65,000
Salt	41,000
Total	7,65,000

The continued depression in cotton for the European markets has caused a large falling off in the despatch of screwed cotton from all our stations.

With regard to other grains the bountiful harvests in the Western Presidency last autumn have fully supplied all demands, and the large traffic in millets we had in 1878-79 contrasts unfavourably with our figures for this year.

In seeds.—The falling off is chiefly in the traffic from Cawnpore, the low prices in Calcutta not permitting of any profit being made after railway conveyance of 684 miles. The seed crop was a plentiful one, but demand appears to be weak and exports from Calcutta very small.

Piece-goods.—The Calcutta market during May is reported to have been unusually dull, and uncertainty has had the effect of stopping business. The movement of piece-goods to up-country markets has been very small. Doubtless this state of things will improve now that the rainy season has set in in the North-West.

Salt.—There is a decrease here of 6,900 tons and Rs. 41,000, which has arisen principally in Farrucknuggur salt via Delhi, Liverpool salt via Howrah, and Kharragora salt via Jubbulpore. The reason seems to be the absence of demand in consequence of previous supplies having been large and dealers holding out for higher prices.

This will doubtless right itself before long.

The only other decrease calling for remark is—

this is to some extent counterbalanced by an increase in sugar of maunds 22,930 and Rs. 14,220.

The production of a better class of sugar in the districts of Shahabad, Patna, Gazeepore, and the North-West is rapidly on the increase, and the exportation of the refuse sugar called jaggree or shukker has consequently fallen off.

Increases

Are apparent in—

Coal, up and down. | Wheat.
Sugar.

Coal Mds. 1,08,560 Rs. 26,700

There has been an increase in public coal to Howrah and to Gazeenabad for the S. P. and D. and the Punjab Northern State Railways. That to Howrah seems to have been the usual effort to secure stocks before the setting in of the rains, but towards the end of the month the despatches from the coal districts fell off largely and are now only nominal.

The traffic on the Punjab lines having increased, caused a corresponding demand for coal.

Wheat Mds. 1,71,460 Rs. 1,09,000

This shows an increase of 30 per cent. in weight, and 58 per cent. in earnings over 1879, and decrease of 10 per cent. in weight and 26 per cent. in earnings as compared with 1878.

There has been a considerable improvement in the business done in Calcutta during May owing to lower prices having attracted demand in England. The quality, however, is said to be inferior to last year's samples.

Sugar Mds. 22,930 Rs. 14,220

I have remarked on this under the head of jaggree. The last crop of sugarcane was unusually good, and it will be seen that our earnings from this staple have been on the increase for some time past.

The train mileage for the period has been—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.
	No.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1880	229,912	5,29,539	7,50,451
1879	251,423	6,59,404	9,18,826
Increase
Decreases	29,510	1,29,265	1,59,376

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
1880	4 5 11	5 5 1	5 0 8
1879	3 13 3	5 8 0	4 15 0
Increase
Decreases	0 8 8	0 0 11	0 1 6

It will be seen that notwithstanding the large falling off in the traffic, the earnings per train mile have not been affected injuriously.

Shunting mileage. Increase, 481 hours.

This increase is chiefly at Giridi coal-fields.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of June 1880.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The net increase during the month under review stands at 36,428 maunds. 39,746 maunds out of the 40,042 maunds shown as "decrease in 1880" in the statement at foot is under the two heads of Jute and Railway material.

The decrease in the weight of jute lifted this month, as compared with the corresponding month of last year, is, as explained in April's report, caused by the crop having been almost wholly bought up and despatched to the Port early in the season in order to take advantage of the high prices ruling.

The falling-off in Railway material is due to a slight cessation in the despatch of Tramway material.

Increases.

Als Mds. 100

The traffic in this article is regulated by the Commissariat despatches. The decrease in the two previous months will account for the increase this month.

Food-grain Mds. 21,213

There has been a good demand for the common description of rice during the month for shipment, and prices have been slightly in favour of sellers. If the present demand and prices remain stationary, the traffic in this staple will probably keep up in spite of the country-boat competition which, with the setting in of the rains, may now be looked for.

Gunny-bags Mds. 461

Early in the month a stand was made by the Calcutta Mills for a higher rate for machine-made bags, and this at once resulted in hand-made bags being resorted to.

Piece-goods Mds. 1,176

This increase is an unlooked for one: At this time of the year, when the difficulty of carting to and from our stations owing to the state of the roads and the risk of damage by wet, a large falling-off might reasonably have been expected.

Salt Mds. 18,010

In spite of the low rate at which this staple is now being carried, the traffic is (as was the case last year) being slightly affected by several of our important stations being tapped by water communication.

Last month 40,103 maunds were carried, whereas this month the weight has fallen to 30,989 maunds. The increase, however, in the weight lifted during the month, as compared with June 1879, is a proof that the low rate is gradually undermining the country-boat traffic.

Tea Mds. 1,437

This increase is solely due to the much larger quantity of tea that is being produced this year as compared with the last.

Tobacco Mds. 24,276

The remarks under the head of salt (as to the effect of the low rates on the boat traffic) also apply to the traffic in this staple.

There has not been more tobacco produced, but the Railway has got a much larger share of it.

All other goods Mds. 14,798

The through traffic in the various commodities carried under this head keeps very steady.

Decreases.

The two principal of these have been dealt with in general remarks. Those under the head of ginger, 281 maunds, and sugar, 15 maunds, are scarcely worthy of notice.

Increase	22,391	11,703
Decrease	10,07,183	7,27,211	7,15,508

The increase in the coaching traffic is due to ordinary causes which do not need any special remark. In goods the receipts have fallen 20 per cent., and this result is due entirely to the stagnation of business in Calcutta. The principal items which make up the loss of over 7 lakhs are :—

	Rs.
Cotton	3,16,000
Other grains and pulses	1,88,000
Seeds	1,65,000
Piece-goods	55,000
Salt	41,000
Total	7,65,000

The continued depression in cotton for the European markets has caused a large falling off in the despatch of screwed cotton from all our stations.

With regard to other grains the bountiful harvests in the Western Presidency last autumn have fully supplied all demands, and the large traffic in millet we had in 1878-79 contrasts unfavourably with our figures for this year.

In seeds.—The falling off is chiefly in the traffic from Cawnpore, the low prices in Calcutta not permitting of any profit being made after railway conveyance of 684 miles. The seed crop was a plentiful one, but demand appears to be weak and exports from Calcutta very small.

Piece-goods.—The Calcutta market during May is reported to have been unusually dull, and uncertainty has had the effect of stopping business. The movement of piece-goods to up-country markets has been very small. Doubtless this state of things will improve now that the rainy season has set in in the North-West.

Salt.—There is a decrease here of 6,900 tons and Rs. 41,000, which has arisen principally in Farrucknuggur salt via Delhi, Liverpool salt via Howrah, and Kharragora salt via Jubbulpore. The reason seems to be the absence of demand in consequence of previous supplies having been large and dealers holding out for higher prices.

This will doubtless right itself before long.

The only other decrease calling for remark is—

but this is to some extent counterbalanced by an increase in sugar of maunds 22,930 and Rs. 14,220.

The production of a better class of sugar in the districts of Shahabad, Patna, Gazeepore, and the North-West is rapidly on the increase, and the exportation of the refuse sugar called jaggree or shukker has consequently fallen off.

Increases

Are apparent in—

Coal, up and down. | Wheat.

Sugar.

------	-------	------	----------	-----	--------

There has been an increase in public coal to Howrah and to Ghazabad for the S. P. and D. and the Punjab Northern State Railways. That to Howrah seems to have been the usual effort to secure stocks before the setting in of the rains, but towards the end of the month the despatches from the coal districts fell off largely and are now only nominal.

The traffic on the Punjab lines having increased, caused a corresponding demand for coal.

-------	-------	------	----------	-----	----------

This shows an increase of 30 per cent. in weight and 58 per cent. in earnings over 1879, and decrease of 10 per cent. in weight and 26 per cent. in earnings as compared with 1878.

There has been a considerable improvement in the business done in Calcutta during May owing to lower prices having attracted demand in England. The quality, however, is said to be inferior to last year's samples.

-------	-------	------	--------	-----	--------

I have remarked on this under the head of jaggree. The last crop of sugarcane was unusually good, and it will be seen that our earnings from this staple have been on the increase for some time past.

The train mileage for the period has been—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.
1880	229,012	5,29,539	7,59,451
1879	251,122	6,59,401	9,18,826

Earnings per train mile—

1880	4	5	5	5	5
1879	3	13	5	0	4
Decrease	0	0	1

It will be seen that notwithstanding the large falling off in the traffic, the earnings per train mile have not been affected injuriously.

Shunting mileage. Increase, 481 hours.

This increase is chiefly at Giridi coal-fields.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of June 1880.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The net increase during the month under review stands at 36,428 maunds. 39,746 maunds out of the 40,042 maunds shown as "decrease in 1880" in the statement at foot is under the two heads of Jute and Railway material.

The decrease in the weight of jute lifted this month, as compared with the corresponding month of last year, is, as explained in April's report, caused by the crop having been almost wholly bought up and despatched to the Port early in the season in order to take advantage of the high prices ruling.

The falling-off in Railway material is due to a slight cessation in the despatch of Tramway material.

Increases.

Ale ... Mds. 100

The traffic in this article is regulated by the Commissariat despatches. The decrease in the two previous months will account for the increase this month.

Food-grain ... Mds. 21,213

There has been a good demand for the common description of rice during the month for shipment, and prices have been slightly in favour of sellers. If the present demand and prices remain stationary, the traffic in this staple will probably keep up in spite of the country-boat competition which, with the setting in of the rains, may now be looked for.

Gunny-bags ... Mds. 461

Early in the month a stand was made by the Calcutta Mills for a higher rate for machine-made bags, and this at once resulted in hand-made bags being resorted to.

Piece-goods ... Mds. 1,176

This increase is an unlooked for one: At this time of the year, when the difficulty of carting to and from our stations owing to the state of the roads and the risk of damage by wet, a large falling-off might reasonably have been expected.

Salt ... Mds. 13,010

In spite of the low rate at which this staple is now being carried, the traffic is (as was the case last year) being slightly affected by several of our important stations being tapped by water communication.

Last month 40,102 maunds were carried, whereas this month the weight has fallen to 30,989 maunds. The increase, however, in the weight lifted during the month, as compared with June 1879, is a proof that the low rate is gradually undermining the country-boat traffic.

Tea ... Mds. 1,437

This increase is solely due to the much larger quantity of tea that is being produced this year as compared with the last.

Tobacco ... Mds. 24,275

The remarks under the head of salt (as to the effect of the low rates on the boat traffic) also apply to the traffic in this staple.

There has not been more tobacco produced, but the Railway has got a much larger share of it.

All other goods ... Mds. 14,798

The through traffic in the various commodities carried under this head keeps very steady.

Decreases.

The two principal of these have been dealt with in general remarks. Those under the head of ginger, 261 maunds, and sugar, 15 maunds, are scarcely worthy of notice.

DRAFT RULES PROPOSED UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1876.

Dated the 20th July 1880.

No. 102.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following rules for the Sone Canals which it is proposed to substitute for the rules passed and published at pages 761 to 767, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 23rd July 1879.

C. TAYLOR,

*Offg. Asst. Secy., for Joint-Secy.
to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.,
Irrigation Branch.*

RULES UNDER ACT III (B.C.) 1876.

1. The Collector, before awarding compensation under section 16, or for making a reference under section 17 of the Act, shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

2. Persons desirous of acquiring land for the construction of a village channel, or for having a village channel constructed by Canal Agency, shall prefer a written application to the Divisional Canal Officer, or to any other officer duly authorized by him to receive such application.

3. Ordinarily, no village channel shall exceed two miles in length from its head to the point of contact with the village boundary.

4. It shall be the duty of the Canal Officer to register all village channels after due notice has been given to the owner of his intention to do so; if the latter objects, no water will be given.

5. No alteration among the shareholders will be recognized, unless the sanction of the Canal Officer has been first obtained.

6. Persons desirous of taking water from a registered village channel shall, previous to doing so, prefer a written application (Appendix A) to the Divisional Canal Officer, Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, or any subordinate duly authorized by the Divisional Canal Officer to receive such application; and no water shall be taken until after the receipt of a permit (Appendix B) from competent authority.

7. Water shall not be granted where, in the opinion of the Canal Officer, waste is likely to occur.

8. An application under Rule 6 shall, if granted, and unless otherwise specially agreed upon, be subject to the following conditions:—

(a)—That the water supplied shall not be used for other purposes than irrigation without the written consent of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer.

(b)—That the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall, in consultation with the applicants, appoint a headman (to be called a Lambardar), known, or ascertained to be, a substantial person possessed of property, to attend to their interests, to receive and carry out the orders of the Canal Officers, and to distribute the water among the shareholders in the village channel according to their shares.

(c)—That in any case where the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer cannot agree with the applicants in the appointment of a Lambardar, the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall make the appointment himself, subject to the approval of the Divisional Canal Officer.

9. The Divisional Canal Officer is empowered to pay to the Lambardar appointed under Rule 81, the fees detailed in the rule next following, subject to the condition of satisfactory performance of duty.

10. The allowance to the Lambardar for duties connected with the village channel such as arranging that it shall be kept in proper repair, reporting unauthorized irrigation, distributing the water to the shareholders, seeing that the outlet is closed according to the orders of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, and generally assisting the officers of the Irrigation Department, shall be half anna in the rupee on the amount of canal water-rates assessed on the lands irrigated from the village channel under his charge. The Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of the fees under this rule in the event of non-compliance with these conditions.

11. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer may, by written order under section 76 (a), stop the supply to any village channel when he is satisfied, after inspection by himself or by one of his subordinates, that it is not maintained in proper repair; such order shall be recorded in the Sub-Divisional Office.

12. The Divisional Canal Officer may close the outlets in rotation as he may consider necessary. Such closures shall not extend beyond ten consecutive days, and shall be notified to the Lambardars of village channels. For longer closures the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer is required.

13. Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to affect the power of the Superintending or Divisional Canal Officer to stop the supply of water in case of pressing emergency.

14. The water-gauges on distributaries or other channels shall be held to give authoritative data for all calculations of discharge required to verify claims for remission of water-rate on account of loss of water.

15. Claims to remission of water-rates under section 76(b) shall only be admitted on proof of actual loss caused by the stoppage of supply. On proof of such loss, the Divisional Canal Officer may remit the whole or any portion of the rates. All applications for remission of water-rates shall be made in writing by the parties concerned, either in person, or through their headman, to the nearest Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop. On receipt of such application, the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall, after due local enquiry, forward the application with his remarks to the Divisional Canal Officer for decision.

16. Before awarding compensation under section 76(c), the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, and such opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

17. Contracts between the Divisional Canal Officer on the part of Government, and private individuals, for the use of water as a motive power, or for any other purpose whatsoever, not included in the published schedule of rates, shall, if for any period not exceeding one year, require the previous sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer. If proposed for longer periods, such contracts shall be submitted for the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor in the Irrigation Department.

18. Tanks may be filled with canal water without charge, and without reference to the area irrigated in any village, wherever water can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependent on any canal, under the following conditions:—

(a.)—No tank shall be so filled unless the water is to be exclusively used for domestic purposes or for watering cattle, or both.

(b.)—No tank shall be so filled from which irrigation is practised.

(c.)—No tank shall be so filled which, intercepting any line of drainage, is liable to overflow from accumulation of water derived from natural causes.

(d.)—No tank shall be so filled except on the written order of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer issued on the written application of the parties concerned.

(e.)—No tank shall be so filled unless the village channel used to fill it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer to be in a sound condition when the application is made.

(f.)—The privilege herein accorded may, by written order of the Divisional Canal Officer, subject to revision by the Superintending Canal Officer, whose decision shall be final, be suspended for 12 months for breach of any of the above conditions.

19. Leases for terms of five years for the supply of water between the 25th June of one year and the 1st April of the following year will be given at the rates fixed in the Schedule, Rule 33, provided that land leased in any village forms one or more compact blocks, each of not less than 50 acres, defined by well-marked boundaries of such a nature as clearly to distinguish leased from the adjoining unleased lands, and to prevent the latter from being surreptitiously watered under cover of the lease.

20. Well-marked boundaries of the nature required by the foregoing rule generally exist. Village roads, bunds of akraks, village boundaries, and similar natural marks will be sufficient. If such do not exist, and it appears advisable to grant the lease, the villagers may, at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer, be required to make small bunds round the leased area, or mark its limits by the erection of cheap boundary marks, or cause to be carried out such arrangements as may suffice for the future identification of the leased area.

21. No restriction is placed on the description of crop to be grown under five-year leases, but no water will be given on these leases between the 1st of April and the 25th of June. The Superintending Canal Officer may relax this rule in the case of water being required for rice-seed beds.

22. If in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer it appears advisable to grant a lease for a block of less than 50 acres in area, he must refer the matter for the decision of the Superintending Canal Officer, at whose discretion the restriction as to area may be relaxed.

23. Present holders of three-year leases may at their option avail themselves of the terms offered to the holders of the five-year leases, but without retrospective effect.

24. Leases for five years at the rates entered in Rule 33 may be given—(1) on the application of all the cultivators of the area proposed to be leased, on condition of their agreeing in such application to become jointly and severally responsible for the payment of all amounts due on account of water-rates; or (2) on the joint application of the cultivators and of some person hereinafter called the Contractor, who may agree to collect and pay to Government, under section 82 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, all sums due under the agreement on account of water-rates. The agreement of villagers binding themselves jointly and severally will be in the form prescribed in Appendix C. The joint agreement of villagers and a water-rate Contractor shall be in the form prescribed in Appendix D. Every agreement under this rule must be signed by each applicant in the presence of at least one respectable witness.

25. Contractors shall be entitled to collect water-dues, at the rates given in schedule 4 attached to Rule 33, from the cultivators who have applied for the water supplied. Every due from a cultivator to the Contractor on account of water-rates shall be deemed to be a sum due to Government under sections 82 and 85 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876.

26. A Contractor (or in case there be more than one, each Contractor severally and jointly) shall be responsible for all sums payable on the agreement (Appendix D), except such sums as may be remitted by competent authority under the rules in force, and shall be entitled to a deduction of 5 per cent. for cost of collection.

27. No water shall be taken previous to the receipt of a permit (Appendix B) signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. When an agreement has been made for the collection of the rates by a Contractor, the Divisional Canal Officer shall under section 82 furnish such Contractor with a written authority to collect the amounts due by the cultivators according to a list furnished in the application, one copy of which is to be sent to the Collector.

28. Every Contractor shall nominate a headman, to be approved of by the Divisional Canal Officer, to perform the duties specified in Rule 10. Such headman or the contractor, according to the arrangement made at the time of contract, shall receive 5 per cent. on the assessment, but the Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of these fees if the duties are not properly performed.

29. All water-rates for five years leases leviable under the above leases shall become due on the 31st December and 15th March in equal portions, and shall be paid within one month of such dates.

30. Under section 78 of the Act, the rates chargeable per acre for water supplied to the different description of crops up to 1st of April 1881, except in cases of three-year leases now in existence, will be as follow:—

35. All water-rates shall become due on the dates below stated, and shall be paid within one month of such dates :—

36. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the water-rate shall be recoverable from both the cultivator and the person or persons in receipt of the bhaoli rents in the same proportion as the produce is divisible amongst them.

37. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the zemindar shall sign jointly with the cultivators. (This rule only applies to the case of five-year leases.)

38. The area irrigated in any village shall be measured by an Ameen appointed for the purpose. The Putwari shall be present at the measurement, and shall at the time take a copy of the khusrak of the Ameen; if for any reason the Putwari is not present, the cost of preparing the copy will be charged against him. This copy shall be delivered to the Putwari, or, in his absence, to the Lambardar. Both the Lambardar and Putwari shall sign the khusrak.

39. When the measurement is completed, the khusrak shall be forwarded to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, who shall prepare the khatiani with all possible despatch. A copy of the khatiani, signed and sealed by the Zilladar, shall, as soon as it is prepared, be forwarded to the Putwari, who shall grant a receipt for the same. If the Putwari is not present, or declines to receive the khatiani, the Sub-Divisional Officer shall forward it direct to the Collector.

40. It shall be the duty of the Putwari, immediately on the completion of the measurement, to inform each ryot, on application, of the fields measured against him, and on receipt of the khatiani to supply each person charged with a perchu showing the water-rates due. For these duties, and for attending the measurement and rendering such other reasonable assistance to the Canal Officer and Collector as may be required, an allowance of one quarter anna per rupee on the amount collected shall be made.

41. This allowance shall be paid to the Putwari by the Collector if he is satisfied that the work has been properly done.

42. The Canal Officer shall note on the khatiani whether the Putwari has given proper assistance during the measurement.

43. If a cultivator is dissatisfied with the entries made against him in the khatiani, whether as to the fact of the land having been charged "flow" instead of "lift" or as to the measurements and entries of classes of crops, he must lodge a complaint, either personally or through the Lambardar of his village channel, with the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer within a month after the date of the demand being made on him.

44. The Zilladar shall submit his check measurements in a form (Appendix E) which shall be sent in for the inspection of the Divisional Canal Officer. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall check the Ameens' measurements as often as he possibly can. If it be found that any ameen wilfully or frequently makes wrong measurements, he shall be punished by dismissal.

45. Collection of all water-rates shall be made by the Collector in accordance with the statement of demands furnished to him by the Divisional Canal Officer.

46. Objections to the demand addressed to the Collector, if preferred within one month after the demand has been made, shall, if remission be claimed on the score of short supply, or of any matter affecting the Irrigation Department, be referred for orders to the Divisional Canal Officer. The Collector shall have discretion to suspend collections by a written order in cases where (objections having been filed) it may seem advisable to do so.

47. Claims for remission, referred by the Collector and admitted by the Divisional Canal Officer, shall be reported by him for the sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer, except in cases where remissions are made on account of excess areas having been charged, or a wrong name entered in the khaliani.

48. If the Divisional Canal Officer reject the claim, an appeal may be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, provided that it is preferred within forty days from the issue of the order of the Divisional Canal Officer.

49. A remission statement, signed by the Superintending or Divisional Canal Officer, shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

50. In special cases not otherwise provided in these rules, and in cases where water-rates are not recoverable owing to the absconding or bankruptcy of the defaulter, the Collector will obtain the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division to the remission of such sums as he may deem irrecoverable. The details of such remission shall be communicated at the close of each official year to the Divisional Canal Officer.

51. The Collector shall appoint a headman (to be called a Tehsildar), whose duty will be to collect and pay in, to the Collector or other duly authorized person, all water-rates leviable on the land irrigated.

52. The Tehsildar shall furnish security for the payment of all sums realized by him, the stamp and registration fees on security bonds being deducted from the percentage allowed, under the following rule.

53. The allowance to the Tehsildars of a village or villages for collecting the water-rates shall be fixed by the Collector, but the total amount to be paid in any one year to all the Tehsildars in a district shall not exceed half an anna in the rupee on the amounts actually paid in. If the Tehsildar shall satisfy the Collector that arrears have not accrued through any negligence on his part, it shall be at the option of the Collector to pay him the allowance on the whole or any part of such arrears.

54. If only a portion of a field be irrigated, the water-rate shall be chargeable on the whole field, unless such portion shall have been clearly demarcated, previous to the admission of the water, by a ridge not less than half a foot high.

55. When a portion of a field has been irrigated with canal water, and a portion with well or reservoir water, the whole field shall be liable for canal water-rate, unless a clearly distinguishable boundary exists between the two portions.

56. If well or reservoir water is conveyed in the same channel as canal water, the whole of the irrigation from that channel shall be liable to canal water-rate. The Lambardar will be held personally responsible that this and any breach of Rules 54 and 55 is duly reported.

57. Irrigation from escape channels, when the supply is permanent, shall be governed by the same rules as irrigation from other parts of the canal.

58. Irrigation from such channels, when the supply is intermittent, may be allowed at such reduced rates as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

59. Persons using water without a written permit, or taking water at times prohibited by proper authority, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding double water-rates on the area irrigated, and such charge shall be leviable at the time of report to the Collector.

60. The charge leviable for water suffered to run to waste on uncultivated lands shall be calculated at the highest rate specified in the schedule, viz. Rs. 5 per acre on the area flooded; provided that in every such case the Divisional Canal Officer may impose a lower rate if he thinks fit. The Lambardar is to be held responsible for reporting such waste of water.

61. When the original crop sown in a field irrigated by canal water fails, and is ploughed up, and a fresh crop is sown in the same season, the water-rates shall be levied on the second crop.

62. No person shall, without the permission in writing of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, pass, or cause any animal or vehicle to pass, on or across any of the works, banks, or channels of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, excepting by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries, and their approaches, as are provided by the Divisional Canal Officer.

63. No Canal Officer, unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operation of this rule, shall have any interest in the distribution of water from any of the canals, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name, or in the name of another, or jointly, or in shares with others.

APPENDIX E.

The following rules are issued for the information and guidance of the Deputy Revenue Superintendents, tehsildars, and mohurs —

Rule 1 — As a rule all collections should be made by the tehsildar only, or by such other officer as may be in charge of a canal revenue circle

Rule 2 — The tehsildar or officer in charge of a circle will as heretofore grant detail receipts for all collections made by him, will enter such collections as usual in his siha or No. IV Register, will remit all collections periodically to the head office in Cuttack, with detailed "challans" and counterfoils of all receipts granted. In addition to this he will at the close of each month submit to the Deputy Superintendent in charge of his circle a detailed statement of all collections made by himself during the month. This will be simply a copy of all "siha" entries made by him during the month, and an abstract statement of demands and collections in the subjoined form —

Demands		Rs A P
Total demand in No. II Register	{ Previous balance { Current month's assessment
Total demand in No. III Register	{ Previous balance { Current month's assessment
Total	{ Previous balance { Current month's assessment

Total amount of collections received from mohurr C	{ Water-rates { Miscellaneous
Total amount collected by myself	{ Water-rates { Miscellaneous	..
Total	{ Water-rates { Miscellaneous
Grand Total

The tehsildar or officer in charge of a circle will also submit to the head office in Cuttack half-yearly returns of all outstanding balances. These returns will show in detail the amounts due from each defaulter. They will be checked and compared in the head office, and then forwarded to the Deputy Superintendent in charge of the canal to which they refer, and he will, when on tour of inspection, ascertain by personal enquiry from the alleged defaulters, as noted in such balance sheet, whether the sums due from them have been realized or not.

Rule 3. — Whenever it may be found necessary to employ ameens and mohurs for collection work, the following system will be adopted —

- (a) The tehsildar or officer in charge of the circle will remain at head-quarters.
 (b) The ameens and mohurs collecting money will remit once or twice a week all their collections to the tehsildar's cutcherry. These remittances will be accompanied by a challan showing in gross the amounts remitted—
 (1) under the head of water-rates, and (2) under miscellaneous, thus—

1877-78		Rs A P.
Water-rates	...	50	0	0

and all the counterfoils of receipts granted by the collecting officer

For the sums so remitted the collecting officer will obtain a receipt from the tehsildar or officer in charge of the tehsil cutcherry, and these receipts will as heretofore be posted into collecting officer's "siha" below dates of remittance, sufficient space being left for the purpose. Collecting ameens and mohurr will keep up detail "sihas" showing the particulars of all sums collected and remitted to the tehsil cutcherry, and at the close of each month will forward them to the Deputy Superintendent in charge, procuring from him a receipt for their monthly "siha" in the subjoined form

- (1) Dates between which collections noted in the "siha" were made
 (2) Name of collecting officer.

- (3) Name of officer to whom collections were forwarded.
- (4) Dates of receipt of such collections at total cutcherry, with amounts received on each date
- (5) The Deputy Superintendent's certificate that all sums collected and forwarded by collecting officer have been duly acknowledged, and acknowledgments posted into the "sil a"

The Deputy Superintendent's receipts will be kept by the collecting officers as vouchers in support of their work until such time as they may be called in by the Canal Revenue Superintendent. This will usually be when the total demands for the years to which such receipts refer have been finally closed.

Rule 4 — With the monthly "siha" and abstract statement of total demands and collections in his possession, the Deputy Superintendent will have ample information for enabling him to thoroughly check the tehsildar's accounts, and for taking all necessary action with regard to large and long-standing balances. He should periodically check the tehsildar's "siha," or No. IV Register, by comparing the entries in it with those in 'ameen's' and mohurr's "sihas," making off with a red pencil all items checked. By reference to the tehsildar's half-yearly balance sheets he will see at a glance whether the necessary processes have been issued or not, and by comparing it with the tehsildar's No. IV Register, should occasionally satisfy himself that amounts due on legal processes have been credited to Government. When on tour of inspection he should look into collecting officers' "sihas," and satisfy himself that they are properly kept up.

R 45—Forms for tehsildars, ameen's, and mohurras "silas" will be issued in detached sheets of Alipore Jail paper, each sheet will be numbered and initialed by the Deputy Superintendent. Printed forms of "half-yearly" balance statements will be issued for the use of tehsildars or other officers in charge of circles. All receipts and counterfoils issued from the head office will bear the initials of the head clerk or head mohurrir, and each volume will be separately numbered and pagel.

15. Claims to remission of water-rates under section 76(b) shall only be admitted on proof of actual loss caused by the stoppage of supply. On proof of such loss, the Divisional Canal Officer may remit the whole or any portion of the rates. 19. Leases for terms of five years for the supply of water between the 25th June of one year and the 1st April of the following year will be given at the rates fixed in the Schedule, Rule 33, provided that land leased in any village forms one or more compact blocks, each of not less than 50 acres, defined by well-marked boundaries of such a nature as clearly to distinguish leased from the adjoining unleased lands, and to prevent the latter from being surreptitiously watered under cover of the lease.

20. Well-marked boundaries of the nature required by the foregoing rule generally exist. Village roads, bunds of akrahs, village boundaries, and similar natural marks will be sufficient. If such do not exist, and it appears advisable to grant the lease, the villagers may, at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer, be required to make small bunds round the leased area, or mark its limits by the erection of cheap boundary marks, or cause to be carried out such arrangements as may suffice for the future identification of the leased area.

21. No restriction is placed on the description of crop to be grown under five-year leases; but no water will be given on these leases between the 1st of April and the 25th of June. The Superintending Canal Officer may relax this rule in the case of water being required for rice-seed beds.

22. If in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer it appears advisable to grant a lease for a block of less than 50 acres in area, he must refer the matter for the decision of the Superintending Canal Officer, at whose discretion the restriction as to area may be relaxed.

23. Present holders of three-year leases may at their option avail themselves of the terms offered to the holders of five-year leases, but without retrospective effect.

24. Leases for five years at the rates entered in Rule 33 may be given—(1) on the application of all the cultivators of the area proposed to be leased, on condition of their agreeing in such application to become jointly and severally responsible for the payment of all amounts due on account of water rates; or (2) on the joint application of the cultivators and of some person hereinafter called the Contractor, who may agree to collect and pay to Government, under section 82 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, all sums due under the agreement on account of water-rates. The agreement of villagers binding themselves jointly and severally will be in the form prescribed in Appendix C. The joint agreement of villagers and a water-rate Contractor shall be in the form prescribed in Appendix D. Every agreement under this rule must be signed by each applicant in the presence of at least one respectable witness.

25. Contractors shall be entitled to collect water-dues, at the rates given in schedule 1 attached to Rule 33, from the cultivators who have applied for the water supplied. Every due from a cultivator to the Contractor on account of water-rates shall be deemed to be a sum due to Government under sections 82 and 83 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876.

26. A Contractor (or in case there be more than one, each Contractor severally and jointly) shall be responsible for all sums payable on the agreement (Appendix D), except such sums as may be remitted by competent authority under the rules in force, and shall be entitled to a deduction of 5 per cent. for cost of collection.

27. No water shall be taken previous to the receipt of a permit (Appendix B) signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. When an agreement has been made for the collection of the rates by a Contractor, the Divisional Canal Officer shall under section 82 furnish such Contractor with a written authority to collect the amounts due by the cultivators according to a list furnished in the application, one copy of which is to be sent to the Collector.

28. Every Contractor shall nominate a headman, to be approved of by the Divisional Canal Officer, to perform the duties specified in Rule 19. Such headman or the contractor, according to the arrangement made at the time of contract, shall receive 5 per cent. on the assessment, but the Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of these fees if the duties are not properly performed.

29. All water-rates payable under the above rules for five-years leases shall become due on the 31st December and 15th March in equal portions, and shall be paid within one month of such dates.

30. Under section 78 of the Act, the rates chargeable per acre for water supplied to the different description of crops up to 1st of April 1881, except in cases of three year leases now in existence, will be as follow—

34. The statements of the amounts demandable for water-rates levied under the rules in force shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall from time to time be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor.

35. All water-rates shall become due on the dates below stated, and shall be paid within one month of such dates :—

Water-rate on spring crops, wheat, barley, peas, poppy, &c.	15th March.
Water-rate on summer crops, cheena, &c.	15th July.
Water-rate on bhadoi crops, early rice, indian-corn, murwa, &c.	31st October.
Water-rate on annual and winter crops, sugarcane, aghani rice, jowar, &c.	31st December.

36. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the water-rate shall be recoverable from both the cultivator and the person or persons in receipt of the bhaoli rents in the same proportion as the produce is divisible amongst them.

37. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the zemindar shall sign jointly with the cultivators. (This rule only applies to the case of five-year leases.)

38. The area irrigated in any village shall be measured by an Ameen appointed for the purpose. The Putwari shall be present at the measurement, and shall at the time take a copy of the khusrak of the Ameen; if for any reason the Putwari is not present, the cost of preparing the copy will be charged against him. This copy shall be delivered to the Putwari, or, in his absence, to the Lambardar. Both the Lambardar and Putwari shall sign the khusrak.

39. When the measurement is completed, the khusrak shall be forwarded to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, who shall prepare the khatiani with all possible despatch. A copy of the khatiani, signed and sealed by the Zilladar, shall, as soon as it is prepared, be forwarded to the Putwari, who shall grant a receipt for the same. If the Putwari is not present, or declines to receive the khatiani, the Sub-Divisional Officer shall forward it direct to the Collector.

40. It shall be the duty of the Putwari, immediately on the completion of the measurement, to inform each ryot, on application, of the fields measured against him, and on receipt of the khatiani to supply each person charged with a percha showing the water-rates due. For these duties, and for attending the measurement and rendering such other reasonable assistance to the Canal Officer and Collector as may be required, an allowance of one quarter anna per rupee on the amount collected shall be made.

41. This allowance shall be paid to the Putwari by the Collector if he is satisfied that the work has been properly done.

42. The Canal Officer shall note on the khatiani whether the Putwari has given proper assistance during the measurement.

43. If a cultivator is dissatisfied with the entries made against him in the khatiani, whether as to the fact of the land having been charged "flow" instead of "lift" or as to the measurements and entries of classes of crops, he must lodge a complaint, either personally or through the Lambardar of his village channel, with the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer within a month after the date of the demand being made on him.

44. The Zilladar shall submit his check measurements in a form (Appendix E) which shall be sent in for the inspection of the Divisional Canal Officer. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall check the Ameens' measurements as often as he possibly can. If it be found that any ameen wilfully or frequently makes wrong measurements, he shall be punished by dismissal.

45. Collection of all water-rates shall be made by the Collector in accordance with the statement of demands furnished to him by the Divisional Canal Officer.

46. Objections to the demand addressed to the Collector, if preferred within one month after the demand has been made, shall, if remission be claimed on the score of short supply, or of any matter affecting the Irrigation Department, be referred for orders to the Divisional Canal Officer. The Collector shall have discretion to suspend collections by a written order in cases where (objections having been filed) it may seem advisable to do so.

47. Claims for remission, referred by the Collector and admitted by the Divisional Canal Officer, shall be reported by him for the sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer, except in cases where remissions are made on account of excess ariars having been charged, or a wrong name entered in the khatiani.

48. If the Divisional Canal Officer reject the claim, an appeal may be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, provided that it is preferred within forty days from the issue of the order of the Divisional Canal Officer.

49. A remission statement, signed by the Superintending or Divisional Canal Officer, shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

50. In special cases not otherwise provided in these rules, and in cases where water-rates are not recoverable owing to the absconding or bankruptcy of the defaulter, the Collector will obtain the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division to the remission of such sums as he may deem irrecoverable. The details of such remission shall be communicated at the close of each official year to the Divisional Canal Officer.

51. The Collector shall appoint a headman (to be called a Tekshildar), whose duty will be to collect and pay in, to the Collector or other duly authorized person, all water-rates leviable on the land irrigated.

52. The Tekshildar shall furnish security for the payment of all sums realized by him, the stamp and registration fees on security bonds being deducted from the percentage allowed, under the following rule.

53. The allowance to the Tekshildars of a village or villages for collecting the water-rates shall be fixed by the Collector, but the total amount to be paid in any one year to all the Tekshildars in a district shall not exceed half an anna in the rupee on the amounts actually paid in. If the Tekshildar shall satisfy the Collector that ariars have not accrued through any negligence on his part, it shall be at the option of the Collector to pay him the allowance on the whole or any part of such ariars.

54. If only a portion of a field be irrigated, the water-rate shall be chargeable on the whole field, unless such portion shall have been clearly demarcated, previous to the admission of the water, by a ridge not less than half a foot high.

55. When a portion of a field has been irrigated with canal water, and a portion with well or reservoir water, the whole field shall be liable for canal water-rate, unless a clearly distinguishable boundary exist between the two portions.

56. If well or reservoir water is conveyed in the same channel as canal water, the whole of the irrigation from that channel shall be liable to canal water-rate. The Tekshildar will be held personally responsible that any breach of this rule or of Rules 54 and 55 is duly reported.

57. Irrigation from escape channels, when the supply is permanent, shall be governed by the same rules as irrigation from other parts of the canal.

58. Irrigation from such channels, when the supply is intermittent, may be allowed at such reduced rates as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

59. Persons using water without a written permit, or taking water at times prohibited by proper authority, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding double water-rates on the area irrigated, and such charge shall be leviable at the time of report to the Collector.

60. The charge leviable for water suffered to run to waste on uncultivated lands shall be calculated at the highest rate specified in the schedule, on the area flooded; provided that in every such case the Divisional Canal Officer may impose a lower rate if he thinks fit. The Tambaridar is to be held responsible for reporting such waste of water.

61. When the original crop sown in a field irrigated by canal water fails, and is ploughed up, and a fresh crop is sown in the same season, the water-rates shall be levied on the second crop.

62. No person shall, without the permission in writing of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, pass, or cause any animal or vehicle to pass, on or across any of the works, banks, or channels of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, excepting by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries, and then approaches, as are provided by the Divisional Canal Officer.

63. No Canal Officer, unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operation of this rule, shall have any interest in the distribution of water from any of the canals, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name, or in the name of another, or jointly, or in shares with others.

SETTLEMENT OF KHORDA GOVERNMENT ESTATE.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.—LAND REVENUE.

Darjeeling, the 23rd July 1880.

READ—

Letter No. 383A, dated the 5th June 1880, from the Board of Revenue, submitting a report by Mr. W. Taylor, Settlement Officer of the Khorda Government Estate, with the covering letters of the Commissioner of Orissa, and the Collector of Pooree, on the subject of the settlement now pending in that estate.

THE settlement officer's report is submitted in accordance with instructions given by Mr. H. L. Dampier, Member of the Board of Revenue, when visiting Cuttack in February 1879, for the purpose of conferring with the survey and local revenue officers, and determining the principles upon which the cadastral survey of Khorda should be completed. At that conference it was settled that the very costly operations of the professional survey should be brought to a close as soon as they had supplied the settlement party with skeleton maps of the unsurveyed area showing only the village boundaries; and that the settlement party should fill in, not only all the cadastral detail hitherto done by the survey, but also the necessary topographical work, thus effecting a saving to Government on the survey work remaining to be done of about one and a half lakhs of rupees. After completing these arrangements, Mr. Dampier discussed with the Commissioner and the settlement officer the main points of difficulty in connection with the settlement. Upon several of these, provisional instructions had already been given by the Commissioner, or the Board, and were being carried into effect by Mr. Taylor, but others of great importance had yet to be considered. The first and most important of all was the question of rates. In regard to this, Mr. Dampier instructed Mr. Taylor to submit a report, giving the most detailed account of the data and considerations upon which he might base his proposals; pointing out to him the precise nature of the checks to be applied, and the fallacies to be avoided, in arriving at a sound and reasonable assessment. Mr. Taylor was also directed to discuss in this report the exact status and privileges of the ryots and tenure-holders on the estate, giving special attention to the peculiar varieties of surbarakari tenure prevailing in Khorda. He was to bring forward for orders all questions bearing in any way upon the details of the settlement; and, in short, to place the Board and Government in a position to form an accurate judgment upon every matter affecting either the interests of Government as proprietor, or of the individuals and classes of tenants resident on the estate. This duty Mr. Taylor has discharged in the most satisfactory manner. He has submitted a report which is not only full but extremely careful and intelligent; and which justifies entirely the high terms in which the Board have, on more than one occasion, spoken of the value of his services in connection with these operations.

2. The first part of the report deals with the past fiscal history of the Khorda estate, describing briefly its former settlements, and the resumption proceedings affecting its rent-free and privileged tenures, and referring to the preliminary operations in connection with the present survey and settlement. It is unnecessary to reproduce the terms of the earlier settlements mentioned by Mr. Taylor. From the date of its confiscation in 1804, on account of the rebellion of the Raja, to the outbreak under Jagabandhu Mahapatra, the ex-leader of the local militia, in 1817, Khorda was repeatedly brought under settlement, more or less summary, and occasionally also let in farm, with results generally disastrous both to Government and the people. Up to that date the estate was managed directly from the Cuttack Collectorate. Panchguri, a part of the estate treated as a separate mehal, was from 1806 to 1818 held as a jaghir by Rani Mukta Dei of Sumbulpore. In 1818 she relinquished the mehal which thus reverted to Government.

3. In 1818, Mr. W. Forrester, a Deputy Collector, was placed in independent charge, and a settlement of Khorda Proper, based upon the actual area under cultivation, assessed at moderate fixed rates, was taken in hand. No measurements were, however, attempted, and the settlement was not ryotwar or even mouzahwar, but by garhs or mehals consisting of several villages, the surbarakars being directed to collect the sums assessed upon the garhs in accordance with certain fixed rates. These rates appear to have averaged about eight-annas sicca per man, or bigha of 19,600 square feet, but were, as Mr. Taylor points out, designed more to regulate the Government demand upon the surbarakars than to limit absolutely the demand of the surbarakars upon the ryots. Mr. Forrester also effected a separate settlement of Panchguri, by compounding with the surbarakars and without apparently going into details.

4. Mr. Forrester was relieved by Mr. Wilkinson in 1820, and that officer, while continuing Mr. Forrester's rates on the old cultivation, proceeded to assess newly reclaimed lands at lighter rates, and at the same time explained to the ryots the rates at which they were to pay, impressing upon them the advantage of taking pottahs at those rates from the surbarakars, and receipts for all payments. This was, in fact, the beginning of ryotwari settlements in the estate. The average incidence of the rates fixed by Mr. Wilkinson on old and new lands together did not exceed six-annas sicca per man, or about 14 annas per acre. The sudder jumma secured by Mr. Wilkinson's first five years' settlement (1823-28) in Khorda Proper was sicca Rs. 1,04,025. There was no increase upon this demand until the completion of what is called the decennial settlement of Khorda, carried out by Mr. Wilkinson, then Collector of South Cuttack, in 1836. The jumma of Panchguri was settled in 1825-26 at Rs. 13,004 first for five, and afterwards continued for ten, years.

5. The settlement of 1836 was the last complete settlement of Khorda. As regards cultivated and culturable lands, tanks, &c., it was based upon actual rod-measurement, the area of hill and jungle being merely estimated. These last estimates must, however, have been of the very roughest description, for, while it is stated in Part III, paragraph 27 of Mr. Taylor's report, that the ryots have, in the course of the present survey been found to hold generally less land than the old settlement papers showed, the total area of the estate as given by Mr. Wilkinson was nearly 280 square miles less than it was found to be by the topographical survey of 1837-41.

6. The sudder jumma assessed upon Khorda in the settlement of 1836 was sicca Rs. 1,35,720; and that upon Panchgarh Rs. 15,248; or altogether sicca Rs. 1,50,968. The settlement of Khorda was confirmed by Government for 20 years, and that of Panchgarh for 30 years on the 22nd August 1837.

7. In confirming these settlements, the Government ordered enquiries to be made into the validity of the rent-free and quit-rent (tanki) tenures in which these mehals abounded. Resumption proceedings were accordingly instituted; but in 1838, the principal lakhirajdars and tankidars came forward and offered to compound with Government. Accordingly in 1839 it was ordered that all such lands should be settled with the holders if they agreed to pay a quit-rent of Rs. 4 per bati of 20 māns (=9 acres) for lakhiraj and tanki debutter, and Rs. 4-12 for brahmutter lands, these rates being equal to about half the average ryotti rates on the whole estate. The rates were to be liable to periodical revision at future settlements "rateably on the entire jumma of the whole of the tenures, in proportion to the modified jumma of the khalisa lands;" that is to say the tanki and lakhiraj compromise rents were only to rise as a whole in proportion to the increase of the rents of the ordinary ryotti lands as a whole, and the revised rates were to be adjusted accordingly. These rates are called in Mr. Taylor's report rafa-tanki rates or "compromise quit-rents."

8. It appears, however, that when applying the rafa-tanki rates to the holdings of those agreeing to compromise, Mr. Wilkinson found that in some cases the quit-rent already actually being paid by the tankidar, was more than the compromise rate. In all such cases he allowed the old, or higher rate, to stand, and entered that and not the compromise rate in the settlement papers. The question therefore now arises whether in the present settlement an equal enhancement is to be imposed on the two classes of rafa-tanki, which would of course continue the existing inequality of assessment, or whether the opportunity should be taken to place all rafa-tankidars on the same footing. Mr. Taylor would adopt the former course, holding apparently that as the men who pay the higher rates have done so for 40 years, and as the same principle of enhancement governs all cases, there is no good reason for giving them specially favorable terms on the present occasion. The Commissioner and the Board, however, agree in recommending that all rafa-tankidars should now be placed on the same footing and pay precisely the same rates of rent, irrespective of the higher payments made by some of them during the course of the expiring settlement. The Lieutenant-Governor accepts the Board's recommendation. The concession is not one which is of any financial importance, and it may serve to reconcile a certain number of tenure-holders to other changes necessary under the present settlement.

9. The resumption proceedings of 1838-39 added only Rs. 5,593 to the sudder jumma of Khorda, and Rs. 222 to that of Panchgarh; thus raising the gross sudder jumma of the whole estate Rs. 1,56,783, or to Rs. 1,57,027, if some lands omitted by Mr. Wilkinson be taken into account.

10. Between the years 1853 and 1856, steps for the re-settlement of Khorda proper were taken, in view of the expiry of the settlement of that portion of the property in October 1856. Eventually, however (except in the case of a few villages whose assessment was notoriously incorrect), only lands brought under cultivation since 1836 were measured and assessed, the rates of the last settlement being maintained throughout. This revision added Rs. 40,816 to the sudder jumma, raising the total to Rs. 1,97,843, and the settlement was then extended for 24 years, or to the 1st October 1880. The settlement of Panchgarh, which expired in 1866, was not revised, but was continued under Government orders up to the date of the expiry of the settlement of Khorda.

11. After this revision of the Khorda settlement, a portion of the estate was made over to the Raja of Pooree in 1858, in lieu of the money allowance up to that time payable for the support of the temple of Juggernath. It appears from a letter quoted by Mr. Taylor, that the Commissioner of Orissa, (Mr. G. Cockburn), understood that on resettlement the temple would get the full benefit of any increase of rent-rates. But no definite orders on this point seem to have been given at the time. Mr. Taylor urges that in lieu of these lands, and of a further similar assignment made in 1863 on account of the salary of temple burkundazes, a sum of money, yielding in interest the amount of the money payments formerly payable to the temples should be vested in trustees, the lands being re-annexed to the Government estate. He writes: "The transfer of the lands or rents was both financially and politically a mistake—hard on the ryots, unprofitable to the temple, and a great loss to Government."

12. The view thus expressed by the settlement officer has been already urged by the Lieutenant-Governor upon the consideration of the Government of India. In a letter to that Government No. 946—387 LR, of the 16th April 1879, it was remarked:—

"6. The other estate in the possession of the Raja as Superintendent consists of lands originally forming part of the Government estate of Khorda, and made over to him, partly in 1858 and partly in 1863, in lieu of certain cash payments which had, up to those years, been made by Government, the intention being that Government should in this way dissociate itself entirely from all direct connection with the endowment. It will be seen, however, from the Board's report, that the local officers have held that the lands in question were not actually transferred, but that their revenues only were assigned to the Superintendent in lieu of direct cash payments. This was the view taken by Sir George Campbell in 1871; but the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it is conclusively shown in the present report by the Board of Revenue that it cannot be supported. There can, however, be no doubt that of late years it has been acted upon locally, apparently with the full acquiescence of the Raja himself. The arrears of ryots' rents have been (most improperly) realized for the Raja by the Collector under the certificate procedure of Bengal Act VII of 1868; and the lands have actually been brought under survey and settlement along with the rest of Khorda. This re-settlement, if completed, will probably result in a very material increase of the rental.

"7. While the Lieutenant-Governor concurs with the present Board in holding that the action of the local officers in this respect has been to some extent illegal and warranted by nothing in the orders of Government in 1858 and 1863, he thinks there can be no doubt of the grave political inconvenience arising from the fact that an integral portion of the Khorda estate has thus been handed over unconditionally to the Superintendent of the temple. If these lands are exempted from re-settlement (and they must be so if they are held to be the revenue free lands of the temple trust), the surbarakars and ryots of the rest of Khorda will probably give much trouble before they consent to accept the increased rates arising from the re-settlement, seeing that those rates will fall upon them and not upon their neighbours in the temple lands.

"8. The Raja himself in 1872 was willing to accept a money payment in lieu of the lands, and the Dowager Rance, who is now temporarily managing the family affairs, is not altogether unwilling to accept the same arrangement. Although, therefore, the Secretary of State in the despatch forwarded with the Home Department's endorsement No. 1862, dated 6th July 1874, thought that sufficient cause had not then been shown for re-opening the question, the Lieutenant-Governor feels bound to submit that, under present circumstances, it is not only possible, but imperatively necessary, to reconsider this matter of the transferred lands. There does not appear to be anything in the past history of the case to prevent such re-consideration, if it should be deemed to be called for on sufficient grounds. Government has from the outset claimed the right to settle for itself what it should do in connection with the temple endowments; and it seems to the Lieutenant-Governor to have been a mistake to embody in formal deeds, arrangements which Government was competent to order as an act of State; but Sir Ashley Eden can find nothing in those deeds to prevent the Government from modifying its arrangements, especially when the Superintendent, who is the chief person benefited, has divested himself of all claim to consideration by committing a heinous criminal offence.

"9. The Government was in 1863, and for some years previously, in deference to very strongly expressed views in England, almost morbidly anxious to divest itself of all connection with, and control over, the religious endowments of this country. Rather than be even in name associated with their support or management, it was ready to hand over any number of cultivators to the tender mercies of such a man as the Raja of Pooree and his associates. It substituted for an effective Government-check a system of private management which has proved unworkable, and under which the income of many very useful charities have been with impunity misappropriated and embezzled. It has succeeded in creating in the minds of its native subjects the conviction that it has no care or regard for the discharge of duties which represent, in their minds, one of the most essential functions of the State. There is no subject upon which the native community feels more strongly than this, and the conviction that the policy of non-interference with the pecuniary affairs of religious and charitable endowments has been carried too far, is, as the Government of India are aware, gaining considerable ground at the present day.

"10. The Lieutenant-Governor is, on his part, clearly of opinion that no considerations of false sentiment should prevent us from doing, in the present case, what is best for Government and best for the people. He thinks that it is necessary in the interest of Government to reamalgamate with its estate of Khorda the lands that were separated from it in 1858 and 1863. There has been so much doubt and confusion locally as to the precise position of these lands, that it will lead to serious complications now to withdraw from all connection with them. At the same time, the local recognition of a continuing Government-right over them simplifies greatly the practical question of their resumption. The Lieutenant-Governor would so far defer to the prejudice against Government contributing directly from its annual revenues towards an idolatrous trust, as to substitute for the lands, not an annual cash payment, but an investment in Government paper or a book-debt* yielding an annual income to the temple trust equivalent to that now derived from the land. This arrangement can no more be said to bring Government into direct contact with idolatry than the fact of its managing the Syndpore Trust Estate and the Mousin Fund can be said to make it a supporter of Islam. If the Government of India further wish to avoid the appearance of resuming the lands solely because they will now under re-settlement yield an enhanced rental, they might make the income from investment up to, say, Rs. 30,000. Government would entirely recoup itself by the resettlement, most of the expense of which has, as regards these lands, been already incurred (uselessly if they are to remain with the Superintendent of the temple)."

The Government of India did not, however, "see in the arguments thus put forward by the Bengal Government, any reason for asking the Secretary of State" to reconsider the decision arrived at in 1874, viz. that it was not desirable to reopen the settlement come to in 1856 "in accordance with the views of a large and influential section of the community." In accordance with the views of the Supreme Government the temple lands have now been entirely excluded from the settlement proceedings and are not in any way affected by any orders contained in this Resolution.

13. The second part of Mr. Taylor's report is devoted to an examination of the status and privileges of the various classes interested in the soil, and suggestions as to the mode of dealing with each at the present settlement.

14. The first of these classes comprises:—

I.—Holders of regularly-confirmed rent-free tenures—

Their lands are of two kinds:—

(a). "Brahmutter" and "ddu" lands, made over to individuals in full proprietary right originally.

In regard to these Mr. Taylor raises the question whether lands originally granted to a Brahman as such for his maintenance, can properly be recognized as lakhiraj, if found in the possession of persons of other castes. The Board do not notice this point specifically, but they answer a similar question raised further on in the report as regards lands of the second class, which are:—

(b). Lands held by trustees of endowments, schools, and the like.

The Board hold, and the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with them, that, having once confirmed the lakhiraj grant, Government has, from a revenue point of view, no concern with the eventual appropriation or alienation of the lands.

15. In the case of lands of this second kind, the name of the idol was always entered in the settlement and resumption proceedings as the proprietor, and the trustees, manager, priests or other actual possessors were rated as 'servants of the idol,' and liable to dismissal by the Collector for misconduct. But, nevertheless, the practice, common elsewhere in Orissa, and which has led to very general misappropriation of the religious and charitable endowments of that province, has, it appears, crept into Khorda, and alienations of the lands by the life-trustees, and sub-division of the lands among their heirs and descendants have been common. Mr. Taylor seems disposed to interfere to restore the endowments to their original footing, though he admits that it might be better that things should be left to be dealt with by special legislation in connection with the general subject of native endowments. The Commissioner and the Board think that no attempt at interference should be made in the course of settlement, and in this view the Lieutenant-Governor also agrees. For the present, it will suffice that all lands of this class should be distinctly registered as belonging to the "endowments," and that all persons found in actual possession should be entered simply as so found. This will pave the way for any special legislation that may hereafter be determined upon.

16. The next point affecting lakhiraj tenures of this class, is the allowance of excess area to be granted to cover errors in the former rod-measurement. Five per cent. of area has been allowed by Mr. Taylor, and he proposes to assess all lands in excess of the recorded area plus this allowance, as towfir, at full ryottee rates. It appears that Mr. Ricketts' rule, at the revision of settlement in 1857, and in all Orissa settlements, was to pass an excess of 25 biswas per bigha (a bigha=400 biswas) or a little over 6 per cent. up to a limit of ten bighas. If the total surplus on the holding was over ten bighas, the whole excess (i.e. all over the said ten bighas), was resumed, and no excess under eight biswas was assessed. The Board recommend an allowance of ten per cent. up to a maximum of ten bighas, and would apply this rule, not only in measurements of lakhiraj holdings of this class, but in the measurements of all privileged holdings of every kind. They point out, at the same time, that where a privileged tenure-holder can prove that he was given originally a grant of lands within easily identifiable and definite boundaries, it will be a question whether the mention of area, as given in the grant, was not mere surplusage. This view is no doubt correct in law, but its application in practice requires care and discrimination; and the Lieutenant-Governor desires that all cases where the ordinary rule fails, or where there is doubt as to the intention of the original grant may be reported for the orders of the Commissioner, and if necessary for those of the Board. For the rest, the Lieutenant-Governor accepts the proposals of the Board in respect of the allowance to be made for error in the former rod-measurement of all privileged tenures.

17. The second class of tenures noted is,—

II.—Lakhiraj or Tanki Tenures not enquired into under the Resumption Laws.

These appear only to exist in Gurh Huldea, which has been recognized by Government Order No. 2720, dated the 5th January 1880, as a valid "Khundaiti" tenure for its whole actual area. There is no need, therefore, as Mr. Taylor proposes, to institute resumption proceedings in respect of these subordinate holdings. If the parent service-tenure ever lapses, all incumbances of this kind, created by the holder, will lapse with it.

18. The third class of tenures is—

III.—Confirmed holdings at quit-rents fixed for ever.

The lands under this class are divided into two classes in the same way as the tenures under class I, and the orders given in paragraphs 11-16 above, will meet all the questions raised in respect of them.

19. The fourth class of tenures is—

IV.—Holdings at compromised quit-rents, as described in paragraphs 7 and 8 of this Resolution.

As already stated, under the terms of the compromise effected in 1838-39, the rents of these tenures were only to be raised as a whole, with reference to the average enhanced rate imposed on all the rent-paying lands in the estate. If this rule were strictly maintained, the rafa-tanki lands in any single village could not be assessed until the rates in the whole estate of Khorda had been finally settled. This would interfere seriously with the progress of the settlement. It would also be disadvantageous for the rafa-tankidars themselves, as they would eventually have to pay enhanced rates, fixed with reference to the average ryottee rate of the estate as now to be assessed on jungle, waste, orchards, &c., as well as on cultivated lands. Mr. Taylor accordingly proposes a set of special rules for the assessment of these rafa-tanki lands. He would impose no increase over present rates in respect of jungle, waste, homesteads, orchards, tanks, jheels, rivers, nalas, &c. He would raise the rates only on arable lands, and that only with reference to the enhanced average rate of ryottee land in the village in which any block of rafa-tanki land may happen to lie. The Collector, Commissioner, and the Board agree in approving this; the Board only remarking that if any tankidar objects to this mode of assessment it might be a question how far the precise rate adopted could, under the terms of the recorded compromise with this class of tenure-holders, be justified in Court. The Lieutenant-Governor accepts the proposals made by Mr. Taylor, believing that the undertaking of 1839 would, in the event of dispute, be reasonably construed by the courts; and that, if the enhanced rate imposed in any particular case were not higher than the average enhancement on rent-paying lands in the neighbourhood, the settlement would probably be upheld, the village rates being accepted as indicative of the general rates of the estate.

20. The fifth class of tenures is,—

V.—Resumed tenures held originally either rent-free or at a quit-rent.

These tenures have, during the expiring settlement, been held at half ryottee rates, and are, by the terms of resumption, liable at this settlement to be assessed at full ryottee rates. Under the orders of the Board, it has been determined that such lands are to be assessed at the rates next below those at which similar ryottee lands would have been assessed in the present settlement. The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to confirm this concession to the holders of resumed-lakhiraj and tanke lands.

21. The sixth class of tenures is that of,—

VI.—Grace jaghirdars holding lands either rent-free or at quit-rents pending good conduct, and with no right to alienate.

These tenures call for no special orders. They were granted as rewards for political service, or on charitable grounds, and are not to be interfered with.

22. The seventh class in Mr. Taylor's list is,—

VII.—Tenures of khundails, or superior police service tenures, held at quit-rents for ever, during good conduct, but inalienable.

The only two tenures of the class are Gurh Huldia, the position of which has been settled by Government orders of the 5th January last, quoted in paragraph 17 above, and Malipara, regarding which the Board promise a special report. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks that, as Government is formally recognizing the somewhat doubtful right of these khundails to very extensive lands, the opportunity should be taken to define more precisely their duties and responsibilities, which seem at present to be very vague. The Board should ask the Commissioner to report on this point, and submit for approval a form of kabulyat or agreement to be taken from these tenure-holders.

23. The eighth class of tenures embraces,—

VIII.—Other service jaghirs, the holders of which have no power to alienate and no proprietary rights, and are liable to dismissal for misconduct.

Mr. Taylor names no fewer than 26 classes of persons holding service lands in Khorda, most of them on tenures which Government is not bound to recognize, except so far as it may consent to do so on grounds of policy. Very many of them were actually resumed and regranted in the earlier settlements of the estate, and they have always apparently been held to be entirely at the disposal of Government.

23(a). The question of the treatment of service tenures held by dalbeheras, dullais, and persons of corresponding status, has been practically settled by the Government orders No. 1640 of the 28th April last, passed on the Board's report of the 21st February preceding. These men were originally officers of the local militia maintained by the old Rajas of Khorda, and were paid for their services by jaghir lands held either rent-free or at a quit-rent. On confiscation of the estate, all these jaghirs were resumed. Most of the old dalbeheras became sudder surbarakars under the early settlements, and received grants of land by way of remuneration, and practically no distinction remains between them and the ordinary surbarakars. The few who did not engage as surbarakars received small grants in consideration of the performance of police and miscellaneous duties. These duties are no longer required and the lands might be assessed at full ryottee rates. It has been decided that where a dalbehara has become a surbarakar he will, as heretofore, hold his jaghir in part payment of his remuneration as surbarakar, its value being taken at full ryottee rates. He will as at present be liable to lose it if he misappropriates the rents or otherwise grossly misbehaves. All other jaghirdars who obtained lands originally in virtue of an office held under the old Rajas, and whose services are not now required, will be recognized as occupancy ryots, and will, for the currency of the present settlement, be assessed at rates one degree lower than ordinary ryottee rates for the classes of land held by them. In the next settlement they will be assessed at full rates. These orders dispose of the jaghirs held by dulbeharas, dullais, bissoois, and nyaks, all of whom were officers in the militia of the old Rajas.

23(b). The paiks were the rank and file of the old militia of the country, and they, too, held lands originally rent-free which were all resumed with the other service jaghirs, but not, as a rule re-granted. Now most of them only hold their homesteads free on condition of escorting treasure and doing other local police duties. It is proposed to confirm to them this right on condition of their helping in forest conservancy and performing miscellaneous police duties as heretofore. These proposals are approved, but the Lieutenant-Governor desires that these small services should be regularly insisted on and not allowed to fall into neglect. Those paiks who prefer to do no Government work, should, as suggested by Mr. Taylor, be allowed the option of settling for their homesteads like any other ryots of their own caste.

23(c). There are a few paik jaghirs of small area found here and there in Khorda. It is proposed to assess these at the ryottee rates imposed on lands next below them in quality. This is in accordance with the principle of assessment followed in respect of all classes of similar invalid tenures and is approved.

23(d). These last orders do not, however, apply to the peculiar pan paik and kandh jaghirs in the Banpore pergunnah, described in paragraphs 93 to 105 of part II of Mr. Taylor's report, regarding which a separate report is promised by the Board.

23(e). In paragraphs 107 to 119 of part II of his report, Mr. Taylor describes a number of village officers, who, under the old Rajas held tenures as payment for their services. Most of these have become surbarakars under British rule, and the orders of Government regarding the tenures of dulbeharas, dullais, &c., will govern the arrangements to be made with these. Those who are surbarakars will retain any lands they may hold as jaghirs assessed at full ryottee rates in part payment for their services. The others will become occupancy ryots and pay, for the currency of the settlement, ryottee rates as for lands one degree lower in quality than the lands actually held by them. At the next settlement all these lands will be assessed at full ryottee rates.

23(f). The Board promise a separate report as to the detailed duties and position of surbarakars, and the forms of engagement to be taken from them. It appears from the Collector's and the Commissioner's letters that some points still require to be cleared up in connection with their employment. The Board's report will be awaited.

23(g). In paragraph 133 of his report, Mr. Taylor describes the position and duties of tandkars, one of his 26 classes of service tenure-holders. They act as criers or assistants to the surbarakars, and Mr. Taylor would allow them small jaghirs up to a limit of three acres each. The Commissioner is opposed to this, and thinks that the surbarakars should find their own assistants out of their 20 per cent. commission. The Board, relying on Mr. Taylor's local knowledge, would continue existing tandkar jaghirs, and allow him discretion to create new ones where necessary, and where land is available, of not more than three bighas each. Any dalloi or other jaghirdar, not being a surbarakar, agreeing to act as tandkar might, it is suggested, be allowed these three bighas free of assessment. The Board would not reduce the surbarakars' remuneration on account of these tandkar allowances. Mr. Taylor apparently considers that the tandkars are necessary for the surbarakars, and as it does not seem worth while to cause dissatisfaction by insisting on the surbarakars' finding their own assistants out of their commission, the Lieutenant-Governor accepts the Board's proposal under this head.

23(h). The next functionary referred to as holding service lands is the chowkidar. The present arrangements for village watch and ward are very various. Many chowkidars hold lands and get nothing from the ryots. Others both hold lands and receive dues from the villagers; others depend entirely upon dues. Some are in cash from the rents. Some receive nothing at all, and are working in the hope of getting something under the present settlement. Mr. Taylor strongly advocates a radical reform of the chowkidari system in the estate. He would give five bighas of good, or from 10 to 15 bighas of indifferent, to each chowkidar, and lay down also a regular scale of fees which villagers should pay, devising some legal means for enforcing the same. On the whole question of the chowkidari system in Khorda, the Board submitted in April last a special report which has been transferred to the Police Department of this office, for consideration of the number of men actually required for police purposes in the estate, and decision as to whether the Village Chowkidari Act should be extended to it. The Board now press early orders on the general question, as it is impossible to complete the settlement of any village until this matter is decided.

23(i). Government repeatedly and emphatically declared that the practice of paying chowkidars in Orissa by jaghirs does not answer, and must be given up; and it may be said that the principle that the villagers should pay for their own village watchmen has also been adopted as a general rule of practice throughout Bengal. The Village Chowkidari Act of 1870 may not be altogether suited to Khorda; but it is clearly understood that Government will not continue the system of paying the chowkidars in that estate by jaghirs, and will eventually make the villagers of all classes pay for the number of chowkidars that it may be thought necessary to maintain. This may require special legislation as suggested by the Board, but the villagers must be warned of the determination to do so. A suggestion is made in paragraph 27, below, which may induce the villagers to consent to bearing this burden, and which may obviate the necessity of legislation; but meantime the chowkidari jaghirs should, in the absence of settlement, be assessed at full ryottee rates, realisation of the rents being however suspended until the new system is in actual working. Existing chowkidars will thus continue in office till other arrangements are made, and have time to look about them for other land, if they do not wish to become paid servants of the Police Department. The Judicial Department of the office will be requested to settle speedily the number of men required, and the shape the proposed Act should take, if legislation has to be undertaken eventually.

23(c). Besides the village chowkidars, there are a few road chattias, or chowkidars, holding in all about 156 acres of jaghir lands, whose duty was to patrol the Trunk Road. Mr. Taylor proposes to retain these men as forest watchers, reducing their jaghirs to five acres each, and settling any excess with them as ryots. The local officers and the Board approve of this proposal, and it is accepted by the Lieutenant-Governor.

23(d). Then there are blacksmiths, barbers, potters, and boatmen, holding small jaghirs. Mr. Taylor would only recognize such of these as perform services useful to the estate, and the Commissioner agrees with him. The Board are, however, of opinion, and the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with them, that any sudden absorption of these village servants would be very unpopular. All existing incumbents should be allowed a life-tenure of their lands, and a promise of settlement of the lands with their heirs as occupancy holdings at the rates of rents prevailing for the next lower quality of land. Artificers and boatmen doing real service to the community should retain their jaghirs while they render such service.

24. The ninth class of tenures described by Mr. Taylor is—

IX.—Tenures of minahadars, or persons holding homestead lands rent-free, without proprietary rights or power to alienate.

The privilege of holding their homestead lands free of rent appears to have been enjoyed by various classes of tenants in Khorda, especially by those of the higher castes. This was, however, always recognized as a matter of favor and not of right, and the holders have never had the power of sale or mortgage. It is stated in one part of the report that the right to sub-let was also never formally recognized; but in fact sub-letting at full rates appears to be the ordinary practice, and it is certain that sub-division among heirs is universal. There is no doubt as to the power of Government to resume these holdings, but on the other hand it would, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, be very impolitic to do so, as they have been held rent-free by influential classes of tenants for at least 75 years under the British Government. Mr. Ravenshaw, when Commissioner, ordered them to be assessed at half-rates. A. Beames took the same view. It is said that the minahadars are not averse to its arrangement, if, as proposed, it carries with it full rights of alienation. The Board would authorize the settlement officer to carry it into effect, but would further guarantee the half-rates now to be assessed on each minahadar's hold as a mokurruri jumma, fixed for ever, instead of leaving them open to revision at the next settlement. These proposals are approved by the Lieutenant-Governor.

25. It will be convenient here to notice the other points in connection with the settlement of homestead lands which call for orders.

26. At present the rates for homestead lands, called chandina, are extremely high. The charge is eight-annas a bakha, or frontage, of seven or eight cubits (irrespective of depth), and in Banpur one rupee for the same extent of land. The rates fall very unequally on the ryots, and it is proposed to equalize them with direct reference to area, while not raising the chandina receipts as a whole. The rates proposed are, for:—

				Rs.	A.	P.
First class homesteads	23	7	0	per acre.
Second „	„	18	0	0	„
Third „	„	14	0	0	„
Fourth „	„	10	6	0	„
Fifth „	„	7	13	0	„

The classification, and therefore the application of these rates is to depend upon the average incidence in the village of the existing bakha rents of the village. The Board recommend that the rules drawn up by Mr. Taylor embodying this principle may be approved. The Lieutenant-Governor is not, however, satisfied with the scale of rates proposed. He thought it very bad policy to impose such enormous rents upon homestead lands in a purely agricultural tract like Khorda. It is admitted that they are far higher than those of arable lands; and though no doubt bastu lands always do pay higher rents than matan, yet the rates proposed for Khorda appear to the Lieutenant-Governor to be exorbitant. Looking to the great increase of revenue which will accrue from the settlement as a whole, he would propose to reduce these chandina rates generally, so as to encourage the settlement of artificers and shop-keepers on the estate, these being, according to Mr. Taylor, at present conspicuous by their absence. There is no reason why Government should act as a grasping landlord, in this matter.

27. Indeed it appears possible the question of chandina rates may be utilized to settle the matter of the payment of village chowkidars. The homestead rates proposed for adoption above might, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks, be reduced by one-half on condition of the occupants of all homestead lands agreeing to the addition to such rents of a chowkidari cess to be paid with the rent. The whole amount levied on this account in the village should be sufficient to give each chowkidar a salary of Rs. 3 a month. The settlement officer would, if this plan were accepted, have to be authorized to determine at once as he goes along, the number of chowkidars required for each village. He would then fix the rate of homestead land for each village with reference to the present total bakhra rent of the village, but so as to make the acreage incidence fall thus:—

	Rs.		Rs.
First-class ...	12	Fourth-class ...	5
Second-class ...	9	Fifth-class ...	4
Third-class ...	7

To the rent as assessed on each ryot at that rate, he would add a proportionate share of the cost of the village chowkidars. This would be collected as rent, but kept separate in the sarbarakars' accounts. Such a plan might be worked out by the Board in consultation with the local officer, and thus save additional legislation. A concession so substantial on chandina rents would probably lead to the more ready acceptance of the settlement as a whole. The Lieutenant-Governor would wish to have an early report from the Board as to the feasibility of giving effect to the suggestions contained in this paragraph.

28. It is proposed further to exempt entirely from homestead rent, certain classes of office-holders, village servants, and laborers mentioned in section VII of the rules of practice quoted at page 26 of the report. The Board, accepting this proposal, suggest that, this being a matter of favor, an acknowledgment of liability to pay rent should be taken from every such exempted tenant, and that all such holdings should be declared inalienable. This may be done.

29. The Lieutenant-Governor also agrees with the Board that chandinga ryots should no longer be subject to begar, or forced labour. If any man holds at specially low rates on condition of giving such labor, the service should be commuted for a higher rent.

30. The tenth class of tenures include,—

X.—Ryots of eight grades, viz. :—

1. Kalipatta ryots.
2. Tala ryots.
3. Tala squatters.
4. Cultivators under lakhirajdars and tankidars.
5. " on chakran jaghirs.
6. " under Nos. 1 and 2.
7. " on reclamation leascholds.
8. " of "Taila."

31. Mr. Taylor discusses the position of the ryots very fully and completely. It is clear from the account given by him that the great body of the ryots in Khorda, whether khoodkhast or paikasht, have been recognized as possessing rights of occupancy in their lands, so long as they pay the rents assessed on them by the State. This was in fact originally, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, the natural right of every ryot in the country, though he was too often unable to assert or establish it. It also appears that in Khorda the cultivators have been allowed to alienate, mortgage, and subdivide their holdings at pleasure. In Government order No. 1166, dated 21st May 1874, the Government recognized distinctly the transferable nature of the holdings of the kalipatta ryots, i.e., of all those holding a palm-leaf pottah from Mr. Wilkinson, the settlement officer in 1836. All other ryots holding direct from the Government have, however, the same rights. Mr. Taylor describes thus the rights of these ryots :—

"I.—Khorda ryots holding ryottee tenures direct from the Government under pottahs granted at the decennial and nyabadi settlements of the estate, as well as all ryots who have subsequently obtained cultivating leases from the sarbarakars or by order of the Collector, are recognized as having full rights of occupancy without reference to the 12 years' limit, and they are liable to ejectment only for non-payment of their rents.

II.—All such ryots are permitted to sell, mortgage, exchange, or transfer in any other mode the whole or any part of their ryottee tenures absolutely at their option.

III.—The purchasers or transferees of such lands acquire the full rights of occupancy possessed by the vendors or transferers.

IV.—The ryottee holdings are subject to division either by transfer or inheritance, each part becoming after division a separate tenure answerable for its own share of the rents. Such divisions of holdings have been all along recognized, although made without the special sanction of the Collector as representative of the zemindar. But general sanction to the division of holdings was given in the notification of the 19th February 1875, issued by the Collector promulgating the Government order No. 1166 of the 21st May 1874.

V.—The effect of the sub-division of holdings which have been made since 1836, including the great number of butwarrahs now made at settlement, does not appear to have materially affected the average size of ryottee holdings."

32. One very interesting fact is brought to notice by Mr. Taylor, namely, that, although sub-division of holdings has been going on since 1836, the average size of holdings as now found, has, if anything, increased. Mr. Taylor writes :—

"After eight years' experience in Khorda of the practical effect of allowing occupancy ryots to deal with their holdings absolutely at their own will and pleasure, I am convinced that the system is a good one for the ryots themselves and for every one else. I am certain that the fear expressed in some quarters that it is dangerous and ruinous to the ryot to allow him to sell or mortgage his land to whomsoever he pleases is a mere fallacy. Most surely the fact of a person having a valuable and marketable property in land or anything else, places him, under all conceivable circumstances, in a better position than if he had no such marketable commodity at his command. Of course the unthrifty and unindustrious man will come to grief, whether he be ryot or mahajan; and it would be impossible to prevent such a ryot from losing his lands by any legislation forbidding his selling them. He would still lose them—but for nothing, and the land would revert to the zemindar. But if he be allowed to sell, he will, in losing his land, get an equivalent in money, and the good and thrifty ryot will probably be the purchaser. Even supposing the land is taken by a money-lender in satisfaction of his mortgage, or sold to a mahajan, what harm would accrue? The land would still be cultivated, and perhaps better cultivated by the mouled man, who in cultivating the land would have to support hired laborers. It is not in accordance with the experience gained over 43 years and more in Khorda that the granting of a marketable right to the occupancy ryots has in any way tended to reduce that class to the status of mere laborers; nor do I believe that such will be found to be the case in any other district where the transfer by private sale or mortgage of ryottee holdings is permitted. The zemindar cannot lose by the fact that his ryots have marketable right in their lands, for that land is always good and ample security for the rent without reference to the persons who may happen to hold it. He would, of course, lose any bonus or increased rent which a new man might be willing to pay for the ryotti tenure were it to revert to the zemindar; but it should be remembered that, in granting proprietary rights to zemindars, the Government gave them property to which they were not previously entitled, and that in doing so the right to legislate for the protection and welfare of the ryots was distinctly reserved by section 8, clause 1, Regulation I of 1793."

These facts entirely support the present policy of Government in respect of making holdings transferable.

33. It will be convenient to deal with the ryot question in the manner in which the Board take it up, viz. to decide what the incidents of the occupancy tenure in Khorda are in the abstract, and then settle what classes of ryots should be deemed occupancy ryots.

34. The first point on which the Board ask for orders is whether occupancy ryots shall be liable to eviction. In the draft Rent Bill now before Government, the Rent Commission has recognized the transferable and saleable character of the occupancy holding, and the landlord is compelled to bring the tenure to sale for arrears instead of evicting the ryot. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board that Government should recognize this principle as applicable to its own agreements with ryots in Khorda. Eviction should be done away with save in execution of a decree giving effect to a sale.

35. For similar reasons, it must be recognized that occupancy holdings are transferable by private sale.

36. But the question whether Government should recognize the ryot's right to sub-divide and split up his holding, and the right of the purchaser of

* "This point is one of very great importance. If the ryots are allowed to sub-divide their holdings at their option and to claim registration of the parts as new holdings, and again to buy up bits of other holdings and to add them to their old holdings and form new holdings it is manifest that our registers will be in a constant state of change. The survey maps will in a few years cease to represent the existing facts; and when a new settlement has to be effected, they will long have ceased to be any guide to the actual distribution of the land. No doubt an attempt will be made to keep them up to date; but I fear the changes will be too numerous to permit of this being done with anything like accuracy. The perpetual subdivisions and recombinations of the tenants' rents, though they will not vary the amount, will be a constant source of trouble. It seems to me also that the disputes likely to arise from the constant changes and conflicting claims will be so great as to make it scarcely safe to apply the certificate procedure to the realization of the ryots' rents."

"The information given at paragraphs 168 to 170 does not show that the effect of permitting the sub-division has been largely to increase the number of holdings. This naturally results from the tendency of the holding to become what a ryot with his family requires; but it by no means follows that the dividing and sub-dividing among sharers, mortgagers, and transferors of every sort has not entailed a very large amount of labor; and considering the more complicated system that will result from the accurate survey and settlement operations now in progress, the labor will be larger in the future. It does not appear that Government has ever recognized the right of splitting up the holding and sub-dividing the rent. In the extract quoted at paragraph 155 the right of sons to succeed to their shares of the holding was admitted, and is compared to the right of sons of zemindars to succeed to the shares in their paternal estates. The right to succeed to shares in estates is, however, an altogether distinct right from that of claiming a partition, and it does not appear that this last right has ever been formally conceded by Government to the ryots of Khorda. Were the right in question a new one, I should have hesitated to advise its being conceded. Looking, however, to the fact of the long exercise of the privilege, although it seems to have never been sanctioned, I cannot recommend its withdrawal. It would perhaps, however, be worthwhile to require a fee to meet the cost of correcting the maps and registers."

fragments to be treated as a distinct ryot, stands on a different footing. The Commissioner, in paragraphs 22 and 23 of his covering letter, states the objections to it.* It is not recognized under Act X of 1859, and in the draft Rent Bill the landlord's consent is made necessary to any sub-division of the rent liability. In the absence of such consent the entire holding remains liable. This appears to be a sound principle, and the Lieutenant-Governor cannot agree with the Board that, because a Government order of 1837 has been misconstrued and misapplied by the local officers, and a practice of sub-dividing holdings allowed to grow up, Government is now bound to take up a lower position as regards its rights as landlord than the general Rent Law and the custom of the country at large assign to it. The Lieutenant-Governor would therefore make the consent of the Collector, or some officer appointed by him as manager, necessary to the recognition in the records of sub-divisions. The policy of the local management should be to allow sales of parts of holdings where the result would be amalgamation with other existing holdings, and to discourage it where the morcellement throws into the hands of separate cultivators less land than would support an average peasant family. In the absence of recognition by authority, the entire holding as recorded must remain liable for the entire rent.

37. The Board, while objecting to interfere with the existing practice of sub-division, agree with the Commissioner that the mortgaging of holdings, which is equally common, should be prohibited. In the draft Rent Bill this has also been disallowed for the following reasons as stated by the Rent Commission:—

“But although we allow the ryot to sell his holding, we prohibit him from mortgaging it. We think that this will most effectually prevent the ryot and his holding from falling into the hands of the mahajun, and that the danger which some persons apprehend of mahajuns becoming the owners of occupancy holdings while the quondam ryots will remain on the land in a degraded condition of serfage, will thus to a considerable extent be obviated. We believe that a ryot whom no persuasion will induce to sell his land, can very easily be led to borrow a few rupees upon the security of it for a wedding, a shadh, or for some purpose of emergency. A bad season, sickness, or not uncommonly his own improvidence, prevents him from repaying the loan which is rapidly swelled by interest. He thus gets more and more into the mahajun's hands; and the hope of extricating himself and recovering his position finally disappears altogether, the result being that the mahajun gets a decree, brings the holding to sale, and purchases it himself for much less than its real value. A mahajun who will readily lend a little money on a ryot's holding in the hope of ultimately realizing a very considerable profit by foreclosing his mortgage, will have no desire to purchase the same holding at anything like a reasonable price with the intention of becoming a capitalist farmer. In order to render effectual the prohibition against mortgaging, we have enacted that any such mortgage shall be void to all intents and purposes, and that no court of justice shall take cognizance thereof, or give effect thereto, in any judicial proceeding whatever; and we have further enacted that a right of occupancy, though saleable in execution of a decree for its own rent, shall not be saleable in execution of any other decree.”

The Lieutenant-Governor approves the proposal to prohibit mortgages of ryots' holdings in Khorda.

38. In paragraph 194 of his report, the settlement officer gives, seriatim

* “I. All settlement ryots have full rights of occupancy so long as they continue to pay the rents assessed at settlement on the lands covered by their ryottee pottahs and which may be in their actual possession. Such ryots are called occupancy ryots.

“II. All such occupancy ryots may sell or otherwise permanently transfer the whole or any part of their ryottee lands at pleasure, but no such transfer shall be recognized until that fact has been duly notified to the Collector, sub-divisional officer, teshildar, or other officer authorized to make mutations, and recorded in the jummaabandi papers for the village and in the mutation register of ryottee holdings.

“III. The holdings of occupancy ryots are subject of inheritance under the laws of inheritance applicable to the holders thereof, and they can be sub-divided amongst heirs.

“IV. On an occupancy ryottee holding being split up or divided under Rules 2 or 3, each portion after sub-division shall be a distinct holding liable for its share of the rent fixed at settlement on the original holding.

“V. In cases of dispute the amount of such share of the rent shall be decided by the teshildar or other superior officer by a reference to the settlement khian or original pottah, which shews the rate of rent assessed at settlement on each kiari or field of the holding.

“VI. Heirs inheriting the whole or any part of an occupancy ryot's holding succeed to all the rights and privileges of the original occupancy ryot.

“VII. In like manner the purchaser or permanent transferee obtaining possession under a valid deed of sale or transfer of the whole or any part of an occupancy ryot's holding, acquires all the rights and privileges of an occupancy ryot.

“VIII. An occupancy ryot may mortgage the whole or any part of his occupancy holding with or without possession. But if he gives possession to the mortgagee, the fact of the mortgage must be notified and recorded as for sales and transfers under Rule II. A mortgagee in possession of the whole or any part of an occupancy ryot's holding under a valid deed of mortgage will enjoy the rights and privileges of an occupancy ryot so long as he may be in possession of the land. During the occupancy of a mortgagee the rights as occupancy ryots of the mortgagor shall be in abeyance, but on his releasing the land from mortgage and obtaining possession thereof, he will again be entitled to all the rights and privileges possessed by him before he mortgaged the land.

a list* of the rights and privileges of occupancy ryots as he would have them. The first seven articles will have to be modified with reference to the remarks recorded above regarding sub-division of holdings. The proposal to levy a small fee for the registration of recognized transfers and successions is approved. This is in accordance with the provisions of the draft Rent Bill.

39. Articles VIII to XI drop with the disallowance of mortgages.

40. Articles XIV and XV regarding the grant of receipts to occupancy ryots for rent are approved.

41. Article XVI, with a view to preventing mis-

"IX. All rents shall be payable by the mortgagee in possession, and the sarbarakar shall grant him receipts for rent in his own name as paid by him on account of the holding held by him in mortgage. The sarbarakar shall not give the mortgagee receipts for the rent as absolute owner of the land unless he shall foreclose the mortgage and obtain an order of the court ordering his name to be recorded as the actual occupancy ryot.

"X. In case the mortgagee shall fail to pay the rent, the mortgager shall be permitted to do so in order to save his tenure from resumption, and the sarbarakar shall be bound to receive the rent so tendered and to grant a receipt for the same.

"XI. No suit to cancel the occupancy pottah or resume the holding on failure of the mortgagee to pay the rent shall be instituted until notice of the arrear due has been served on the mortgagor by the sarbarakar through the sub-divisional officer and opportunity given him to pay up.

"XII. Occupancy ryots may sub-let the whole or any part of their ryottee holdings either for a term or year by year. An under-tenant or cultivator of an occupancy ryot's tenure holding on after the expiration of his lease without fresh pottah, or holding from the commencement of his occupancy without a pottah, shall be taken as holding 'year by year.'

"XIII. Cultivators or under-tenants holding lands for a term, or year by year, from an occupancy ryot shall not acquire occupancy right in the lands by mere lapse of time.

"XIV. The rents of a ryottee occupancy holding shall be payable by or in the name of the recorded occupancy ryot. Receipts for the rent shall be given by sarbarakars in his name, and the name of the person actually paying in the rent shall also be noted on the receipt.

"XV. Occupancy ryots are entitled to receipts in the prescribed forms for every payment of rent made by them or on their behalf.

"XVI. Occupancy ryots are prohibited from paying any rent in advance of due dates, and no advance payments will be recognized.

"XVII. Sarbarakars are prohibited from instituting any suit for the cancellation of an occupancy pottah for non-payment of rent, or from making an application for assistance in ejecting an occupancy ryot without the previous sanction of the Collector.

"XVIII. In cases of loss of crop from flood or drought an occupancy ryot shall be entitled to remission of rent under the Collector's orders on the following scale:—on losses up to half the crop on the ground no remission; on losses of over $\frac{1}{2}$ th and to $\frac{3}{4}$ th of crop, remission of half the rent; on losses of crop exceeding $\frac{3}{4}$ th remission of the whole rent."

43. Article XVIII lays down a scale of remissions for loss of crops. As the Board suggest, it should be omitted from the settlement record, such remissions being entirely matters of grace. They have nevertheless always been recognized as necessary in Orissa; and to omit all reference to the subject in the form of pottah, might give rise to difficulties. It will be sufficient if it is stated in these forms that remission "will be granted when necessary in accordance with such rules or orders as may from time to time be laid down by the Board of Revenue."

44. It remains to settle what classes of ryots are to be regarded as occupancy ryots. Taking them in the order given by Mr. Taylor:—

- (1)—The kalipatta ryots are of course to be recognized as such as heretofore.

The next two classes in Mr. Taylor's list are—

- (2)—Tola ryots, i.e., those regularly settled on the land by sarbarakars subsequently to the last settlement; and
- (3)—Tola squatters, or ryots who have settled themselves since the last settlement, and not taken out leases.

The Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that every cultivator who has settled down with the intention of remaining on the land as a cultivator, should be recorded as an occupancy ryot entitled to protection as long as he pays the rates of rent assessed on him. This is the principle which Government would, on grounds of public policy, wish to see adopted throughout Bengal, and it is bound to give full effect to it on its own estates.

45. (4) The fourth class, are the ryots of the lakhirajdars. These do not, as the Board remark, concern the Settlement Officer. He need only record that such and such a field is held by a certain person named, styling himself ryot of the lakhirajdar.

In the case of tankidars or quit-rent holders, the Board anticipate difficulty in deciding whether a cultivator under such, is a sub-ryot or an occupancy ryot. The decision of this point will depend of course on the question whether the tankidar is himself a tenure-holder or a ryot, and in deciding what to record on this head, the settlement officer must, no doubt, as the Board say, look to the general character of the tenure. From the correspondence appropriation by sarbarakars, forbids payments in advance, and states that such payments will not be recognized. The Board recommend that this may be allowed to stand, but the Lieutenant-Governor is doubtful as to the legality of the rule. If a ryot proved that he had paid his rent to the Government agent, the Courts should certainly not levy the rent from him a second time. The sarbarakars should be forbidden to collect the rents in advance, and be punished for misconduct, but this article, as affecting the ryots, should be omitted.

42. Article XVII must go out with the abandonment of the right of eviction.

regarding rafa-tanki lands, and the manner in which they were assessed at half ryottee rates, it would however appear that in most cases the tankidars were of the ryot class. In any case the settlement officer would only have to deal, as regards the assessment of revenue, with the quit-rent holder himself. It would be for the sub-tenant to assert in Court any rights he might conceive himself to possess against the tankidar. The difficulty does not, as far as the Lieutenant-Governor sees, affect the settlement proceedings materially.

46. (5) Ryots cultivating under the holders of service jaghir lands form the next class—These are, as the Board show, and as is apparent from the nature of the tenures, rather sub-ryots than ryots, or like the cultivators of khamar land. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board that they should be regarded as tenants at will, and they should not be allowed to acquire occupancy rights. Service tenures of this class must be kept entirely unencumbered.

47. (6) The next class embraces the sub-ryots of the kalipatta and tola ryots. These must also be regarded as tenants at will.

48. (7) The Board promise a separate report as to the position of holders of reclamation leases for large tracts forming the next class of cultivators, and this will be awaited.

49. (8) Cultivators of temporary taila or joom lands have, of course, from the nature of their tenure, no occupancy rights. Mr. Taylor submits a set of rules for regulating this "taila" or joom cultivation. The Board approve these, and as they are calculated to bring this destructive style of tillage under control, the Lieutenant-Governor accepts them.

50. Mr. Taylor also makes proposals for regulating tola cultivation, i.e., the permanent reclamation of waste. The Board promise a separate report on this subject which will be awaited.

51. Lastly, under this part of the Report, the Lieutenant-Governor approves of the dates proposed for the payment of instalments of ryottee and sarbarakari rents, viz.—

For ryots	{	1st instalment, 15th December.	4	Pais = $\frac{1}{16}$
		2nd ditto, 15th January.	4	" = $\frac{1}{16}$
		3rd ditto, 15th February.	4	" = $\frac{1}{16}$
		4th ditto, 15th March.	4	" = $\frac{1}{16}$
For sarbarakars	{	On or before 1st February.	4	" = $\frac{1}{16}$
		" " 1st March.	4	" = $\frac{1}{16}$
		" " 1st April.	4	" = $\frac{1}{16}$
		" " 1st May.	4	" = $\frac{1}{16}$

These dates give the ryots time to get their crops to market, and allow the sarbarakars a reasonable interval to collect the rents.

52. In part III of Mr. Taylor's report the question of rates is specially dealt with. The Board practically accept the settlement officer's proposals, which are generally in accordance with directions given by Mr. Dampier and the Board on different occasions.

53. The Board first refer to the assessments of orchards discussed at pages 42 and 43 of Mr. Taylor's report. At the former settlement, groves not standing on ryottee cultivation were left unassessed as public or common property. The only result of this seems to have been that individuals managed to get illegal possession of many of them to the general loss of the village community. Mr. Taylor now proposes the following rules—

I.—All groves required for public purposes, such as market sites, camping grounds for troops, and the like, should be reserved to Government and not leased.

II.—~~All~~ Ryots' leases for cultivation should include the trees on the land leased.

III.—All orchards, topes, and groves, not reserved for public purposes, should be leased in convenient blocks to be marked off and number of trees noted. The leases to specify the following conditions—

1st.—That living trees are not to be cut down without express permission.

2nd.—That the wood of trees that may die or be blown down or felled by permission shall be the property of the lessee, and that he shall be bound to plant and protect till maturity a fresh plant in place of the tree removed.

3rd.—Infringement of conditions of lease to involve cancellation."

The Lieutenant-Governor approves these proposals, and accepts also the further suggestion that young orchards now on the ground are to remain unassessed, and that new orchards may be planted on non-assessed lands during the currency of the settlement free of rent. The following rule, regarding classification and rates of rent for orchards, is accepted by the Lieutenant-Governor.

"In classifying orchards, the nature of the soil, situation, age, number, and productive power of the trees should be carefully considered:—

First-class at Rs. 23-7-0 per acre for poonang (Alexandrian laurel) and cocoanuts.

Second-class at Rs. 14-1-0 per acre for poonang, cocoanuts, and betel.

Third-class at Rs. 10-2-0 per acre for poonang, cocoanuts, betel, or tamarind.

Fourth-class at Rs. 4-6-10 per acre for tamarind, mango, or jack, &c.

Fifth-class at Rs. 3-2-0 per acre for ditto ditto.

Sixth-class at Rs. 2-5-6 per acre for mango or jack, &c.

Seventh-class at Rs. 1-9-0 per acre for mango, &c.

Eighth-class at Rs. 1-0-8 per acre for ditto, &c.

Ninth-class at Rs. 0-8-4 per acre for ditto, &c.

54. Similarly, the Lieutenant-Governor sees no reason to object to the principles for regulating the assessment of tanks and fisheries as approved in paragraph 31 of the Board's letter. The general principles followed are to reserve for common use all public waters; to assess sites of private tanks at the lowest rate for arable lands; to bring the control of surplus water for irrigation in times of drought under Government officers; to leave fisheries in blocks without giving any right to create obstructions; and to bring the construction of dams and bunds under the officer in charge of the estate.

55. The most important point to be considered is of course the rates to be imposed on arable lands. In the settlement just expiring, the money rents were, it appears, fixed so as to be nearly equivalent to one-third of the value of the gross produce of the different classes of land. Mr. Taylor proposes to take one-fourth as the test in the present settlement. The effect of this reduction in the proportion taken is not by any means to lower the rents, because the measurements now made are not only accurate in themselves but take in much new cultivation, while the value of produce has risen very greatly. Strictly speaking, it is of course inequitable to take the same amount of gross produce, or its corresponding average value, as rent from rich and poor lands alike, but it is a simple and rough method of assessing rent which is understood by the people and usual in all parts of India. The proportion suggested is that which has been adopted in the draft Rent Bill as the proposed maximum rent of an occupancy ryot, but it will fall comparatively lightly in Khorda, owing to the manner in which the average value has been ascertained, and, moreover, it is the intention of Government to make the settlement for a long term of years, whereas, under the Rent Bill, fresh enhancements may take place every ten years.

The average outturn of produce on each field has been most carefully ascertained; and Mr. Taylor assures Government that the estimates are in every case favorable to the ryot. He shows this indeed clearly by comparison with the records of former settlements. The Board have satisfied themselves on the point, and the Lieutenant-Governor sees no reason to doubt the moderation of Mr. Taylor's conclusions. Mr. Taylor's average in 170 villages was 14 maunds, 24 seers the acre, as against 16 maunds, 3 seers in Mr. Wilkinson's last settlement. There is no reason to believe that the productive powers of the land have deteriorated, and the conclusion is, therefore, that Mr. Taylor's estimates of produce are really below the mark. Again, in calculating the average price for valuing the produce, Mr. Taylor shows that he has kept on the safe side. In 1836 the rate taken was 178 seers per rupee. Mr. Taylor takes now 80 seers, and shows that the ryot does, as a fact, always sell his produce for far more than this. Here, again, there is a margin in the ryot's favour.

56. The rates of money rent resulting from these calculations for each class of land are as follow :—

Dofaslee or two-cropped land, rice and moong, &c.

Classes.	Rate per mán of 19,600 sq. ft. at settlement of 1836.	Rate per mán of 19,600 sq. ft. at settlement of 1857.	Rate per mán of 19,600 sq. ft. at present settlement.	Rate per acre at present settlement.	REMARKS.

From these tables it might be gathered that the settlement of 1857 was, in respect of the lower classes of land, more lenient than that now proposed. But the settlement of 1857 was only a revision of that of 1836, in respect of lands brought newly under cultivation, and the extremely low rates of that year as regards the last classes in the tables, merely represent the assessments on lands freshly reclaimed which are now in full bearing. Comparing the proposed rates of 1880 with those of 1836 the enhancement does not appear extreme. The lowest rates compare thus :—

	1836.	1880.
	Rs. A. P. K.	Rs. A. P.
Two-cropped lands	... 0 6 14 16	0 11 3
Single-crop rice	... 0 3 2 8	0 3 9
Dalua rice	... 0 4 3 4	0 5 7½

	1836.	1880.
	Rs. A. P. K.	Rs. A. P.
Two-cropped lands	... 1 3 2 8	2 1 9
Single-crop rice	... 1 0 0 0	1 15 10½
Dalua rice	... 0 8 6 8	0 15 0

On the whole, as regards rice-lands, and looking to the notorious rise in prices during the last 40 years, the Lieutenant-Governor does not think the rates proposed are inconsiderate and they may be accepted.

57. In the rates proposed for "Bazai Fasal" lands, i.e., for the lands bearing the more valuable dry crops, such as pān, sugar,* &c., the enhancement is more severe. Compared with the rates in neighbouring mchals as ascertained by Mr. Taylor, they are not excessive, but the Lieutenant-Governor nevertheless thinks the enhancements too great and sudden, and would wish to see some modifications made. The Board are requested to reconsider the point. It is desirable to encourage the cultivation of the more valuable crops, and the rates on lands occupied by such should in any case be assessed, rather with reference to the quality of soil and its capabilities if under ordinary staple crops, than with reference to the value of any special crop depending on the expenditure of capital and extra labor.

bearing the more valuable dry crops, such as pān, sugar,* &c., the enhancement is more severe. Compared with the rates in neighbouring mchals as ascertained by Mr. Taylor, they are not excessive, but the Lieutenant-Governor nevertheless thinks the enhancements too great and sudden, and would wish to see some modifications made. The Board are requested to reconsider the point. It is desirable to encourage the cultivation tion of the more valuable crops, and the rates on lands occupied by such should in any case be assessed, rather with reference to the quality of soil and its capabilities if under ordinary staple crops, than with reference to the value of any special crop depending on the expenditure of capital and extra labor.

58. Reasonable as the rates proposed by Mr. Taylor for arable lands are on the whole, some care will be required in applying them in detail. Not only are arable lands being more highly assessed, but new assessments on orchards, tanks, &c., are being imposed, while many exemptions hitherto in force are being done away with. If the concessions in regard to homestead lands suggested in paragraph 27 of this resolution are adopted, doubtless the ryots will have less cause for complaint. But in any case the Lieutenant-Governor would wish to see applied all the limitations upon undue enhancement suggested by the Rent Commission, so far at least as the arable lands are concerned. Thus no ryots' rent (for his arable lands) should be more than doubled in consequence of any enhancement on the ground of increased value of produce; and where the increase is more than 50 per cent, the settlement officer should make it rassadi, if the ryot is likely to feel the enhancement at all severely. This last rule should apply also in cases where the enhancement is owing chiefly to more correct measurement.

59. In the concluding paragraphs of his report Mr. Taylor asks for orders on some miscellaneous matters:—

- (1).—Nainjori, or road-side lands.—He proposes to settle such lands at favourable rates (one class lower than actual quality). This is approved. The sanction of the Government of India will be asked to the appropriation of the rents of these lands to the improvement and repair of the estate roads.
- (2).—Pottahs and Kabulyuts.—Mr. Taylor proposes to grant regular pottahs, but these will be valueless unless registered at great expense, and it will be enough, as Mr. Dampier suggests, to give each ryot an extract from the jumwabundi, showing the entries affecting him.
- (3).—Publication of jumwabundi.—The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board that the particulars of all ryots whose rents are enhanced should be published in the jumwabundi notified under section 9 of the Settlement Act of 1879.
- (4).—Minerals, Mines, &c.—The right of Government to all minerals, fort-walls, mines, treasure trove and ancient relics, whether on lakhiraj, tanki, ryottee, or any other land should be maintained. The Commissioner would except lakhiraj lands, but it is desirable to hold to the custom of the estate, which appears to vest these rights in Government.
- (5).—Forests.—So also all rights in forests and forest-produce should be reserved.

60. Finally, the Board ask for orders as to the period for which the settlement shall be made. The general settlement of Orissa expires in September 1896. Mr. Dampier proposes to settle Khorda for 35 years, i.e., up to 1915. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks it would be better to settle the whole estate for 30 years up to 1910. But after 15 years (instead of 16 as proposed by Mr. Dampier), adjustment should be made with the surbarakars as regards new cultivation, in the same manner as was done by Mr. Ricketts in 1857. All lands then found under cultivation, and not assessed under the present settlement, should be assessed to revenue at the rates now prescribed.

61. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Board and the settlement officer will, under the orders given above, be able to bring this important settlement to a satisfactory conclusion. If the results in those villages where the proposed rates and rules have been tentatively applied be any test, the settlement should raise the Government revenue about 88 per cent., but it does this, in great measure, by assessing extensions of cultivation and lands not duly assessed at last settlement, the average rate of enhancement per bigha on arable lands being only about 57 per cent. As comparing with the rise in the value of produce this enhancement is, as already shown, moderate to a degree. Mr. Taylor gives in an appendix, statements showing that the value of ryottee holdings in Khorda as evidenced by sale, has been steadily rising, and has continued to do so during the progress of the present settlement (begun in 1876), notwithstanding that the enhanced rates have been long known locally. The prices realised in the first five months of 1879 in registered sales, when the actual details were fully known to the people, are higher than they ever were before, rising to as high an average as Rs. 57-5-9 per acre. The value of quit-rent lands has risen in the same way notwithstanding the pending enhancement. These facts would seem to show that the proposed settlement is felt to be lenient and equitable by those most concerned.

ORDER—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Board of Revenue, in the Land Revenue Department, for information and guidance; also that a copy of the Resolution, together with a copy of the report, be submitted to the Government of India, Home, Revenue, and Agriculture Department for information, and that a copy of the Resolution only, be forwarded to the Judicial (Police) Department of this office for information, and for issue of the necessary orders, with reference to paragraph 23 (i), and to the Appointment Department of this office for information, with reference to the latter part of paragraph 1.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY FOR THE YEAR 1879.

MEDICAL AND MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.—MUNICIPAL.

Calcutta, the 18th July 1880.

READ—

Administration Report of the Calcutta Municipality for 1879.

THIS report reached Government on 28th May, and in regard to early submission it contrasts very favourably with the reports for the two previous years. It is signed by the Officiating Chairman "on behalf of the Commissioners," and, except where one or two extracts are given from memoranda left by the late Chairman, Mr. Souttar, it contains no expression of individual opinion. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that the Commissioners might with advantage leave the task of preparing the administration report to their Chairman. He recognizes the excellence of the motives which prompt them to undertake this duty themselves, but he is constrained to think that a report embracing a wide range of topics and involving reference to much executive detail would be more satisfactorily prepared by the Chairman, aided at most by one or two specially selected Commissioners, than by a large number of persons. One of the disadvantages of extensive joint authorship is a necessary absence of decided expression of opinion on many points of interest. As conflicting views cannot all obtain prominence, the natural tendency is to a compromise, and the report in consequence becomes less full and interesting than it might otherwise have been.

2. Mr. W. M. Souttar was Chairman and Mr. Kimber Engineer throughout the year. The Vice-Chairmanship was vacated by Baboo Sreenath Ghose in consequence of ill-health, and Baboo Shama Churn Dey was appointed to succeed him. The Secretary, Mr. R. Turnbull, was absent on leave for eight months, and the duties of his office were discharged for this period by Mr. R. Williamson, in addition those of Surveyor and Assessor to the Municipality. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the suggestion made by Government for the permanent amalgamation of the appointments of Vice-Chairman and Secretary will receive attention when a suitable opportunity presents itself. Dr. McLeod was elected to the appointment of Health Officer in the room of Dr. Payne, who resigned his post on departmental promotion, and the opportunity of this change was taken to revise and accurately define the duties attaching to the office.

3. Three years having expired from the date of the first election of Commissioners under the existing Act, an election was duly held in October. The Commissioners give a statement showing the number of persons who were registered as qualified to vote and the number of person who voted in 1879 as compared with 1876, and remark that "the progress exhibited by the increased number of registrations is satisfactory." The Lieutenant-Governor cannot concur in this view. The number registered is still only 7,004 against 4,994 in 1876—a mere fraction of the number of persons qualified to vote. Of the total number 6,025 were Hindoos, 604 were Mahomedans and 375 belonged to other races. According to the last census Calcutta contained 278,224 Hindoos, 123,556 Mahomedans, and 27,755 persons belonging to other races. But it is obviously of chief importance to compare the number of persons who took the trouble to vote. This was only 5,093 against 4,158 in 1876, while in six wards out of the 18 the number actually showed a decrease. In only three wards did more than 500 persons vote, while in nine the number was less than 250, and in four less than 100. Of the 48 Commissioners 11 were elected by less than 100 votes each, and 23 by less than 200, while only five polled more than 500 votes. In ward No. 18 only 16 votes were given for the election of two Commissioners. Even this, however, would give an exaggerated view of the extent to which the electors of the constituency in question exercised the franchise; for only 9 voted—6 Europeans or Eurasians and 3 Hindoos; and of the 9 who voted, 7 must have given double votes, as Mr. Babonau polled 12 and Baboo Shishir Coomar Ghose 4 votes. Mr. Souttar in his note on the election states that the candidates make no public appearances, but proceed at once "to canvassing and the collection of votes," and that the actual polling consists "of the candidates or their agents appearing before the polling officer with sheaves of votes." It appears, then, that even the small number of votes tendered were given under circumstances involving the minimum of exertion or inconvenience on the part of the voters; and the effect of Mr. Souttar's description is impaired by the evidence which accompanies it, that in five cases the "sheaf" contained less than 25 voting papers. Looking to all the circumstances and the results, the Lieutenant-Governor can see only the plainest evidence that the vast majority of the qualified rate-payers of Calcutta regard the election of their municipal representatives with absolute indifference, and that they evince no desire whatever to exercise the franchise which has been conferred upon them. Sir Ashley Eden gladly acknowledges the good service rendered to the municipality by some of the elected Commissioners, especially those who had experience of municipal administration under the system now superseded; but it appears to him idle to say that, as a body, the Commissioners really represent more than a small fraction of the rate-payers.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see that the Commissioners have done something to reduce the general Committee, known as the Town Council, to more moderate dimensions. He still, however, considers that a working sub-committee, consisting of 30 out of 72 Commissioners, is unduly large, and that the despatch of business would be promoted by its reduction to one-third of its present dimension. It should be the object of a sub-committee to transact business rather than to provide opportunities for oratorical exercise, and this can only be effected by restricting it to such dimensions that close personal interchange of views may be possible between its members. In a large Committee, embracing most of the speaking element among the Commissioners, discussions necessarily turn into formal debates, which might as well be conducted in the presence of the whole body. There were 12 sub-committees to dispose of, or report on, special subjects. The Lieutenant-Governor would have been glad to see that some of these committees had displayed greater vigour. It is very remarkable that such committees as the Tank Committee and the Committee of the Improvement of Bustees, two of the most important branches of the work of the municipality, should not have held more than one meeting. The law requires that there shall be one ordinary meeting of the Commissioners in each month, if there is any general business for disposal. During the year only one ordinary meeting was held. There were, however, four quarterly, ten special general, and four special meetings. Altogether 22 Commissioners attended more than 30 general or committee meetings, and of these five attended more than 50. A considerable number of Commissioners, elected and nominated, were in office for less than twelve months of the year, and it is difficult to judge what amount of interest is likely to be taken by the newly-elected members. But it is worthy of note that, of the Commissioners who held office before, and who were recently re-elected, no less than 4 only attended 5, and 3 only 8 meetings, general or committee, during the twelve months.

5. In the resolution on the report for 1877 the Lieutenant-Governor found it necessary to impress upon the Commissioners the absolute necessity of at once taking steps to give proof of their desire and ability to rescue the municipality from the serious financial danger by which it was then menaced, and to introduce the reforms so urgently needed in every branch of the municipality. It will now be necessary to see how far the Commissioners have succeeded.

6. It will be convenient, before examining the financial results of the year itself, to note the position of the municipality in regard to its liabilities to Government and the public. The municipal loan debt stood thus on 31st December 1878:—

				Rs.	A.	P.
To Government ...	{	Water-supply loan at 4 per cent.	...	52,00,000	0	0
		Ditto ditto 4½ "	...	5,56,000	0	0
		Drainage ditto 4½ "	...	24,59,400	0	0
		Markot ditto 4½ "	...	11,77,330	2	2
		Office ditto 4½ "	...	1,30,000	0	0
Total				95,22,730	2	2
To Public	{	Debentures at 6 per cent.	...	54,99,600	0	0
		Ditto at 5 "	...	6,50,000	0	0
Grand total				1,56,72,330	2	2

An important concession was offered by the Government of India and accepted by the Commissioners during the year, under which the liabilities of the municipality to Government were consolidated into one loan, to be discharged, after surrender of the sinking fund on the Government loans, in sixty equal half-yearly payments. The Government of India consented to take over the Sinking Fund at the market rate of the securities on 1st January 1879, the date of adjustment. On this date the principal outstanding on the Government books (a sum of Rs. 2,346-0-9 on account of the instalment of the market loan due in 1878 being adjusted) was Rs. 95,20,384-1-5. The value of the Sinking Fund surrendered on that date was Rs. 16,89,184-7-2. The balance outstanding on 1st January 1879 was therefore Rs. 78,31,199-10-3, and the Accountant-General has completed arrangements for adjusting this consolidated loan in accordance with the terms proposed by the Government of India. This measure is one of great importance to the municipality. It has diminished its yearly contributions by more than a lakh and a quarter of rupees, and by lengthening the period for the extinction of the municipal liabilities to Government, it relieves the present rate-payers of an unduly heavy share in the cost of permanent improvements to the town.

7. The debenture loan was increased by six lakhs of rupees during the year, of which four lakhs are required for the construction of drainage works and two lakhs for increasing the water-supply. The loan at 5 per cent. was floated in June when money was dear and the price of Government securities was low. Under the circumstances the result was fair. The Bank of Bengal took up Rs. 5,08,000 at Rs. 99·4, the balance Rs. 92,000 having been taken up in small sums at par or a little above it. At the close of the year therefore the debenture loan stood thus—

				Rs.
At 6 per cent.	54,99,600
At 5 "	12,50,000
Total				67,49,600

The Sinking Fund against this stood at Rs. 15,69,145-6-2 on 31st December 1879.

8. In regard to the relation between income and expenditure, the position of the municipality at the close of 1878 was most unsatisfactory. The balance at the credit of the municipality, exclusive of the value of stores in stock, was Rs. 1,88,457-14, while the liabilities still to be discharged amounted to Rs. 4,73,531. In view of this deficit, the Commissioners raised the house-rate for 1879 from 9 per cent. to the full rate of 10 per cent.; and raised the water-rate from 3½ to 3¾ per cent. The budget was framed for an income of Rs. 32,66,752 against Rs. 25,86,628 in 1878. The expenditure was estimated at Rs. 33,59,204 against Rs. 29,30,211 in the previous year. The result, though, as will be shown further on, less favourable than might have been obtained, has been that equilibrium has been more than secured, and that the year 1879 closed with a credit balance, exclusive of the value of stores, of Rs. 6,65,460.

9. The following comparative statement shows the receipts in each fund during the two years:—

		1878.			1879.
		Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
General Fund	...	19,37,082	7	11	23,19,030	6	8
Water	...	4,46,083	8	4	5,40,745	7	7
Lighting	...	2,03,462	14	6	2,48,726	4	10
Total	...	25,86,628	14	0	31,08,502	3	1

Though a large increase was thus shown, the receipts were no less than Rs. 1,58,250 short of the budget estimate, the falling off under "House-rate," "Water Rate" and "Trade Refuse Fees" amounting to Rs. 67,488, Rs. 29,294, and Rs. 18,552 respectively. The chief cause of this result is to be found in the want of vigour shown in realizing arrear demands. At the close of the year there were bills for no less than Rs. 6,75,939 lying unrealized in the hands of the different responsible officers. The Lieutenant-Governor considers this circumstance and the attempt made to explain it as equally unsatisfactory. The Commissioners say that it is "not creditable" that the arrears should have increased from Rs. 5,74,272 at the close of 1878, to Rs. 6,75,939 at the close of 1879. They omit, however, to state to whom, in their opinion, the discredit attaches. To the Lieutenant-Governor it is quite incomprehensible how those who have undertaken the administration of the municipality could permit the remissness that has marked the proceedings of every department in connection with the matter, to pass unchallenged.

It appears that on the last day of the year the Assessor had in his hands an enormous number of bills, which should have been made over to the Warrant Officer. The following statement shows the work done and the work remaining to be done in this department in regard to these bills:—

				Made over.	Remaining in hand on 31st December.
				Rs.	Rs.
House-rate	28,877	43,707
Water-rate	16,020	51,937
Police-rate	9,793	30,975
Lighting-rate	8,724	27,619
Night-soil fees	31,717	1,20,567
				95,131	2,74,835

No explanation whatever is offered of this extraordinary state of affairs.

The figures in the body of the report, regarding the outstanding bills in the hands of the Collector, do not tally with those taken by the auditors from the balance sheets. It has been ascertained that this resulted from some miscellaneous bills having been returned to the Secretary, but not credited in the account books before the close of the year, and from some double credits not having then been adjusted. According to the accounts, the Collector had in hand on 31st December unrealized bills to the following amounts:—

					Rs.	A.	P.
House-rate	52,638	2	0
Water-rate	29,564	8	3
Police-rate	17,730	2	6
Lighting-rate	15,758	9	9
Night-soil fees	40,879	5	6
Miscellaneous	16,836	9	5
Total	1,73,407	5	5

It appears that the percentage of the collections on the total demand was 86 in 1876 and 1877, 74 in 1878, and 80 in 1879. In previous years it varied from 93 to 87. The Commissioners urge that the Collector's Department was new to its work, and that the introduction of night-soil fees disturbs the comparison in the former years. The staff, however, got to work in February, and the collections in the second quarter were relatively better than in the fourth. Moreover, night-soil fees were collected during the second-half of 1877, and there is no good reason why the realization of this demand should be much more difficult than the collection of other rates. The Lieutenant-Governor is unable to admit the sufficiency of the explanation.

The proceedings in the Warrant Department are still more remarkable:—

	Amount for collection.			Collected.			Remitted.			Balance.
	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
House-rate	1,12,367	4	3	45,312	5	0	3,945	0	9	63,209	14	6
Water-rate	61,680	4	0	20,490	6	9	1,428	3	9	39,761	9	6
Police-rate	37,158	6	0	12,786	1	6	1,372	3	0	23,000	1	6
Lighting rate	32,086	0	0	11,380	8	0	1,115	8	3	20,489	15	9
Night-soil fees	85,246	7	0	17,408	0	9	1,283	8	3	66,554	14	0
Total	3,29,438	5	3	1,07,377	6	0	9,014	8	0	2,13,016	7	3

The Commissioners first give the correct figure for the balance and then take another figure without explanation. The percentage of collections on the demand was 40 in 1879 against 52 in 1878 and 69 in 1877. The Commissioners offer two explanations—(1) that a large number of unrealized bills had been allowed to accumulate by the late Collector; and (2) that a great deal of work was thrown on the Warrant Department in connection with the Imperial License-tax. Neither of these pleas can be admitted. The late Collector had been superseded before the year began, and there must have been ample time to ascertain what arrears left by him were actually unrealizable and should be written off; and the law provided a liberal contribution to the Municipal Funds to admit of the entertainment of all necessary special establishments in connection with the Imperial License-tax.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad that the Commissioners recognize that this "great blot" in their financial administration is discreditable, and he hopes that the discovery will not be without effect in showing them that their energies may be more profitably employed than in lengthy and acrimonious debates. The Lieutenant-Governor holds that the Chairman and Vice-Chairman, as well as the Commissioners themselves, are greatly to blame. He is glad to learn that the Acting Chairman, Mr. Beverley, had taken up the matter before his attention was drawn to it by Government, and that a sub-committee has been appointed to investigate the matter. A special establishment has been employed to work off the arrears, and care will be taken in future to distinguish between arrears of the current year and those of previous years.

11. The total amount at the disposal of the Commissioners during the year, including the balances of cash, stores, and stock, and the proceeds of the debenture loans of six lakhs, was ... Rs. 43,36,946, and the aggregate actual expenditure was ... ,, 31,29,682.

The net balance at the close of the year was ... Rs. 12,07,264, including the value of stores in stock.

The budget estimate of expenditure on revenue account was Rs. 33,59,204, and the actual expenditure was Rs. 30,14,235. This resulted in some measure from economy in charges. It was partly due, however, as the Auditors point out, to the non-payment of charges which had fallen due during the year. The Vice-Chairman points out that these consist chiefly of cart registration fees due to the Suburban and Howrah Municipalities, and of charges from the Engineer's Department, for which bills were only sent in during the last few days of the year. The first element of confusion can only be avoided by entering the fees for the second-half of each year in the budget of the succeeding year, as the adjustment cannot be made till after the close of the year. The second need not, as a rule, be important if proper despatch is exercised in the transmission of bills. In any case a memorandum of all outstanding charges should always be given. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that in the present instance they have not been large.

12. The Commissioners are so satisfied with the condition of their finances that they have determined to reduce the house-rate from 10 to 8 per cent. and the water-rate from $3\frac{3}{4}$ to $3\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. during the current year. No doubt their position is such as to warrant them in reducing their income from rates, during the current year. The charges on the Government loans have been largely reduced, as has already been pointed out, and the receipts of the year should be increased by the vigorous realization of outstanding claims. Nevertheless while so much remains to be done to improve bustees and fill up noxious tanks, it is to the Lieutenant-Governor a matter for regret that the Commissioners should have at one stroke reduced the house-rate by one-fifth. The provision of Rs. 20,000 for improvement of bustees is quite insufficient, and the Commissioners would have acted more wisely in reducing the house-rate to 9 per cent. only, and making a larger assignment for a purpose of such vast and primary importance to the well-being of the city.

13. The auditors in their report draw attention to some points which must not be overlooked. They correctly observe that receipts from the sale of land should not be credited as revenue. The accounts show Rs. 3,824 from this source credited to revenue, and Rs. 1,036 credited to capital account. The register of lands and immovable property, and the list of movable property, should be completed without delay. In Government order No. 2024, dated 22nd May, the Lieutenant-Governor offered to transfer the working of the Hackney Carriage Act to the Commissioners on the following conditions amongst others: (1) that a separate account should be kept of the receipts and expenditure; (2) that of the net receipts one-fourth should be given to the Suburban and one-sixteenth to the Howrah Municipality; (3) that the Commissioners would engage to devote at least two-thirds of the municipality's share of the net surplus to the improvement of the carriage-stands and stables in the town. These terms were formally accepted by the Commissioners in their letter No. 1614, dated 11th June 1878. Nevertheless it appears (1) that no separate account has been kept; (2) that no payments have been made to the municipalities of the Suburbs and Howrah; and (3) that practically nothing has been spent in improving the stands and stables. The accounts show receipts amounting to Rs. 17,000. The charges for establishment are amalgamated with those of the License Department, while the miscellaneous charges are shown to be Rs. 3,121. But the expenditure on "repair of hackney-carriage stands" has been only Rs. 125, and that on the stables has been nil. The balance has simply been appropriated as income. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that these circumstances called for special explanation from the Commissioners. They offer none. The Chairman has since reported that the surplus at the close of 1879 was Rs. 10,748-1-9, of which the Suburbs will be paid Rs. 2,687-0-6 and Howrah Rs. 671-12-0. The expenditure on improvements during the year should at the same time be made to include the amounts that should have been expended in 1878 and 1879.

14. The assessment of ward No. 5 and of a part of ward No. 4 was revised during the year. The result was a net increase of Rs. 2,80,000 in the annual valuation of the premises concerned. This represented, on the house, water, police, and lighting rates charged during the year, an increase of Rs. 12,683 in the demand.

15. Licenses issued by the Corporation during the year numbered 27,759 against 26,626 in 1878. There was an increase of 18 in Joint Stock Companies, and consequently an increase of nearly Rs. 1,800 in the receipts under the first class. Merchants, agents, &c., numbered 1,287 against 1,450 in 1878; barristers, attorneys, and pleaders of the High Court were 199 against 208; while inferior legal practitioners showed an increase from 127 to 137. There was an increase from 10 to 14 in the number of surgeons, and from 121 to 139 in that of inferior medical practitioners. The receipts were Rs. 2,55,823 against Rs. 2,55,127 (after refund) in 1878.

16. The statistics of the carriage and horse-tax present some curious features. The number of carriages drawn by two horses shows an increase from 444 in 1868 to 693 in 1879, and this the Commissioners believe to be "indicative of the growing wealth and prosperity of the town." They should have noticed, however, that most of the increase really occurred between 1868 and 1871, the numbers being 503 in 1869, 597 in 1870, and 668 in 1871. In 1872 they dropped to 610 and in 1873 to 590, in 1874 they rose suddenly to 661, and in 1876 they fell to 602. This was followed by a sudden rise to 680 in 1877. These marked fluctuations would seem to point to want of proper care on the part of the officers charged with the enquiries, rather than to sudden accession of wealth and prosperity to the town. In the beginning of 1876 there was doubtless a considerable increase in the number of carriages on the occasion of the Prince of Wales' visit, but the returns show a decrease. The largest number of horses licensed was in 1871 when the tax was paid on 4,387. In 1873 only 3,757 were licensed, and this figure has been exceeded in every year except 1879, when the number was only 3,844 against 4,189 in 1878 and 4,290 in 1877. The number of ponies and mules has similarly fallen from 1,547 in 1877 and 1,584 in 1878 to 1,290 in 1879. These circumstances call for enquiry. It would certainly appear probable that exemption is improperly secured for many animals. The number of buggies, like that of horses, was greatest in 1871. It gradually declined from 390 in that year to 274 in 1878. In 1879 it was 292. It is observed that of 3,844 horses licensed in Calcutta, only two were acknowledged to be race horses, which can hardly be a correct return.

17. The Commissioners arranged during the year for a complete system of tramways for the town, and an Act has been passed to give the necessary powers and to regulate the proceedings. The tramway will converge along the principal lines of traffic in the town to a circular tramway passing round Fairlie Place, Strand-road, Koila Ghât-street, and Clive-street. The grantees are bound under penalty to construct in three years six miles of tramway on the metre-gauge of 3 feet 3½ inches, or on such other gauge not exceeding 4 feet 8½ inches as may be agreed on. The yearly rent will be Rs. 3,000 for each mile of double line and Rs. 2,000 for each mile of single line, rising gradually in 21 years to Rs. 4,000 and Rs. 3,000 respectively. After 21 years and at the end of every seven years subsequently the Corporation will have the right of purchase at 1½ of the invested capital.

18. The question of the extension of the water-supply was under the consideration of a Special Committee at the close of the year. The Lieutenant-Governor has now been informed that the Committee's report has recently been rejected by the Commissioners, and that the matter has been sent back for consideration by an enlarged Committee. The great waste of time that has been allowed to occur in coming to a decision on this most important matter is much to be regretted; and the Lieutenant-Governor has found it necessary to require the Commissioners to submit their scheme within a fixed period. The average daily supply of filtered water during the year was 7,464,159 gallons against 7,260,320 in 1878, and 6,719,266 in 1877. The supply of water, however, is insufficient for the wants of the town, and it is necessary that measures should be taken to increase it. It is necessary to remove the contaminated liquid which has contributed so much to the origin and spread of disease, but it is no less necessary to provide a substitute for it; and seeing how much the sanitary condition of Calcutta must be affected by the sanitary condition of its suburbs, it seems to the Lieutenant-Governor that the Municipality of Calcutta should place themselves in communication with the Municipality of the Suburbs with the view of extending the water supply to the more thickly populated parts of the suburbs, some of which are in the immediate neighbourhood of the municipal water pipes.

19. The recorded birth-rate of the year was 14·9 per mille against 13·7, the average of the previous ten years. Registration, however, was admittedly extremely imperfect before 1875, when the rate rose to 16·2 from 10·8 in 1874. In 1876 and 1877 it was 17·3, and in 1878, 16·1. It seems quite clear that there was a relaxation last year in the efforts to secure accurate birth statistics. During the first eight months, the number of births recorded in each month was markedly less than the figures for the corresponding period of 1878. In the last four there was an improvement, but only in comparison with 1878, for, except in December, the number was generally much smaller than that recorded in the last four months of 1875, 1876, and 1877. Such improvement as occurred is attributed to the co-operation of the Conservancy Department. This will again be secured during the current year, and arrangements have also been made to organize a special registering establishment. Dr. McLeod correctly points out that more perfect registration of births will be essential to the successful working of the compulsory vaccination law. The Lieutenant-Governor has, on a previous occasion, discussed the causes of the low birth-rate of Calcutta in comparison with large cities. There can, however, be little doubt that the rate recorded for 1879 was considerably below the true rate.

20. The death-rate was 30·3 per mille against 28·5, the mean of the previous ten years. In mortuary statistics, as in those of birth, there has been an improvement since 1875, and there is no reason to doubt that the returns of deaths are now fairly accurate. The rate was lower than in any of the previous four years, with the exception of 1876. The series runs thus: 1875, 32·7; 1876, 30·1; 1877, 31·9; 1878, 38·1; 1879, 30·3. The mortality among the different races is shown in the following table:—

			RATIO OF DEATHS PER 1,000 OF POPULATION.
			Male.	Female.	Combined.
Non-Asiatics	25·5	14·2	22·1
Mixed races	49·6	49	49·3
Hindoos	27·4	35·5	30·3
Mahomedans	25·3	43·3	30·4

These figures are in striking accord with those of previous years. The mixed races, the most stable portion of the population, as usual, head the list. Among non-Asiatics, Hindoos, and Mahomedans the number of males greatly exceeds the number of females. But among the two latter the male population is much less stable than the female. A large proportion of the men are only temporarily employed in Calcutta, and in cases of illness they go to their homes. Hence, while among non-Asiatics the ratio of male deaths considerably exceeds that of female deaths, among Hindoos and Mahomedans the proportion is invariably reversed. There can be little doubt that the native death-rate is quite 50 per mille.

21. The mortality among Europeans residing under ordinary conditions in Calcutta is considerably less than that given above. If the European community is divided into the three great classes of which it is composed, the true death-rate is seen to be much lower:—

	Males	Females.	Total	Ratio per 1,000.
Persons falling sick on ship-board	... 77	2	79	49·3
Residents of Fort William	... 8	6	14	10·2
Other European residents	... 82	32	114	17·9
Total	... 167	40	207	22·1

It is no doubt true, as Dr. McLeod observes, that “the population is peculiar in being mostly an adult population, containing few children and hardly any aged persons.” It is also true that many leave Calcutta on being attacked with serious illness, and many more obtain a return of health by a change of air; while, on the other hand, some come to Calcutta from the interior to die. But it must not be overlooked that, if Calcutta contains few aged Europeans, it also contains few of the ages between 10 and 20, when mortality, according to English statistics, is lowest. After allowance made for all the peculiarities of the case, there can be no doubt that for Europeans living under ordinary conditions Calcutta is decidedly healthy.

22. The death-rate among infants was as usual deplorably high, 441·4 per mille. The preponderance of death from nervous diseases over those from febrile or intestinal disorders was very marked. Deaths from tetanus and convulsions numbered 1,140, against 371 from fevers and 100 from bowel-complaints. There can be no doubt that this frightful mortality is in great part due to the unhealthiness of lying-in rooms under the native system of treatment.

23. The following statement shows the number of deaths from the chief diseases in each of the last three years:—

	1877.	1878	1879
Cholera	1,418	1,338	1,186
Diarrhoea and dysentery	1,683	2,010	1,516
Fevers	5,151	6,086	4,796
Small-pox	67	1,495	772

The year 1879 compares very favourably with 1878 under all heads, and favourably with 1877, except in regard to small-pox. The measures taken to suppress promoting causes of cholera by removing impure water from the reach of the people will be noticed further on. It is satisfactory to note that the number of deaths from this cause is lower than in any year since 1873. The number of deaths from fevers showed a considerable decline in the last two months of the year, generally the most fatal period. This Dr. McLeod attributes in part to the scarcity of rainfall and consequently decreased humidity of the soil, and in part to the reduction in the price of food. He also points out that there was a corresponding reduction in the mortality from fever in the suburbs. A comparison of the mortality from small-pox in 1879 with that in 1878 shows the gradual decline of an epidemic outbreak. Only two deaths were registered in the last four months of the year. Of the total number of deaths from this cause, nearly 9 per cent. were those of infants under one year of age, while nearly one-third of the total mortality occurred among children under five years of age. The introduction of the law for compulsory vaccination will, it is hoped, bring about a great improvement in this respect. Dr. McLeod alludes to the affection apparently identical with that known as Beri-Beri in Madras and Ceylon, but, as the investigations connected with it have chiefly been made during the current year, he reserves a detailed account of them for his next report. The disease appeared in the southern suburbs in the rainy season of 1877, and in the southern and eastern suburbs in the latter part of 1878. In November and December 1879 it appeared in the same places, and in adjoining portions of Calcutta. The conditions of this disease will be carefully watched.

22. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets very much to find that so little has been done towards the reclamation of foul tanks, and the improvement of bustees. It appears that some roads have been driven through parts of certain bustees, and that a small portion of the bustee area has thus been brought into connection with the drainage system; that five filthy tanks have been filled in; that some open drains have been sowered; that 189 persons were induced to pay Rs. 533 for having their lands cleansed by the Conservancy Department; and that 184 persons were fined small sums for persistently keeping their land in a filthy state. The Commissioners appear to contemplate these results with complacency. They observe in their report that "they have not been idle." The Lieutenant-Governor is unable to accept such an outturn of work as in any way satisfactory, or to admit that the great task to be performed before the condition of the capital of British India can cease to be a reproach to Government and to the Corporation, has yet been properly taken in hand. In their report for 1878, the Commissioners expressed the opinion "that the reclamation of tanks is a matter of much more pressing importance than that of the reconstruction of huts." They went on to deplore the limited quantity of materials available for this purpose, and even discussed the possibility of procuring earth from the Salt-water Lakes to supplement the supply of town sweepings. At the beginning of that year there were 518 tanks, besides "a great many hollows and holes which are not strictly tanks, but which are the receptacles of filthy water, and require to be filled up even more urgently than large tanks." During that year 31 tanks were filled in. There remained, therefore, 487 in the beginning of 1879, besides the hollows and holes. After the expressions of anxious concern used in the report for 1878, it might reasonably have been expected that special exertion would be made in 1879, and that certainly all the materials available would have been employed. Yet the Tank Committee only held one meeting, and it appears from the Engineer's report that the number of wagon-loads of refuse conveyed to the Salt Lakes by the Municipal Railway was greater by 727 in 1879 than in 1878, and he attributes the increase "partly to less opportunities in respect of tank-filling, and partly to a greater yield of refuse." It would even appear that the five tanks filled up in 1879 were actually taken in hand in 1878, so that no initiatory proceedings whatever were taken in 1879. This may perhaps explain why the Tank Committee met only once. The Lieutenant-Governor is quite aware that tank-filling must proceed gradually; that all tanks cannot be arbitrarily selected for reclamation, and that some tanks are so situated that, until the water-supply is increased, they cannot be filled up without hardship to the people. But it is notorious, and the Commissioners in their last report admitted, that the number which can and should be filled up, far exceeds the available supply of materials. Under these circumstances the apathy of the Commissioners during the past year is not easily to be
